PACT PLEA REJECTED

Hoover Refuses to Show Notes

Reservation to Navy Treaty Offered in Senate Due to Secrecy Policy

Johnson Assails President; Reed and Hale in Clash; Stimson Attacked

WASHINGTON, July 11. (AP)—President Hoover refused today to [illegible] the Senate all the notes leading up to the London naval conference. His rejection of the Senate's request provoked the introduction of the first reservation to the treaty and drew a denunciation from Senator Johnson of California.

Around the reservation—offered by Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska—there was gathering today considerable strength and upon this issue may be made either the main attempt to reject the treaty or to postpone its consideration until fall.

ACTION CALLED FOR

Senator Johnson, leader of the treaty opposition, assailed the Presidential message and called upon the Senate to take action against the "gag." He did not mention any action and it was understood he meant rejection of the treaty.

Mr. Hoover invited members of the Senate to scrutinize for themselves the London documents under pledge of secrecy, but he said their publication or use in debate would amount to a "breach of trust" by himself with the other nations.

He reiterated "with the utmost emphasis" that in the London negotiations "there were no secret or hidden understandings, promises or interpretations, nor any commitments whatever except as appear in the treaty itself."

NORRIS'S RESOLUTION

The Norris resolution which was offered after the Presidential message was read to the Senate, called attention to the failure of the Senate to get all the London data and concluded:

"Therefore, be it resolved by the Senate that in ratifying the said treaty the Senate does so with the distinct and explicit understanding that there are no secret files, documents, letters, understandings or agreements which in any way, directly or indirectly, modify, change, add to or take from any of the stipulations, agreements or statements in said treaty; and that the Senate ratifies said treaty with the distinct and explicit understanding there is no agreement, secret or otherwise, expressed or implied, between any of the parties to said treaty as to what construction that shall hereafter be given to any statement or provision contained therein."

While Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, one of the delegates at London, indicated his disapproval of the Norris resolution, Chairman [illegible] of the Foreign Relations Committee and other treaty proponents withheld judgment pending study.

HOOVER'S MESSAGE

The text of President Hoover's message to the Senate follows:

"To the Senate:

"I have received Senate Resolution No. 320, asking me, if not incompatible with the public interest,

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, July 11. [To the Editor of The Times:] The Republicans are trying to get rid of the chairman of their national committee. They can't throw him out; he knows where the body is buried. The next time they hire one his contract will have a two weeks' cancellation clause in it. They think this fellow don't add the proper class to the party. The Republicans want a man that will lend dignity to the office and the Democrats want a man that will lend some money.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

POPULATION GAIN GROWS ON RETURNS

Twenty-seven States Now Complete Raise Increase to 16.7 Per Cent on Total

WASHINGTON, July 11. (AP)—With twenty-six States and the District of Columbia tabulated in the 1930 census, the population increase of this group has climbed to 16.7 per cent, as compared with 14.9 per cent for the whole country in 1920 and 21 per cent for the 1900-1910 decade.

States thus far completed represent less than half of the country's total population.

The total population of these States now is 45,691,105, an increase of 7,829,142 people in the ten years. The largest increase has been made in California with a growth at 64.6 per cent. The second largest increase is in Michigan, where it is 31.3 per cent. Both of these States have passed Massachusetts in rank.

There have been a number of other overturns in the ranking of the States. Tennessee has passed Kentucky, Minnesota and Iowa. Minnesota has passed Iowa. Rhode Island has passed North Dakota and the District of Columbia has gone above New Hampshire.

Race Declared on Between Soviet Socialization Plan and Catastrophe

Survey Authors See Test of Theory Versus Hunger During This Year

NEW YORK, July 11. (Exclusive) The race in Russia is between success on a grand scale of the soviet plan of socializing the nation and possible catastrophe, according to a survey of the Russian situation made public today by the department of research and education of the Federal Council of Churches.

The survey, it is asserted, is based on wide, first-hand observation of Russian events extending over a period of years and furnishes what the authors believe to be "the most accurate, balanced and recent report available to our readers."

Without undertaking to make predictions as to the ultimate result of the present efforts of the soviet government toward the industrialization of the country, the authors of the survey declare that this year will witness the first practical test of the Communist theory that their program of collectivization will prove successful in overcoming the chronic shortage of agricultural products and foodstuffs in Russia; a shortage which is manifesting itself in the persistent rationing of the urban population.

FOOD SHORTAGE CAUSE

Asserting that the chronic food shortage "is not due to war or any exceptional natural catastrophe," the survey attributes it to "the new revolution involved in the collectivization of agriculture which, thus far, has destroyed the surplus production of the richer peasants faster than it has created new stores of surplus produce through the state and collective farms; the rapid growth in demand for food connected with the expansion of the cities and the large building projects which the soviet government is pushing forward with such feverish energy; the continued exportation of such food products as eggs, butter, fruit and caviar, and the frequently unsatisfactory functioning of the transport and co-operative distributing system."

After reviewing what the survey presents as the actual facts in the industrial, agricultural and general economic system of soviet Russia, the anonymous authors say:

PEASANT BASIC FACTOR

"The imposing new soviet industrial structure is being reared on a narrow basis as regards food and raw material. The average laborer or office employee cannot do his best work on the food that is to be obtained now, and, if the human element in production is dependent on agricultural food products, the machines and factories in many cases are almost equally dependent on agricultural raw material. So, from whatever angle one attempts to study the present Russian situation one must always go back to the peasant producer as the basic factor in the success or failure of the five-year plan."

What the difficulties in the domain of food supply are may be gleaned from the following facts presented in the survey:

Manual workers can buy two pounds of bread a day and members of their families and other holders of food cards one pound. Manual workers also are favored in the distribution of meat, of which they can buy one-half pound a day, as against one-quarter pound for other citizens. There are, however, eight or ten meatless days every month. The meat ration sometimes consists of salt or canned meat.

BIRTHDAYS POSTPONED BY SCIENCE

Animals Born "Older" and Less Helpless as Result of Sex Hormone

COLD SPRINGS HARBOR (N. Y.) July 11. (AP)—A method for having animals born "older" and less helpless was disclosed today at Cold Springs Harbor biological laboratory.

Births are delayed, and apparently to the benefit of the young by an extract of corpus luteum, a sex hormone. Isolation of this extract was announced here a year ago, and today some of its first results were made public at a lecture before a gathering of scientists.

Delaying births gives scientists a means of investigating why some young are born almost entirely helpless, and others are able to care for themselves almost from the first. The extract also shows results in overcoming sterility.

Experiments with the hormone were described by Dr. Reginald G. Harris, director of the laboratory, and by Dr. George W. Corner of the Rochester (N. Y.) Medical School. Dr. Harris, with Dr. J. J. Pfiffner of the laboratory, isolated one of the corpus luteum extracts a year ago, while Dr. Corner and Willard M. Allen isolated the other. Both seem of equal purity and similar effect.

Dr. Harris said the birth of rats had been delayed as much as 20 per cent. The delayed rats at birth are larger, the heaviest one being nearly 48 per cent above the average natal weight.

Hawks, who had intended to leave here tomorrow for New York to await favorable conditions for an East-West transcontinental flight in the new ship, said the crack-up will delay this project about a month.

The flyer has been here about a month testing the Mystery S.

Hawks said his plane's undercarriage struck some telephone wires and the ship landed on its nose. His injuries, cuts on the shoulder and neck, were treated at the airport.

MOTHER REGAINS INFANT

Mrs. Higdon Surrenders Baby After Confessing Hoax to Hold Her Husband's Love

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11. (Exclusive)—Mrs. Bertha Higdon today surrendered the 2-months-old girl she had nurtured since birth under the representation the child was her own to the blood mother, 19-year-old Mrs. Ruth Smith of this city.

The action was forced upon her by a judge of the Municipal Court, backed by the sagely nodding heads of a group of club women who had been called in for moral support by the jurist himself.

Mrs. Higdon, comely wife of a high-school principal, who had been brought here from her home in Bloomington, San Bernardino county, on a kidnaping warrant, later dismissed for obvious lack of criminal intent, relieved her own conscience prior to the court's award by confessing the child is rightfully Mrs. Smith's and she was accorded some measure of further comfort in the comment of Municipal Judge Steiger.

"The baby voluntarily was surrendered, according to the testimony of the child's own mother," he said. "As the baby was not legally adopted and there is no evidence to show its own mother is an unfit person to have it, I have no alternative but to order the little one turned over to its blood mother, thought it means heartbreak for this bereaved young mother who has grown to love it as if it were her own.

"It may be well to ask juvenile authorities to watch the baby's progress, since its mother is so young and was so willing to give it up a few weeks ago."

Mrs. Higdon, it developed, came here in May, last, to await the stork. Her own child was dead when born.

"I was so frantic I was almost out of my mind," she testified. "My husband told me he lived for the moment of our baby's birth and if anything happened he would never forgive me."

There followed the story of her grief and despair, punctuated by the suggestion of her sister that a baby might be adopted. The Smiths, in financial straits, offered their child. Mrs. Higdon took it immediately after birth. The real mother never saw the girl until yesterday.

Mrs. Smith asserted the child was to have been adopted for a "loan" to cover the expenses involved in the child's birth. Mrs. Higdon insisted the mere fact she had to deceive her husband obviated any such agreement and the circumstances plainly were understood.

COURT RULE FOR FLYERS UNDER FIRE

Cleveland Airport Chief Calls Altitude Decision Menace to Aviation

CLEVELAND, July 11. (AP)—A Federal court ruling setting 500 feet as the minimum height at which airplanes may fly over property adjacent to airports was described today by Maj. Louis G. Meister, Cleveland manager of the Curtiss-Wright Flying Service, as a "menace to aviation." The ruling was given by Federal Judge Hahn at Toledo.

Maj. Meister asserted more than 3500 feet of ground space is needed for pilots to bring their planes down from an altitude of 500 feet, and very few airports are large enough for this.

Judge Hahn's ruling was in the suit brought by Raymond L. and Frederick H. Swetland, seeking to have the airport at Richmond Heights village adjoining their estate declared a nuisance. Judge Hahn refused to declare it a nuisance, but stipulated planes must not fly over the Swetland property at less than 500 feet altitude.

Maj. Meister announced the airport will be closed August 1, next, and his company's activities removed to another base.

AIRPORT COMPANY UNDER INDICTMENT

NEW YORK, July 11. (Exclusive) On the ground that dust raised by arriving and departing airplanes damages property and pollutes the air, the Westchester county grand jury at White Plains today indicted the Westchester Airport Company, Inc., for maintaining a public nuisance at Armonk, N. Y., where the company's landing field is located. The case is the first of its kind on record and recalls similar actions raised many years ago against railroad stations where locomotives belched tons of soot and cinders.

SEVENTY-TWO SUCCUMB IN MIDWEST HEAT WAVE

Iowa and Missouri Worst Sufferers With Forty-nine Deaths Listed; Mercury Holds at 100 Deg.

CHICAGO, July 11. (AP)—Almost four score persons have died in the Middle West in the past three days as a result of the extremely hot weather.

The heat was blamed tonight for twenty-five deaths in the last three days in Iowa, twenty-four in Missouri, at least eight in Illinois, ten in Minnesota and the Dakotas, three in Nebraska and two in Kansas.

The temperature over the area remains around 100 deg. and there is little likelihood of relief before tomorrow night.

Two of the deaths attributed to the heat in Omaha were suicides of men who killed themselves rather than undergo another day of torturous temperatures.

The hottest unofficial temperature reported was in Sikeston, Mo., where readings were as high as 112. Other parts of Missouri reported 102 and thereabouts. In Omaha the reading was 100. Iowa farmers were experiencing a heavy loss in live stock, more than 1000 horses having been claimed by rendering plants.

Parts of Illinois had temperatures ranging up to 105 but in Chicago a lake breeze kept the mercury down to below 80 and in Milwaukee it was only 79.

GIRL BREAKS AIR RECORD

Mark Set While Unconscious

Ruth Alexander "Out" as Plane Reaches Height of 26,600 Feet

Failure of Oxygen Supply Perils Her Life Miles Above Earth

SAN DIEGO, July 11. (AP)—Losing consciousness several miles above the earth, Ruth Alexander, local girl aviator, today awoke to find herself gliding gently to the landing field still 18,000 feet below—and a few minutes later was informed that she probably had set an altitude record of around 26,600 feet.

The previous record for light planes piloted by women was 20,000 feet set by Miss Alexander herself the 4th inst., in the same ninety-horsepower low-wing monoplane which she flew today.

Exhaustion of her oxygen supply was the explanation given by the flyer for her lapse from consciousness, when she landed, still groggy, at Lindbergh Field.

"The last thing I noted was 22,000 feet," she said, pointing to the shakily penciled numbers on a sheet of cardboard attached to the instrument board of the plane. "My oxygen was pretty low, and I was still climbing. Then I looked at my altimeter and it showed 18,000 feet. I couldn't realize what was wrong and thought that something was haywire with the instrument. Then I looked at my oxygen; I still had the tube between my teeth, and was holding the stick in my hand—but the oxygen was gone. Then I realized that I had been 'out.' The plane was in a gentle left bank, slowly settling."

OFFICER DEPICTS 'VANITIES'

Describes Carroll's Nude Show and Offers to Do Fan Dance for Court's Enlightenment

NEW YORK, July 11. (AP)—A gray-haired police officer of dignified mien took off his horn-rimmed glasses in old Jefferson Market court today and offered to perform a fan dance if Earl Carroll would just furnish the fans.

The officer was Acting Captain James J. Coy, dramatic critic of the police department. He was testifying against Carroll, a stage producer, and eight comely show girls whom he charged with staging an indecent performance.

He told of buying an $11 ticket to the Carroll "Vanities" and watching four scenes he considered entirely inoffensive. But the fifth scene was a daisy field in which there lay numerous young ladies waving fans.

"Into this scene," Coy continued, "danced Faith Bacon, waving before her two large ostrich feather fans."

"Do you identify this defendant as Faith Bacon?" the prosecutor asked, motioning to Miss Bacon where she sat with the other show folk inside the rail to rise.

Miss Bacon, a blond in summer furs and a wide-brimmed lavender hat, took a bow.

"That's her," said Coy. "She danced with two fans waving in front of her and when she turned to leave the stage I saw she was nude from the nape of her neck to the soles of her feet."

Under cross-examination Coy insisted he was positive Miss Bacon was not wearing flesh-colored tights, although he acknowledged the lights were dimmed during the scene and a gauze curtain hung between the dancer and the audience.

"But while she was facing the audience you had no idea she was undraped?" defense counsel asked.

"She kept herself covered with the fans," Coy replied. "Passing first one and then the other in front of her. If the fans are here I'll show you how it was done."

Miss Bacon smiled and a titter ran upward through the crowded courtroom. Magistrate Gotlieb banged his gavel for order and threatened to clear court if there were a repetition of the laughter.

Capt. Coy, not pressing his offer to give a terpsichorean performance, continued to tell of the other act to which he objected. In that act the stage was set to resemble a show window in which five wax models were impersonated by show-girls.

An actress was teaching Jimmy Savo, comedian, how to dress a window and at her direction he removed stockings and otherwise altered the raiment of the living models.

Hearing was adjourned until Tuesday, with Capt. Coy the only witness so far.

WORKER SLAIN IN GRAPE DRIVE

Shot Through Window Kills One and Hurts Two

Tragedy Takes Place on Ranch in Fresno Section

Pair Were Trying to Sign Up Grower in Aid Plan

FRESNO, July 11. (AP)—Randall Matignon, Federal grape control campaign worker, was shot and instantly killed on the ranch of A. Egeoleo, east of here, where he was seeking a contract signature. Wilbur Berry, accompanying Matignon, and Mrs. Egeoleo were wounded. Matignon and Berry, Sanger business men, were grape drive volunteer workers.

The shots were fired, Constable Louis Street said, from a window of the Egeoleo home while the campaign workers were discussing the grape-control board plan with Mrs. Egeoleo and a son.

Constable Street was told by members of the sign-up party, he said, that they had asked Mrs. Egeoleo where her second son was and why he was not present at the discussion taking place and she is alleged to have replied he was in the house "intoxicated."

Constable Street said the other son then went into the house and in a few moments the fusillade rang out, killing Matignon and wounding Berry and Mrs. Egeoleo.

GRAPE SIGN-UP DRIVE BEING RUSHED

FRESNO, July 11. (Exclusive)—Spurred on by new impetus thrown into the drive by a four-day extension of time, volunteer and staff workers in the campaign to secure 85 per cent of the grape and raisin acreage of the State in the Federal plan for relief redoubled efforts today to bring victory when the deadline is reached at midnight Monday.

Acreage reports were not given out, but a tabulation of the situation by the drive headquarters today showed 376,441 acres actually signed, which is 65,000 short of the goal. Wylie M. Giffen, chairman of the Committee of Fifty in charge of the campaign, said that no more acreage reports would be given out.

Two meetings are scheduled for Sunday, one of Armenian vineyardists and another of Italians, the latter to be addressed by Di Giorgio.

GRAPE CROP ESTIMATED AT 2,018,000 TONS

SACRAMENTO, July 11. (AP)—California's 1930 production of grapes was forecast at 2,018,000 tons in a report of the Federal-State Co-operative Crop Reporting Service, signed by Agricultural Statisticians E. E. Kaufman and R. E. Blair, released here today. The outlook was for 434,000 tons of wine grapes, 349,000 tons of table grapes and 1,235,000 tons of raisin grapes.

"While there is a total of 527,000 acres of grapes in bearing," the report said, "it seems probable that only 519,000 acres of this amount can be considered as acreage directly active during the main grape harvest season." The total of 527,000 acres was divided: Wine, 167,000; table, 107,000, and raisin 253,000.

"A uniformly good outlook for the grape crop continues in all grape-producing counties of the State," the report said. "The State average per cent of a full crop is 88 for all three classes."

Four Provinces in China Unsafe for Americans

WASHINGTON, July 11. (Exclusive)—Revolutionary disturbances have made four Chinese provinces unsafe for Americans, the State Department was informed today by Frank P. Lockhart, American Consul-General at Hankow.

As a result of conditions in Hunan, Honan, Hupeh and Kiangsi, Mr. Lockhart said, warnings are to be sent to all Americans residing in the provinces. Inability of the American government to evacuate its nationals from these regions in case of new bandit or Communist uprisings was given as the cause for sending out precautionary letters.

According to Mr. Lockhart, the greatest danger to Americans residing in the interior of China at present is capture by the bandits or Communists for the purpose of exacting ransom.

German Traffic Crash Discloses One Victim in Plot Against Government

BERLIN, July 11. (AP)—The collision of a motor car and motorcycle in which a man and a woman were killed today led to discovery that the man was engaged in a military plot against the government, the police announce. They say the man's name was Doerre and the woman killed in the sidecar was Elizabeth Hanke. Doerre, it is asserted, was an active member of the National Socialist party and had been engaged as a military instructor to members of that party.

Letters found on his body disclose that a large number of weapons, including a machine gun, were hidden by the national Socialists. The police raided several houses and confiscated many weapons and a considerable quantity of ammunition. A dozen persons were arrested. One report says Doerre was a member of the secret police.

Authorities assert the Hanke girl also was a police employee and in a particularly good position to serve the national Socialists, or Fascist party. Through her office went the names of all applicants for police duty anywhere in Prussia.

Despite the utmost vigilance, the police say, asserted treasonable activities of this nature have persisted in Germany. The police believe the two individuals in this case were connected with the movement fostered by Adolf Hitler's Fascist organization.

HOOVER DENIES PLEA FOR NOTES

Publicity Would be Breach of Trust, He Says

Reservation to Treaty May Become Main Issue

to submit to the Senate all letters, cablegrams, minutes, memoranda, instructions, and dispatches, and all records, files and other information touching the negotiations of the London naval treaty.

"This treaty, like all other international negotiations, has involved statements, reports, tentative and informal proposals as to subjects, persons and governments given to me in confidence. The Executive, under the duty of guarding the interests of the United States; in the protection of future negotiations, and in maintaining relations of amity with other nations, must not allow himself to become guilty of a breach of trust by betrayal of these confidences.

"He must not affront representatives of other nations, and thus make future dealings with those nations more difficult and less frank. To make public in debate or in the press such confidences would violate the invariable practice of nations. It would close to the United States those avenues of information which are essential for future negotiations and amicable intercourse with the nations of the world. I am sure the Senate does not wish me to commit such a breach of trust.

"NO SENATOR REFUSED"

"I have no desire to withhold from the Senate any information having even the remotest bearing upon the negotiation of the treaty. No Senator has been refused an opportunity to see the confidential material referred to, provided only he will agree to receive and hold the same in the confidence in which it has been received and held by the Executive.

"A number of Senators have availed themselves of this opportunity. I believe that no Senator can read these documents without agreeing with me that no other course than to insist upon the maintenance of such confidence is possible. And I take this opportunity to repeat with the utmost emphasis that in these negotiations there were no secret or concealed understandings, promises or interpretations, nor any commitments whatever except as appear in the treaty itself and in the interpretive exchange of notes recetly suggested by your Committee on Foreign Affairs, all of which are now in the hands of the Senate.

"In view of this, I believe that to further comply with the above resolution would be incompatible with the public interest."

SHARP EXCHANGE

Before Mr. Hoover stirred the Senate with this message, the debate on the treaty developed one of the sharpest exchanges of the week with Senator Reed replying to a severe attack upon the pact made by Senator Hale, Republican, Maine, chairman of the Naval Committee.

Hale asserted the British by the terms of the treaty "have us hamstrung and hog tied, and there they will keep us as long as limitations of armaments are the order of the day." He referred to the "preponderance of testimony" by American naval officers against the pact. He said "we will get not good will but the contempt that a supine nation invariably gets and deserves to get" by ratifying the agreement.

Jumping quickly to his feet in reply, Senator Reed shouted his "resentment" at Hale's thrusts at the American delegation. He said four of the American delegates to London wore the American uniform in the World War and "presumably they had the interests of their country at heart as much as those who say our national interests have been surrendered."

PREPONDERANCE DENIED

He denied a "preponderance" of the Navy officers were opposed to the treaty.

"If the black doctrine they preach, as enunciated by the Senator from Maine, that only adequate defense means mastery of the sea, then all conferences are useless," Senator Reed said.

Listing Ambassador Dawes and Morrow, Secretary Stimson and others who represented this country at the London parley, the Pennsylvanian said "perhaps those admirals who see so much of Washington and so little of the sea are wiser than these men."

The "philosophy and argument" of the American admirals, Reed added, "is the kind of stuff that was stuck at the American delegates before and after the London conference." The admirals he termed as those "who say we must do as the Navy General Board says or we are not patriotic Americans."

HALE FLAYS STIMSON

Senator Hale, in his address, took a fling at Secretary Stimson.

"The Navy has become little more than a trading asset, armed with which the Secretary of State may ride forth to win his spurs. A treaty he must bring home," Senator Hale said. "If to get that treaty a sacrifice of national security is necessary that is a trivial matter."

Hale said Stimson "tells us" that the criticisms of naval officers "should not prevail against the treaty because they are fighting men."

"They are fighting men," he continued. "They understand the problems of war, and they realize that what the Secretary of State calls the preventive measures of international relations which are intended to make war less likely, may or may not operate successfully.

"The Navy does not desire to prevent such measures, but it does wish to provide, in case such measures do not operate successfully and war does come, that the national defense shall not be threatened.

"The trouble with the Secretary of State is that he goes ahead against the experience of history in the blind belief and confidence that the preventive measures referred to will not fail and he sees no necessity for adequate provisions for the national defense in case of failure because he can see no possibility of failure. With him the security of an international agreement is wholly important."

Senator Johnson, besides attacking the President, called for an end of members of the Senate participating in the negotiation of treaties, pointing to Senator Reed.

"This message," he shouted, referring to the Hoover refusal, "calls for more than denunciation. It calls for action. It calls for an assertion of a manhood by this Senate that raises the head high. We ought not supinely to permit such a message to go by without action.

"It may be that the glory that was once that of a United States Senator had faded into insignificance and that we shall submit to the lashing. But if there are men in this body with the spirit of those old patriots who wrote this country's history in the sky of everlasting fame, they will not take lying down the lashing that has been handed to them in asking for the documents which they have a right to see.

"SECRET DIPLOMACY BACK"

"Tell me, sir, that we shall not have those things before us that are going to destroy our Navy. What is that here we are met with? Secret diplomacy—the old world diplomacy. It is back again."

There was some division of opinion among the treaty advocates on the Norris resolution. Some indicated it will be acceptable if the preambles relating to the refusal of Mr. Hoover to transmit the papers are eliminated.

ARCHDUKE RAPS; JAIL ADMITS HIM

Leopold Hapsburg Sets Aside Bail in New York

Move Afoot to Put Family on Throne, He Says

Quicker Trial Hoped for by Going to Prison

NEW YORK, July 11. (AP) — An archduke, scion of one of the oldest royal houses in Europe, went to jail here today voluntarily, because he is in a hurry to get back to Vienna where, he said, there is a movement to replace his family on the Austrian throne.

As plain Leopold Hapsburg — a name that emperors bore—he is held in the Tombs, charged with taking part in the fraudulent sale to a New York jeweler of a historic diamond necklace that belonged to his aunt, the Archduchess Maria Theresa of Austria.

NAPOLEON'S GIFT

Napoleon gave the necklace to his Empress, the Hapsburg Maria Louisa, on the birth of their only son, the Duke of Reichstadt, and, although it is said to be worth nearly $500,000, it was sold here last winter for $60,000.

The Archduke Leopold, indicted with Col. and Mrs. Charles L. Townsend, who are charged with actually having sold the necklace, was at liberty until today under $7500 bail. His trial was set for October.

But today he asked a general sessions court judge to set his bail aside. Being in prison, he may be tried this summer because prison cases are given the preference here during the hot months.

After he had explained his reasons to Judge Rosalsky, he was told he must take his turn with the rest.

SOLD TO JEWELER

The necklace was sold by Col. Townsend last winter to D. M. Michel, a Fifth-avenue jeweler. The Archduchess Maria Theresa charged Townsend, representing himself as a former members of the British colonial secret service, persuaded her to let him try to sell it in this country.

She said he sold it at a little more than a tenth of its actual value, without her consent, and sent her a check for about $7000, writing the rest of the $60,000 was due him for expenses.

She sent her friend, the Baroness Anna Eisenmenger, to New York to recover the necklace and paid Michel, who said he bought it in good faith, part of his purchase price to get it back.

Leopold was in New York at the time of the sale and is charged with having connived to bring it about. The Townsends have not been arrested.

VOLUNTEERS CLASH WITH INDIA POLICE

Nearly 100 Nationalists Injured as They Attempt to Form Processions

BOMBAY (India) July 11. (AP)—Four attempts by civil disobedience volunteers to form a procession forbidden by the police resulted in clashes today between the authorities and the volunteers. Nearly 100 Nationalists were injured.

While most were only slightly hurt, the free hospital, operated by the Congress party, reported a number seriously wounded.

The procession was designed to be a sympathetic demonstration for the eighteen Gharwali soldiers who were court-martialed at Peshawar when they disobeyed orders during recent troubles. Each attempt to form in line was broken up by the police, who charged the volunteers with staves.

EXPERIMENT ON CONVICT HONOR FAILS

Prisoner Being Tested by Southern Governor Flees Fourth Time

RALEIGH (N. C.) July 11. (AP)—Otto Wood, convict, subject of an "experiment in humanities" by Gov. Gardner, was at large today.

In his fourth escape from Central Prison, yesterday, Wood broke a pledge that he would not try to escape again as long as Gov. Gardner was in office.

After his third escape, Gov. Gardner singled Wood out for an experiment, had him released from solitary confinement in a veritable dungeon where he has spent twenty-six months and made him an honor prisoner.

Wood was serving from twenty-two and one-half to thirty years for the murder of a Greensboro pawnbroker.

When made an honor prisoner he told the Governor: "I won't offer you my word of honor, because that wouldn't be much; but you can be sure of one thing, I'll never run away as long as you are Governor."

Tribute of Mate Oration at Novelist's Funeral

Trappings of Sorrow Absent at Sussex Ceremony

London Spiritualists Plan "Welcome" Tomorrow

WINDLESHAM (Eng.) July 11. (AP)—A widow's tribute to her husband and an explanation of her family's attitude toward death constituted the funeral oration today over the body of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle in the garden of his Sussex home, where many of his Sherlock Holmes tales were penned.

The little group of mourners, in accordance with their spiritualist belief, displayed no outward trappings of woe, while Rev. Dr. C. Drayton Thomas stood by the grave and read Lady Doyle's testimony of affection and faith.

"Sir Arthur will continue his work of spreading the great cause which soothes the anguished heart and which is destined to change the whole outlook of human affairs," read the commitment.

"God bless him for his beautiful and unselfish life; for his courage and fearlessness; for his unfailing championship of those suffering under injustice and for the help he gave to those who were in sorrow.

"No thought of self touched his daily life. No man more truly and faithfully walked in his Master's footsteps."

Dennis Conan Doyle, eldest son, was kept away from the funeral by illness, but Lady Doyle, her daughters and son Adrian were present. Rev. Dr. C. C. Angell, the novelist's brother-in-law, assisted Dr. Thomas. Sir Gilbert Parker, Authors' Club chairman, and several others motored from London to honor their departed friend.

HUSTON'S SHOES PROMISED FESS

Ohio Senator Waits Around in Stocking Feet

G.O.P. Chairman Won't Quit Till Senate Does

Role of Democratic Target Declined by Claudius

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 11. (Exclusive) — Senator Fess of Ohio is slated to succeed Claudius M. Huston as chairman of the Republican National Committee if and when Huston retires from his post, it was learned today.

Huston is expected to step out shortly after the special session of the Senate is adjourned and he is free from possible further attack in that body. He does not want to resign and let Democrats in the Senate make a field day out of the incident, and Republican leaders, including President Hoover, do not blame him for his attitude.

Senator Fess is the personal choice of President Hoover for the chairmanship. He will serve, if he serves at all, in something of a figurehead capacity. He is clean personally and politically and will bring no scandals into the Republican national organization, and this insurance is what Mr. Hoover wants.

Under Fess's prospective chairmanship the real work of managing the national committee and directing the Republican campaign would fall on another member—an executive chairman—and Robert H. Lucas of Kentucky, now Commissioner of Internal Revenue, is slated for that position.

We have learned that she habitually lunches in this Restaurant and that her meal consists of spinach and coffee.

Her explanation is that she cannot afford to eat as much as she would like but she does love this place so that she prefers to eat spinach and rob the larder later in the day at home.

She and her Daddy will probably recognize the personality and accept this as our only method of deeply appreciating her good taste and attitude.

LONDON, July 11. (AP) — Evelyn Laye, actress wife of Robert Hale Monro, known on the stage as "Sunny" Hale, today was granted a divorce on the ground of her husband's asserted misconduct. Jessie Matthews, an actress, was named as corespondent. Evelyn Laye is in Hollywood. Her deposition, taken last month, was read in court.

Just before they both came over for their New York engagements Miss Laye filed her divorce action against "Sunny" Hale, naming Miss Matthews, who had been Hale's leading woman in the London production of "Wake Up and Dream." Hale remained in London.

Friends of Miss Matthews said today she intends to marry Hale as soon as the divorce decree becomes final.

Miss Laye recently returned from London and is working on a picture in Hollywood. Miss Matthews is in London.

Man Who Helped Convict Pair Says Testimony False

Declares He Wants to Right Wrongs of 1916

BALTIMORE, July 11. (AP)—John McDonald, whose testimony in 1916 helped to convict Thomas Mooney and Warren K. Billings of taking part in the bombing of the San Francisco Preparedness Day parade that resulted in the death of ten persons, was arrested here tonight.

Through an attorney he issued a statement saying he had committed perjury at the trial and said he desired to return to California to "undo the wrong regardless of the personal consequences."

REFUTES OWN WORDS

He had testified he had seen Mooney and Billings place a suit case near the corner at which the explosion occurred. Mooney and Billings are serving life sentences.

Five years later while on the Atlantic Coast he signed an affidavit saying he was not positive of his identification of the two men. The affidavit was used unsuccessfully to procure an appeal from the conviction, but because McDonald was refused immunity he did not appear before a grand jury.

PICTURE IN PAPER

A week ago, following the refusal of Gov. Young of California to grant Mooney a pardon and the adverse ruling of the State Supreme Court on an application for a pardon for Billings, a search for McDonald was started.

Arrest followed his identification through a picture published in a Baltimore newspaper. When arrested he admitted his identity, said he is 58 years of age, and lives in Baltimore.

In his statement he said:

"I never saw Mooney until taken to the Hall of Justice in San Francisco and was told by an officer that this was Mooney (pointing him out to me.)

"My testimony in the various cases was untrue and false."

MacDONALD CANNOT BE BROUGHT BACK

SACRAMENTO, July 11. (AP)—John MacDonald, Mooney-Billings witness, cannot be brought back to California unless he comes of his own volition, State officials said tonight.

No criminal charges are pending against him and he cannot be extradited to respond to a subpoena from the Supreme Court in event the California justices decide to question him, it is said.

The problem of getting him here rests entirely with the Mooney Defense League, which is advocating further consideration of the pardon applications, according to the view here.

BILLINGS TO ASK FOR ANOTHER REVIEW

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11. (AP)—Review of Warren K. Billings's application for pardon will be asked of the California Supreme Court within a fortnight, Edwin McKenzie, his attorney, announced today.

Billings, with Thomas Mooney, was convicted of bombing the Preparedness Day parade here fourteen years ago, killing ten persons and injuring forty. Both are serving life sentences. Applications for pardon for both were rejected by the Governor within the past week.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Effective Saturday morning, July 12th, at the opening of business, the Standard Oil Company of California will restore its prices for gasoline to levels prevailing prior to the beginning of the so-called price war.

The events of the past month, the Company believes, have demonstrated to the oil industry that indiscriminate price cutting benefits neither the supplier nor the dealer, and that it must now be realized that orderly marketing conditions and stabilized prices need the cooperation of all of those engaged in the oil business. It is the hope of the company that this step will not only bring order out of existing chaos but will also result in stabilization, with consequent benefit to the oil industry and to the general welfare and prosperity of the Pacific Coast.

Only the prompt termination of the price war, which has been raging on the Pacific Coast, can save the oil industry and many thousands of persons engaged in the sale of petroleum products from catastrophe. The prosperity of the industry, and those associated with it, is a matter of great consequence to the welfare of all business. If the oil industry, which with its huge investments and hundreds of thousands of stockholders and employees, is one of the greatest economic units of the Pacific Coast, fails to prosper, the effect on other businesses, already depressed in many respects, would be disastrous.

So far as crude oil is concerned producers have done their share. Throughout California they have co-operated to confine the production of crude oil to the demand and to conserve for future requirements this invaluable resource, the waste of which is indefensible. This is only the first step. It loses its effectiveness if manufacturers and marketers of the refined products of petroleum do not similarly refrain from over production through the withdrawal of crude oil already in storage.

Laws enacted nearly forty years ago to meet different conditions have been interpreted to prohibit agreements to curtail the production of refined products as well as agreements to regulate the price structures under which they are sold. Nevertheless much can be accomplished if those engaged in the industry will use their individual efforts to stabilize marketing conditions for gasoline and if they will practice fair dealing in competition. Without a production of gasoline restricted to the demand, and without stabilized marketing conditions for the product, the curtailed production of crude petroleum will be only an idle gesture and the conservation of oil so earnestly supported by the Federal Administration will be doomed to failure.

Among the causes destructive of stabilized marketing conditions is the dealer whose only aim, regardless of the reasonableness of prevailing prices, is to take the business of his neighbor by selling below the latter's price. In a stabilized market the suppliers aim to fix a price by agreement with their dealers which will afford the latter a reasonable margin of profit, be it three cents or four cents a gallon, or whatever the figure. It is estimated that there are some 40,000 dealers on the Pacific Coast; of these, over 39,000 are content to "live and let live." They take their margin and resell the gasoline supplied to them at prices fair to the public, and which yield the supplier and the dealer a fair profit. There are perhaps 1,000 dealers on the Pacific Coast whose policy is otherwise. They cut the price not because they believe it unfair or too high, but because they are determined to get another man's business regardless of the fairness of his price.

The Standard Oil Company of California announces as a policy that it will not sell its products to that class of dealer. It does not want his business. It matters not whether he is practicing his unfair competition with respect to the products of this company or of its competitors. So far as this company is concerned it will regard the dealer who cuts prices without respect to their reasonableness in order to take the trade and livelihood of his neighbor as an outlaw in the business.

Finally, in order to do its share toward maintaining a balance between supply and demand, this company will confine its manufacture of gasoline to the quantity required by its actual demand.

KANSANS URGE LEGGE TO QUIT

Usefulness to Farm Board Declared Ended

Apology Also Demanded for Criticism of State

Wichita Publishers Object to "Hog" Reference

AMARILLO (Tex.) July 11. (AP)—A demand from the publishers of a Kansas newspaper for the resignation of Alexander Legge as chairman of the Federal Farm Board, and outspoken opposition to any reduction of wheat acreage in the Texas Panhandle, today greeted Legge and Secretary of Agriculture Hyde as they continued their tour of the Southwest wheat belt.

Coupled with their demand for Legge's resignation, Max M. and Louis Levand, publishers of the Wichita (Kan.) Beacon, asked for an apology from the Farm Board chairman for what they termed an "insult" to the people of Kansas.

INSULT CHARGED

The publishers objected to a statement attributed to Legge in his speech yesterday at Dodge City, Kan., that "the biggest hog will always lie in the trough. Kansas is now in the trough."

Mr. Legge made a brief, but emphatic reply.

"Please present my compliments to Max and Louis and please tell them to go to hell," he said.

"The expression I used is one us farmers understand, Legge explained," I said, 'the biggest hog will always lie in the trough.' Kansas is the largest wheat-producing State and I'm sure my listeners got the idea I was conveying, that Gov. Reed is putting Kansas in that position.

"A candidate tells his listeners what they like to hear, but not being in politics, I told the Dodge City meeting the truth. The Governor was just a little unfair in trying to turn a discussion of a strictly economic problem into a political meeting."

The allusion to the hog trough was made by Legge in replying to the contention of Gov. Reed of Kansas that wheat acreage reduction as advocated by Legge would not solve the problems of the Kansas farmer and if acreage was to be curtailed it should be carried out in other States not so well equipped to grow wheat as Kansas.

"We ask an apology from Mr. Legge and, since he says he has done all he can to help the farmer, we ask his resignation," the Wichitans said in their telegrams.

PLAN OPPOSED

At the meeting here today, one of a series arranged by Secretary Hyde and Chairman Legge to urge the wheat farmers to organize and to plant less acreage, several speakers opposed the acreage reduction proposals so far as Texas is concerned

Expressing the theory the Panhandle territory is one of "limited opportunity" so far as crops are concerned, C. A. Bonner, economist of the Texas agricultural experiment station, said it is "difficult to become enthusiastic" over a very large shift in this section's crop acreages.

"Farmers in this area are doing about the right thing," Bonner said. "We must produce wheat or nothing."

HUGE PURCHASE URGED BY SENATOR CAPPER

WASHINGTON, July 11. (AP)—Purchase of 100,000,000 bushels of wheat by the Farm Board in an effort to stabilize this product was advocated today by Senator Capper, Republican, Kansas, who is close to the administration.

Car Otherwise Uninjured As Lightning Strikes; Driver Stunned

EVANSTON (Wyo.) July 11. (AP)—A bolt of lightning removed every particle of glass from the windshield of Dan Milligan's automobile, but left the Milligan car uninjured.

He was knocked unconscious by the impact and the car ran into a ditch.

A motorist found Milligan unconscious and revived him. Except for the missing windshield the car was undamaged.

Elderly Man Lost on Desert Weeks Hunted

BOISE (Idaho) July 11. (AP)—The blistering deserts of this region today were the scene of a search for William Lawson, 80 years of age, who left Middleton, north of here, nine weeks ago, traveling by wagon and horses.

The elderly man had been visiting his son Ted in Middleton and on June 1 started for Grandview, eighty miles to the southwest, to visit a nephew, W. E. McMurtry.

Because the relatives lived so far apart each thought the traveler was at the home of the other until on the 4th inst., when McMurtry, while traveling from Granger to Boise, discovered a wagon he identified as one belonging to Ted Lawson. Writing a note to the younger Lawson, McMurtry learned today the relative had left for Grandview nine weeks before.

TREATIES PERIL UNITY SCHEME

War Settlements Barrier to Briand Plan

Europe Also Determined to Preserve League

All Replies Expected to Be in by 15th Inst.

PARIS, July 11. (AP)—Dissatisfaction of European countries with their war settlements and determination that nothing must impair the League of Nations authority today became evident as the outstanding reactions to France's proposal for a united states of Europe.

With replies sent or on the way from half of the twenty-six nations asked by Foreign Minister Briand to participate in discussions for a federation of European states, the French government today announced that it considered the progress of negotiations as "quite satisfactory."

BRIAND OPTIMISTIC

M. Briand made it known that he expects every invited nation's response to be in the hands of the Foreign Office by the 15th inst. and that he will be in a position to make a full report for the League of Nations meeting in September.

No insurmountable obstacle has been raised by any responding government, it was said in official circles. Such objections as have been mentioned in replies already received, it was argued, have always been known to exist.

In fact, it was because there are such difficulties that France undertook the epochal plan of a federation of nations and for that reason M. Briand proceeded slowly and carefully in launching the idea, outlining the plan first and leaving details to the future.

MOST DISTURBING FACTOR

The single really disturbing factor in the preliminary exchanges has been the demand for revision of treaties mentioned by Italy, Germany and Hungary especially. It is this factor which has caused the gravest concern among those who are devoted to the idea of the European federation.

This allusion of the three powers to their dissatisfaction with postwar treaties and the economic settlements growing out of the conflict, however, were regarded as more or less to be expected and as capable also of being overcome when a large majority of European states has indicated its desire to establish a union that would be helpful to all.

In all of the replies it was noted with satisfaction that insistence would be firm upon maintaining the League of Nations in its whole form.

PROBLEM OF COLONIES

The problem of colonies, raised by Holland, was expected to be one of the most difficult for solution, but France, affected as much or more than any other nation, would be as much concerned as any of her neighbors. Most of France's territory and three-fifths of her population are in her colonies.

France, for that reason, does not see colonies as a barrier to a European federation but merely as a complication that will be met by good will and study when the nations get down to brass tacks later on.

Italy's insistence that Russia and Turkey must be invited to join the federation was regarded as another important problem. It was observed among French officials that it was a matter of judgment where to limit membership.

THOUGHTLESS YOUTH SCORED

Hanford Mayor Objects to His Scratching Match on Electrolier

HANFORD, July 11.—Mayor G. M. Wilson is nothing, if he's not proud of Hanford's new electrolier system, with its beautiful gilded posts. And then he's anxious to have them look pretty as long as possible. That's why he delivered a sharp call-down to a young man today when "His Honor" spied the youth scratching a match on one of the ornamental standards.

"Say, young man, we are going to put up a piece of cardboard for you to scratch your matches on," the Mayor remarked.

Discussing the incident, Mayor Wilson said that he thinks that the citizens of Hanford should be as considerate of the city's property as they would ofh the furniture in their own homes.

WASHINGTON, July 11. (AP)—Secretary Wilbur was en route to California tonight vested with Congressional authority to enter unit operation agreements for the development of the Kettleman Hills oil field—an operation plan he hopes will be adopted generally by producers with a resultant "stupendous conservation of a great national resource."

The co-operative development plan for this field as tentatively outlined by a committee of independent producers, he said, will be one of his major studies on his western trip.

BROWN STAMPS RATES TOO LOW

Postmaster-General to Urge Postage Increase

Half-Cent More on Letters Will Cancel Deficit

Tilton Says 1885 Level Has Department Licked

WASHINGTON, July 11. (AP)—Convinced that an increase in postage rates is the only feasible way of lifting the world's biggest public utility "out of the red," postal officials are preparing to press their advocacy for a higher charge for carrying first-class mail.

When Postmaster-General Brown submits his annual report to Congress in December the enactment of legislation authorizing the increase is to be his most urgent recommendation. The Postmaster believes a rate of 2½ cents an ounce on first-class mail would balance the department's budget for the present.

Assistant Postmaster-General Tilton, generally regarded as the financial expert of the department, said today an increase in the rate of letter mail is the only solution of the deficit problem. "We see no other way out," Tilton said. "If the public or Congress sees one we shall be glad to have them point it out."

Last year's postal deficit amounted to $50,000,000. Tilton estimates it will run over $80,000,000 this year.

The present rate on first-class mail has been in effect since 1885, a situation without parallel, Tilton said, in any other line of business.

[illegible] home-bred struggle, waged [illegible] swirling, perspiring galleries [illegible] the way, the strapping young blond professional, Horton Smith, outplayed the champion of the world, Bobby Jones, to take the lead in this classic of golf classics for the first time in his career.

Smith added a par-cracking 70, which he shared with Charles Lacey as the best round of the [illegible] day, to his par 72 of the first [illegible] two-day 36-hole total of 142. Lighthorse Harry Again Will Attract Attention as He Ties With Jones

INTERLACHEN COUNTRY CLUB, MINNEAPOLIS, July 11.—Los Angeles scored heavily today in the national open in the magnificent showing of cocky, confident Harry Cooper. Cooper is a great gallery performer—but for the past couple of years has not been favored with much of a following. He has bided his time and tonight, with thirty-six holes out of the way, was tied for second place with Bobby Jones, just two strokes behind Smith. Neither yesterday nor today did Cooper have a gallery, but in such a position and playing such golf as he is—Cooper will get a great following tomorrow. Cooper's home is in Los Angeles. His family lives there and he claims Los Angeles as his home.

Another Los Angeles player who came to the front today was debonair Charley Guest. He started indifferently but raced home in great style to turn in

LAREDO LUCKY WINNER

Speedy Dado Outpoints Rival But Loses Verdict in Main Event at Hollywood Stadium

Much to the amazement of a packed house of Hollywood fight fans last night at the Movie City arena, Referee Bert Wallace raised Chato Laredo's hand in token of victory over Speedy Dado, when all present figured that the flashy Filipino boxer should have had the decision.

The Mexican, Laredo, won but one round, the tenth, with four even and the other five going to Dado.

Dado outscored Laredo all the way and was justly entitled to the victory as he was the last time the two met, which was less than a month ago at the Olympic.

Laredo, however, did most of the leading and Referee Wallace may have figured that the Mexican scored a knockdown in the ninth when both he and Dado rolled on the floor.

Although ringsiders figured Abie Miller had an edge in the semi-wind-up over Pete Sarmiento, Referee Bert Wallace called it a draw. Miller registered a knockdown in the second round for a two-count and scored the cleaner punches.

The special event between Battling Bulahan and Pat Varner nearly ended in a riot, when Referee Nyland called it a draw. Bulahan won every round except the fifth, which was even. Nyland was supposed to handle the semi-wind-

BOYS TO GET MEDALS

Southern California Winners in Junior Olympics Will be Decorated at Atlantic City Today

BY JOHN F. NESS
"Times" Staff Representative

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) July 11. (Exclusive)—Tomorrow morning they will pin three gold, one silver and one bronze medal on Joe Andrade, of Southern California, national junior Olympic Games champion. Johnny Lee of Highland Park gets a gold medal. Sam Waxman of Echo Park Playground will receive a silver and gold one and Louis Haley of San Bernardino a silver and a bronze medal.

Add to this some cups and the youngsters of the Los Angeles Times party are going to be heavily laden.

JOHN F NESS

With Andrade taking three firsts, one second and tying for a third in every event in the juvenile pentathlon this Mexican lad from Calexico has set a new world's record for all-around performance the basis upon which this program is builded.

When the final scores were officially released this morning, it was found that Southern California and Hawaii had annexed twenty-seven medals out of a total of thirty-three, giving Pennsylvania one, Missouri one, Ohio one and Iowa one. The boys from the west gathered in twenty-eight out of the

Senators Cinch Contest in Third With Six Runs

Stars Mathematically Out of First-Half Race

SACRAMENTO, July 11. (AP)—Hollywood was mathematically knocked out of the first-half pennant race here tonight by losing to Sacramento, 13 to 5. The victory evened the series and kept the Solons in the pennant race, although they are able only to tie by taking the three remaining games, while Los Angeles loses three. Two big innings, the second and third, netted nine runs and drove Rhodes to cover, Page relieving and absorbing the rapping of six runs in the third. He yielded four more in the eighth. Keating hurled steadily for the Sacs.

ITALIANS, JAPANESE ALL EVEN

Davis Cup Teams Divide First Day's Matches as Two Stars Upset

BY THOMAS T. TOPPING
Associated Press Staff Writer

GENOA (Italy) July 11. (AP)—Italy's ambidextrous tennis star, Georgio De Stefani, came through with an unexpected victory against Japan today, but his countryman, Baron Humbert De Morpurgo, ill and suffering, met defeat.

As a result the home forces broke even with the Japanese in the opening matches of the European zone Davis Cup tennis final, the winner of which will play the United States for the right to challenge the French.

Yoshiro Ohta managed to snatch one set from De Stefani, the latter winning at 6-4, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4, but De Morpurgo lost to Takeichi Harada, 6-4, 6-3, 7-5. Fans and experts alike had regarded Ohta and De Morpurgo as almost certain winners.

De Morpurgo played as if in pain and it was announced after the match he must soon undergo an operation for appendicitis. This the Baron confirmed reluctantly as he said he was "not looking for an alibi."

Neither De Stefani nor Harada, in victory, showed a brand of ten-

ANGELS ALMOST CINCH PENNANT

Seattle Scores Three Runs With Two Out in Ninth

Horne, Peters Both Blow Up in Tragic Final Round

Hannah and Almada Rap Out Four-Base Wallops

BY BOB RAY

The Angels came within one out of cinching first-half honors yesterday at Wrigley Field. Unfortunately after two were out in the ninth, however, the Seattle Indians put on a three-run rally to eke out a 7-to-5 victory so the first-half race is still on, although one win for the Angels will settle things.

Louis Almada

Skipper Lelivelt's stumbling Seraphs limped into the ninth inning with a one-run lead acquired in the seventh when Johnny Moore's double drove Frank Sigafoos over the plate. Berly Horne retired Knothe and Taylor to open the Seattle ninth and the fans began making for the exits.

Whereupon Dutch Holland whacked out a single to right center. It was just an ordinary looking single and probably nobody in the park suspected that it was the signal for a general Indian uprising. Anyhow, the hit was enough to start Horne wobbling all over the mound and the bases were bulging when Berly walked both Louie Almada and Bill Lawrence.

PETERS BLOWS

Believing that something should be done about the situation, Jack Lelivelt ceased his pacing up and down the Angel dugout long enough to beckon Horne to the showers and send Bill Peters to the mound. Peters tied the game with his first pitched ball, which hit Merv Owen right on his plug of tobacco, provided Mr. Owen carries a plug of tobacco in his hip pocket, and forced Holland home with the tying run. Then followed a couple of infield hits by Fred Muller and Chuck Borreani to bring in two more runs and definitely settle the issue. Both hits were fielded by Art Parker, who had placed Fred Haney at third in the ninth just in time to gather for himself a lot of embarrassing moments. Sigafoos tossed out Elmer Hanson to finally end the tragic situation.

Peters opened the Angel ninth with a single and Sigafoos walked, but Moore, Dittmar and Harper were easy victims of Hanson's hurling wiles so the promising rally fizzled out before anybody could do anything about it.

Once more we must mention

LEEDS (Eng.) July 11. (AP)—Don Bradman, brilliant Australian batsman, beat the previous world's record cricket test score—R. E. Foster's 287 at Sydney in 1903—in the third test at Leeds today by piling up the enormous total of 309. He was still unbeaten when stumps were drawn for the day with the Australian score at 458 to 3.

RABBIT PUNCHES BY PAUL LOWRY

TWO LAPS TO GO

MR. ROBERT T. JONES, JR., of Atlanta was a stroke ahead of his nearest rival and three strokes in front of Horton Smith at the two-lap mark in the British open—which he won.

This morning he finds himself two strokes back of the same Smith, the leader, at the same turning point in the American open—which he may win.

However, between the winning and the losing of the American open there are a lot of hurdles, and Mr. Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., may find lanky Horton Smith not the easiest to negotiate.

Horton has been hovering on the brink of winning something big just long eough to connect. He broke slightly on his third round in the British open, taking a 78, and finished in fourth position with a 296 to Jones's 291. But his last round of 73 was two strokes better than Bobby's 75.

A letter received by our Mr. Edward Lawrence from Gibson Dunlap, written before the start of the tourney, brings a prediction that Jones will not win, and that Walter Hagen is the best bet.

However, Sir Walter took a 75 yesterday and finds himself five strokes back of Mr. Horton Smith. Such a deficit is rather hard to overcome when the man in front is Mr. H. Smith, even though the man behind is W. Hagen.

RULES NEED SIMPLIFICATION

THE disqualification of Dunlap, local amateur, in the open championships at Interlachen again calls attention to the fact that some of the hide-bound rules of golf need simplification and application of a little horse sense.

In this case Dunlap was penalized because of an overzealous attention to the rules and barred from the tournament on a technicality.

He deliberately penalized himself two strokes—stroke and distance—and returned to the tee to play a second ball when he found his first ball in a bit of freshly turned sod at a tree basin.

Told he could drop back without penalty, Duplap played up to the green, and then went back to play a second ball from the tee, calling the first ball unplayable.

He failed to putt out the first ball, and the committee disqualified him on that score, although his second ball had a two-stroke penalty attached.

Dunlap was just an outsider in the tourney with no chance to annoy the leaders, but I am curious to know what would have happened had it been a Jones, a Hagen, a Diegel, a McDonald Smith or an Armour who suffered Dunlap's predicament.

Would an apparently idiotic stickling for the rules have disqualified any of those stars?

WHAT ABOUT HORNSBY?

CONFLICTING reports come from the East over the future activities of Rogers Hornsby, once peerless second sacker and heavy hitter.

Chicago advices say Hornsby may never play again with the Cubs.

Joe McCarthy, manager of the Cubs, intimates a sensational story will be released about Hornsby later in the season.

From St. Louis comes word that the Rajah's broken ankle is mending nicely and that he will report to the Cubs the 16th inst., to start working out.

All we need now is a story that Tom Turner has signed Hornsby to manage the Portland Ducks.

LOCAL GOLF ACTIVITY

INTEREST in the national open at Interlachen hasn't reduced indulgence in the national game in this sector.

Santa Monica has a municipal tourney under way at the Clover Field links, the Los Angeles municipal tourney starts at Griffith Park next week, and Palos Verdes has an invitation tourney coming up, starting the 24th inst.

Palos Verdes is in splendid shape now, and Col. Jack Low and Jim Fiske tell me preparations have been made to handle heavy play over this most interesting of seaside courses in Southern California.

ANGELS BLOW UP IN NINTH AND INDIANS WIN OUT, 7-5

that the Angels certainly do not look like a ball club on the verge of winning any kind of a baseball race. Maybe they're trying too hard but whatever is the cause of their poor work it certainly is effective.

On the other hand the Indians just can't help winning even though they aren't straining themselves. They used two of their worst pitchers yesterday in Andy House and Guido Simoni, the latter just out of Santa Clara College, but still the Angels couldn't win. Hanson pitched and blanked the Cherubs in the eighth and ninth.

Things now do not look so bright for the Cherubs with Dutch Ruether, Paul Zahniser and Wilbert Hubbell slated to pitch the remaining three games for Seattle. Carroll Yerkes, knocked out of the box early Tuesday, will come back for the Angels today, which leaves Ed Baecht and probably Win Ballou or Clyde Barfoot to hurl the Sunday games. However, maybe the Angels won't have to win to cinch it for there's a possibility of Sacramento and Hollywood knocking each other out of the running.

SERAPHS SCORE

After Schulmerich's throw picking Taylor off first had broken up a Seattle rally in the first, the Angels got a run in their half on Ray Jacobs's single with the bases full after two were out. Schulmerich had forced Sigafoos at the plate for the second out when Jacobs delivered his hit. Moore scored but Harper was thrown out at the plate, Holland to Borreani.

Haney's error put Lawrence on to start the Indian second. Owen's single sent Lawrence to third, from where he scored when Harper muffed Muller's fly. Borreani then hit into a double play and House fanned to once more pull Horne out of a ticklish situation.

Truck Hannah put the Angels in front in the home half when he dropped one over the temporary fence out in left field where the tower for the night baseball lights is being built.

Louie Almada's circuit clout into the center-field stands in the sixth tied the score again but the Angels came back with two in their half on a walk to Harper, Schulmerich's single and Jacobs's double down the left field line.

The Indians were persistent, though, and again tied the score in the seventh with a two-run splurge. Singles by Borreani and Lee, the latter batting for House, Knothe's sacrifice and Taylor's hit produced the tallies.

Once more the Angels broke the tie in their half of the inning. Horne singled and was forced by Sigafoos, who stole second. Moore's double down the right-field line scored Siggy.

All of which brings us up to the fateful ninth, the details of which are too tragic to bear repeating. Oh, well, today is another day. The score:

Ancient Nag Takes Third Border Race

AGUA CALIENTE (Mex.) July 11. Little Asbestos, seven-year-old gelding from the stable of C. B. Irwin, won his third race of the summer meeting this afternoon, when he came home in front of the Cuyamaca, a six-furlong claiming event. Little Asbestos was held off the early pace until rounding the stretch turn. There Lennie let him out, and he came on to win going away by a length and a half. Gee Whiz got the place and Black Spot the show. Time for the distance was 1:12 4-5.

Lennie and S. Ringe, both apprentice riders, divided honors for the afternoon. The former rode two winners and Ringe three on the card of eight events. Results:

HORTON SMITH LEADS IN OPEN

Sensational Young Pro Tops Field by Two Strokes

Jones Tied by Cooper, Lacey With Total of 144

Hagen, Mac Smith, Armour Slip Under Strain

par scores or better on the tough incoming nine.

Jones, in second place, found himself in a tie with Lighthorse Cooper, who duplicated his par 72 of the opening round for a 144 total to make the most serious gesture in the tournament since he tied with Armour in 1927, only to lose a play-off.

The tie for second place became three-cornered in sensational and dramatic fashion when the very last player in the entire field, Charles Lacey, 23-year-old Englishman from Pine Valley Club of the Philadelphia district, came home with a par-busting 70, equaling Horton Smith's low round of the day and giving him a two-day total of 144 to tie Jones and Cooper.

Lacey's finish was like a bolt out of the clear blue sky. It was wasted on the galleries, which had deserted the links in the belief all the big shots had been fired but this unheralded performer came in just before 7 p.m. to inject himself unceremoniously into the very foremost rank.

As a matter of fact, Lacey had a great chance to score 69 and take undisputed hold of second place. He missed it by taking a five on the eighteenth, losing a shot in the rough, after one of the most spectacular putting exhibitions of the tournament.

There was mild interest in the overheated press shed when Lacey went out in even par, 36. There was consternation and amazement for the experts when Lacey began clicking off birdies. He barely missed putts for a birdie at the tenth and an eagle 3 at the eleventh.

He then got home putts of forty feet on two successive greens, the thirteenth and fourteenth, for birdies. He narrowly missed another forty-footer on the sixteenth and was only ten feet from the pin with his drive to the 262-yard seventeenth, missing another good chance for a birdie.

MAC SMITH FOURTH

Lacey has been in this country three years, coming over from London, but at Pine Valley he has had American baptism on one of the toughest courses in the country. This marks his first major American tournament appearance and he celebrated it today with as fine a round as the event has yet witnessed.

Mac Smith, who had shared the first day's lead with Armour at 70, took 75 and occupied fourth place with a total of 145.

Armour and Hagen picked identical holes, the fourteenth and fifteenth, on which to stage sudden blow-ups and send their totals soaring. The Black Scot finished with 76 for a two-day total of 146. He found himself in a tie for fifth place with Filfred (Wiffy) Cox, who had 71-75-146, and Johnny Farrell, the 1928 champ, who staged another fine come-back with a par 72, added to his opening 74 for another total of 146.

Hagen's 72-75—147 also involved another tie, with John Golden of Darien, Ct., stepping along to post 74-73—147 for his two days' work.

There were a half-dozen or so inside the 150 mark to indicate how keen competition has been, with a total of 156 as the dividing line for those sixty and ties allowed to compete in the final half of the seventy-two-hole grind tomorrow.

It was still pretty much a wide-open battle, too, with eight of the most seasoned professional favorites, along with the one and only Bobby Jones, bunched within five strokes of each other. Any one of them has the chance to break through, but on the basis of today's play, Jones and Smith loomed as the pair most likely to fight it out, with Cooper, Mac Smith, Armour, Farrell and Hagen still within easy gunshot of the lead, providing they can find the right touch.

Today's show was strictly a double-header, with the Armour-Mac Smith-Hagen half of the bill furnishing the early fireworks, sputtering out at the finish, as Jones and Horton Smith went out to put on the big thrill of the round.

HAGEN CRACKS

Hagen looked like the Hagen of his championship days as he sailed out serenely in 35, one under par, catching both Armour and Smith at the twenty-seventh hole and starting back with all his shots apparently in splendid working order. "The Haig" hit the chutes on the fourteenth, 444 yards, where at least a dozen traps lurk in waiting for shots that stray off the line. After he had finished his battle with these bunkers, Hagen had a 6 on his card and a 5 on the par 4 fifteenth did him no particular good. He offset a birdie 3 on the sixteenth by going one over par on the tough 262-yard seventeenth and needed 40 strokes for his incoming nine.

Meanwhile Armour, even par for twelve holes, suddenly absorbed a setback when he missed a putt of a few feet for a birdie 4 on the twelfth. This mistake upset the Black Scot so much he remarked to bystanders: "There goes my chance for the championship." That error alone was not sufficient to cause the remark, but when he took 4-6-5 on the next three holes, dropping four strokes to par, Tommy's chances went sky high. He regained control to bag the last three in par figures, but the damage was done and his total of 76 tumbled him out of the lead.

Mac Smith's putter cost him enough strokes to have at least enabled him to keep pace for the day with the American member of the Smith clan. Mac had no serious mistakes, but he missed four putts by the narrowest margins, besides playing the eighteenth timidly enough to force a 5, one over par, on his card of 75, that otherwise might well have been 71 or 72.

Jones and Horton Smith, because of the huge crowds following them, were late starting and continually delayed in their progress around the course. Smith caught Jones on the first hole and went into a one-stroke lead on the second hole with a birdie 3. Both set a sensational pace and at the ninth they were all even, as Smith made the turn in 33, three under par, to Jones's 34.

THRILLING NINTH

This ninth was a thriller. Smith hit a great spoon second to within twenty feet of the pin and then sank the putt for an eagle 3. Jones then came along and, after a substantial delay, half-topped his second shot, a spoon.

The ball headed for the big pond fronting the approach to the green, bounced off a collection of water lilies at the far edge and rolled up the fairway. As the crowd roared for this "break," Bobby capitalized by chipping dead and sinking the short one for a birdie 4.

It was nip and tuck over the last nine, but Bobby found himself a lot more trouble than Horton, beginning with the eleventh. Horton got a birdie 4 on this, but Bobby, going for the pin, pulled his shot and landed in the rough. He was lucky to get a 5 and luckier to get another par 5 on the 530-yard twelfth, where he put his second in a big trap, came out too strong, ran his approach putt downhill ten feet past the pin and then sank it.

Jones misjudged the 194-yard thirteenth green, sending his ball bouncing over it into deep rough and barely extricating to the edge to get his 4. Then came the hazardous fifteenth, after an easy par on the fourteenth, where Smith was forced to take a 5. Bobby tried desperately on the last three holes to make up for his weird 6 on the fifteenth, but the best he could do was clip a single stroke from par. He missed putts by narrow margins on both the seventeenth and eighteenth.

FIELD REDUCED

The field for the final 36 holes was reduced to sixty-nine players out of the original starting field of 142, the survivors representing those with 156 or better. On the borderline were such well-known players as Chick Evans of Chicago, Don Moe of Portland, Or., and Emmett French of Southern Pines, N. C. Outside the plane, among the casualties, were Joe Kirkwood with 158, Leonard Schmutte of Lima, O., with 159, Cyril Tolley of England with 160 and Harrison R. (Jimmy) Johnson, the American amateur champ, with 161.

Prospects of at least a half dozen pretournament favorites went glimmering in today's scramble. Leo Diegel, with a brace of 75's, for 150, was too far behind for even such a sharpshooter as the P.G.A. champion to further be a contender.

Back in the ruck and eliminated in everything but the actual motions of going through the last 36 holes were Gene Sarazen, Al Espinosa, the 1929 runner-up, Denny Shute and George Von Elm. All had totals of 154.

So did Johnny Goodman, the jaunty Nebraska amateur who tacked an 80 to his 74 of yesterday. George M. Smith of Chicago was well up with an opening round of 72, but his 81 today shot him back to 153 and out of the picture.

THE Sportlight BY GRANTLAND RICE

INTERLACHEN COUNTRY CLUB, MINNEAPOLIS (Minn.) July 11.—As they come romping down the stretch at Interlachen late Saturday afternoon there ought to be at least four or five pounding hearts that are pretty well bunched.

And in addition to Bobby Jones, who is always around in these home-stretch gatherings, one of them will be a tall, lanky, blue-eyed son of Missouri by the name of Horton Smith, who was 22 years old back in May.

In the midst of the milling on Friday, young Smith handed them a second round that made Bobby Jones, Walter Hagen, Tommy Armour, Mac Smith, Johnny Farrell and a number of others sit up and take notice that a serious challenger had arrived on the scene who meant business.

I saw every shot that Horton Smith played and I saw him grind out a 70 that might just as well have been a 66 as a 70, for he seemed to be using a rifle most of the time in place of a golf club. It was as fine a round of golf as any one has ever seen in an open championship when you consider the way he went about it.

Horton adopted a unique idea and put it into general effect. This idea consisted in hitting his drive smack down the middle and then rapping an iron shot six or eight feet from the pin. It is a system that seldom fails, even if you are putting with a broom.

It is a system that landed young Smith out in front of the pack and enabled him to pick up three strokes on Bobby Jones before facing the final day.

You will hear more about this round later, where he was out in 33 and might just as well have been out in 30.

Class in the Stretch

The finish on Friday was a certain tip that there will be class in the stretch as they suffer and struggle through the last thirty-six holes that will proclaim either a winner or a tie before sunset on Saturday.

Here not more than five strokes apart you have Horton Smith, Bobby Jones, Harry Cooper, Macdonald Smith, Tommy Armour, Johnny Farrell, Walter Hagen, Whiffy Cox and John Golden, with Leo Diegel and others only a step away.

These are all seasoned campaigners. They can play golf and they have known the flame and fire of competition and they are all capable of tearing into par with a pick-ax.

Facing the final day there has been no championship that carried so many thrills and that left more high-class talent all set to battle for the big prize.

Armour and Mac Smith, the leaders on Thursday, slipped a trifle, but in these hectic opens the leaders of one day usually slip the next. You can only be at the peak so long, and not for very long. A razor edge doesn't last as many days as a battle ax.

Hagen went out in 35 but faltered coming home, although there were all the old indications of much better golf ahead. Harry Cooper, who tied with Armour at Oakmont three years ago, came through with another 72 to tie Bobby Jones and prove again that he will bear more watching.

Johnny Farrell, another ex-open champion, turned on a brand of golf that will keep him in the middle of the big pursuit race. After starting with an 8 on Thursday, Farrell has played the other thirty-five holes in two under par, which is marvelous work when you have a poisoned poignard sticking in your heart. And that is precisely what an 8 is on the first hole of an open championship.

Don't make the mistake of overlooking this black-haired, slender, blue-eyed Irishman from Quaker Ridge.

The Big Duel

In many respects the duel between Bobby Jones and Horton Smith on Friday afternoon must be classed as one of the epics of golf. Mac Smith, Armour, Hagen and others had slipped just a trifle through the cross winds of the morning round.

As Horton Smith and Bobby Jones squared away later on a big gallery of 10,000 or more split apart—about half to follow the lanky entry from Missouri and the other half to watch Bobby Jones.

Smith was playing just ahead of Jones. Smith could hear every cheer that roared across the valleys and bounded back from the hills. Jones could hear the roaring applause that greeted every fine shot that Horton Smith played, and he played his full share of them.

Bobby was leading Horton by a stroke when they began. At the first hole Smith had a 4 and Bobby had a 5, so they were all square on the total count. And then young Smith began to play about all the golf there was. He got a birdie 3 at the second by sinking a ten-foot putt. He had an eight-foot putt for a birdie 2 at the third and the ball hung on the lip. He had a five-foot putt for a birdie 4 at the long fourth and the ball scraped the tin.

He got his 4 at the fifth. He might just as well have started 4-3-2-4-3 with any luck. He had putts for birdies at the sixth, seventh and eighth holes but could not locate the bottom of the cup, although each attempt was closer than a banker's judgment on collateral.

And then he came to the ninth hole, 485 yards in length, with one of the 10,000 lakes waiting for a poor second. Smith's tee shot stopped six feet from the water. He picked out an iron and hit the ball dead on the pin, twelve feet from the cup. And then he tapped his putt in for an eagle 3, to get out in 33.

I mention these few details to show just the brand of golf that Horton Smith played. It was uncanny, for he had a 33 that might just as well have been a 30.

nis which threatened to give the American Davis Cup players much trouble in the interzone finals in Paris next week.

Absence of a volleying game was a feature of today's matches, none of the four players venturing close to the net in the manner of the young American stars.

De Morpurgo's defeat was a deep disappointment to the thousands of Italian fans who have come to regard the Baron as one of the greatest players in the world.

The doubles match tomorrow will go far toward deciding the winner in the series as Harada will be favored to beat De Stefani, and De Morpurgo, unless greatly handicapped physically, figures to beat Ohta in the remaining singles matches, scheduled for Sunday.

Cambridge would be able to participate.

Word that neither Hedges nor Treman would be able to compete was contained in the brief announcement neither was in condition. It was understood Hedges had suffered a recurrence of the leg injury that handicapped him all last year. Just what had forced Treman out of competition was not known. It was announced Tisdall had been ordered by his physician to rest for several months and it was regarded unlikely he would participate tomorrow.

Hedges had been counted upon heavily by supporters of the American team in both the high jump and the hurdles.

Treman, another versatile performer, also had been counted upon to score for the Americans.

GIRL BESTS MOTHER IN GOLFING FINAL

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS (W. Va.) July 11. (AP)—Miss Fritzi Stifel, Wheeling, defeated her mother, 4 and 2, today, to win the West Virginia women's amateur golf championship. Mrs. E. W. Stifel, also of Wheeling, put up a brave battle against her golfing daughter, who has been a national figure in tournament play, but Miss Stifel brouht her prowess to bear on the incoming nine holes. Mrs. Stifel was only 1 down at the twelfth hole.

Crack Three-Year-Old is Picked to Win Arlington Classic Today

BY CHARLES W. DUNKLEY

ARLINGTON PARK, CHICAGO, July 11. (AP)—Gallant Fox, America's greatest race horse since Man o' War, winner of five of the nation's outstanding stake races this season, will go after his richest purse of the year, the $80,000 Arlington Classic at Arlington Park tomorrow.

The three-year-old son of the French stallion, Sir Galahad III—Marguerite, owned by William Woodward, New York bank president, will go to the post the most solidly backed favorite in years.

Opposed to the superhorse of 1930, which has won the Wood Memorial, the Preakness, the Kentucky Derby, the Belmont stakes and the Dwyer stakes, all within the last sixty days, will be a field of ten other three-year-olds. Six of them are sure starters, but four are listed as doubtful.

RICH STAKE

If eleven horse go to the post the gross value of the race will be $84,800. Gallant Fox, because he is eligible for the $10,000 bonus, will win $70,800 if he triumphs tomorrow in the mile and a quarter event. If "the Fox" should be conquered the winner will take down $60,800.

Racing against Gallant Fox will be the West's most dangerous threat, Gallant Knight, which finished second to the Fox in the Kentucky Derby; Ned O., third-place horse at Churchill Downs; three crack fillies, Snowflake, Alcibiades and Dustemall, all regarded as the best of their age and sex in the country; Highfoot, Flaming, Dark Entry, Cesare and May A.

The doubtful starters are Cesare, May A, Flaming and Dark Entry.

The stake is worth $70,000 in added money, with a bonus of $10,000 to the winner if he was a previous victor in the Kentucky Derby, American Derby, Preakness or Belmont Stakes. Gallant Fox has won three of these, which qualifies him for the extra $10,000. Reveille Boy, surprise winner of the American Derby, is not eligible for tomorrow's race, but will oppose Gallant Fox in the Arlington Cup, a weight-for-age affair, a week later.

Owner Woodward and Trainer "Sunny Jim" Fitzsimmons announced tonight Gallant Fox, whether a winner or a loser tomorrow, would remain over to race in the cup event.

COOPER AGAIN IN SPOTLIGHT

a 73 and a total score of 149, right down with the leaders.

The brothers Dutra today fell upon evil ways and though both qualified well enough neither is in a position to really threaten the leaders. Olin went all to pieces on the first nine today, turning in a 41. He rallied a bit coming home and turned in a 79. This with his 73 yesterday gave him a total of 152. His brother, Mortie, playing from the Virginia Country Club in Long Beach, was even more out of line and had to be content with an even 80 for the day.

Fred Morrison, Midwick professional started very badly yesterday with a 79. Today he started getting down to work, and turned in a 76, giving him a total of 154 and qualifying him nicely. He is too far back to be much of a threat for the actual leaders and yet all know the fast golf he is capable of shooting. Let him get started and it would not be surprising to see him play both his rounds tomorrow in the 60s. If he does he will be a real threat.

Willie Hunter, former California and Southern California open champion, seems to be off his game and yet he is such a fighter and has such competitive courage that he is scoring well in spite of missed putts and shots off the fairway. Tonight his total of 152 put him ten long strokes behind Horton Smith and yet left him in a mighty creditable place in the field.

Little Joe Ezar, the Sunset Fields caddie, has played only one really good round in the championship so far, and that round was his final nine holes today. He shot a 37, which with his 43 going out gave him an even 80 and a total of 161, a score which failed to qualify him for the final thirty-six holes tomorrow. A welcome breeze which came up early this morning made playing conditions much more bearable than they were yesterday. It was hot—very hot—but there were no cases of heat prostrations as there were yesterday.

Local scribes stated that yesterday was the hottest day in the history of Minneapolis. They insist that the weather is "most unusual." It must be. Yesterday there were four heat deaths in this city—and a dozen or more prostrations. The Weather Bureau promises thundershowers and rain tomorrow. This may change the aspect of things considerably. For instance, Hagen and Bobby Jones are marvelous bad-weather golfers.

Horton Smith has been known to go to pieces in the rain. Olin Dutra is known as a "mudder." Anything may happen tomorrow if heavy rains are falling.

OAKLAND, July 11. Bobby Jones' Tees High in Golfing Game

BALL
JONES' CONTACT— DEEP FACED DRIVER— ONE INCH TEE GIVES LOW TRAJECTORY AND RUN
Sol Metzger
7-12

BY SOL METZGER

Were you to watch Jones in his final drive for the 1930 United States open golf championship at Interlachen today, I'm sure you would note one point about his tee shots. They fly with neither marked high nor low trajectory, and when they alight, even in a head wind, they roll for some little distance. Bobby gets a ball that gets there in spite of any element of nature.

As stated yesterday this was not the case in his early competitive days. Why the change for the better? First, Bobby tees his ball fully an inch high these days. Second, he uses a deep faced driver in place of the shallow one of a long time back. Third, he swings through the ball, straight through it, instead of hitting it down.

The result is all any one can ask for in the way of a drive. Just remember Bobby's experience and profit from it. Tee them high, instead of low. Hit them straight through, instead of down. It's easier to hit a ball so teed, and it's much easier to do it with a deep-faced driver than a shallow one. That's simple and well worth remembering.

Par golfers make their approaches stick. Metzger's printed and illustrated leaflet, "The Art of Pitching," explains in detail how to do this. Send stamped, addressed envelope to Sol Metzger, in care of The Times, and ask for it.

PLAN RECEPTION FOR JOE ANDRADE

CALEXICO, July 11. — Joe Andrade, local boy who the junior championship at the National Junior Olympics in Atlantic City, N. J., yesterday, will be received in his home town when he returns next month with an international celebration.

Plans for the home-coming fete were disclosed here today when M. Hernandez, president of the Mexicali Chamber of Commerce, asked that his city be permitted to join with Calexico in an appropriate welcome for the Mexican boy with an American championship title.

According to information received here, Andrade will complete the Latin-American steamship cruise which the Los Angeles Times has arranged for the Southern California Olympic winners, August 17. When he arrives home, he will be greeted by the Mexicali band and paraded through the streets of both towns as the preliminary to the presentation of substantial gifts.

Andrade came to Calexico from Hermosillo, Mex., with his parents eight years ago, and learned to speak English in the local schools. His father, Luis Andrade, is a mechanical engineer, employed at Tecate, Baja California. His mother does not speak English.

Before he left for the East, business men here raised a fund of $200 to buy him clothing and equipment for the trip.

TOWNSEND, MEDILL TO MIX AGAIN

Olympic Signs Battlers for Rematch; Bout Will be Staged on 22nd Inst.

Billy Townsend and Joey Medill will fill the spot left vacant on the Olympic program when the Joe Dundee-Benny Miller match fell through. This was the announcement from Hayden Wadhams, Olympic matchmaker, yesterday, who stated he had signed Medill and Townsend for the 22nd inst. Medill outgalloped the Vancouver bomber last Tuesday night after ten torrid rounds of fighting. The blond Canadian believes he will more than even the score with the Chicago Hebrew when they tangle again.

Max Baer will wind up his training today for his ten-rounder Tuesday night at the Olympic with Les Kennedy. The Oakland heavyweight worked six rounds yesterday at the Manhattan gymnasium and despite the heat went at top pace throughout. He will work with Bad News Johnson and one other sparring-mate today. Kennedy is still at Murrietta Springs. He will not return to Los Angeles until Monday.

There is a good deal of interest in the Hans Bierke-Vigo Doman fight which occupies the semi-windup position on Tuesday's card. Doman is working with Kennedy at the Springs and his manager, Tom Grady, declares he will flatten Bierke in short order. The San Francisco heavyweight is getting three-quarters of the purse. He scored a knockout over Doman recently and Grady took the match for almost nothing in order to get a rematch for his fighter.

Baer is a favorite with the boys in the know to score a kayo over Kennedy.

Hixon Leads in Arrowhead Play

Frankie Hixon of the Midwick Country Club shot a 75-3-72 to take a temporary lead in the fifty-four-hole medal play tournament which started yesterday at Lake Arrowhead. Approximately forty golfers entered the tournament yesterday and more than 150 are expected to play in the three-day event, which closes tomorrow. Among the well-known entrants are Fay and Lester Coleman of the California Country Club, Nick McInerny of San Bernardino, W. W. Bacon of Midwick and R. D. Schmertz of San Gabriel.

TOMMY ELKS BATTLES GENE MULLEN TONIGHT

Tommy Elks, Mexican welterweight champion, will make his first local start in months when he boxes Gene Mullen in the main event at the Main-street club tonight. Mullen is a Main-street product, a club fighter who has won practically all his battles. Elks has boxed the best of the Coast's welters, among them Young Corbett, Jackie Fields, Tommy White, Bobby La Salle and Joe Vargas.

Bobby Garcia and James Thompson, 122-pounders, will box the semi-wind-up. Henry Gaitanez and Vic McNeal, 160-pounders, who were the hit of last week's show when Gaitanez scored a fourth-round knockout after being down half a dozen times, clash in a rematch.

Other bouts scheduled are: Happy Romero vs. Morrie Eagleson, 147 pounds; Mickey Romero vs. Polo Mendoza, 118 pounds; Jose Robles vs. Henry Pitkanan, 124 pounds; Jimmy Di Luccia vs. Ernst Murchison, 147 pounds.

MERCHANT-SHIP IDEA DEFENDED

International Parley Critic Given Answer

Policy Declared Mistake by Danish Speaker

Postal Official Makes Sharp Reply to Charge

BY WALDO DRAKE

Assurance that the United States will not be driven off the seas by other nations wishing to see America's new shipping program discontinued, is contained in a statement by W. Irving Glover, assistant Postmaster-General, for Merchant Marine, copies of which were received by local shipping leaders yesterday. Mr. Glover's statement is an answer to criticisms of America's merchant marine policies made before an international shipping conference in Copenhagen by A. P. Moeller, Danish ship owner.

"One of the great accomplishments of President Hoover's administration has been the impetus given to this upbuilding of the merchant marine of the United States," said Mr. Glover. "Fifty-six vessels, under contract, are to be brought into being at a cost well over $300,000,000. Labor is enthusiastic over the great building program. The reports of the great shipbuilding yards show an increase in employment of 21 per cent over a nine-months' period.

"If Mr. Moeller thinks the United States can be frightened by mere words and threats from its determination, he is sadly mistaken. The United States is more determined than ever to have a merchant marine second to none. In furtherance of that, we point to the record of this re-establishment of it by the sounds which come from the shipyards of the country, made by the American working man."

Mr. Moeller's criticism of the American plan to rebuild the nation's merchant marine attended a resolution introduced before the Baltic and international mercantile conference, at Copenhagen, which pleaded for the open-door policy among maritime nations. One of his statements was:

"I am absolutely convinced it is a fallacy when the American people have been made to believe that the present shipping policy of the United States is to the best interests of the American people. I am confident that it is not, and I am likewise confident that sooner or later the truth thereof will dawn on the American public."

MEMBERS OF NEW LINE'S FLEET TOLD

Composition of the new six-ship fleet of Klaveness Line's Los Angeles-Orient service was announced at the port yesterday by James E. Harvey, special representative of the Norwegian Line, upon his return from an eleven months' survey of oriental conditions.

Mr. Harvey said monthly frequency will be maintained; the fleet including the three 12.5-knot motor ships Pleasantville, Somerville and Corneville, and the three fourteen-knot ships Roseville, Granville and Nansenville, all being built specially for this trade. The first three ships named above are already in commission, while the Roseville will enter the service next month, the Granville in October and the Nansenville in November. All six ships displace 8300 tons, while refrigeration space is being doubled on the three later vessels, their cold-air compartments measuring 50,000 cubic feet. The slower motor ships will come here from Shanghai in twenty-one days and the faster trio in seventeen days, said Mr. Harvey.

The 11.5-knot motor ships Bonneville and Bronxville, now on the run, will be taken off as the last three new ships enter service.

Twelve off-shore liners will arrive or depart the port Monday, handling more than 1500 travelers. They include the Panama-Pacific liner Virginia, going to New York with 450 passengers; the Nippon Yusen Kaisha motor liner Tatsuta Maru, from Japan with 200 travelers; the Dollar trans-Pacific liner President Grant, from Shanghai, with 100 passengers; the Lassco flagship City of Los Angeles with 267 persons from Honolulu; the Panama Mail liner El Salvador, taking 125 travelers out for New York and Central America, and the combination cargo and passenger carriers Seattle, for Hamburg, the motor ship Oregon for Le Havre, the Diamond Head from Hawaii, the Chinese Prince for around the world and two Barber liners, the Tai-Ping from New York and the Tai-Ping-Yang from the Orient.

On her first visit to the Pacific Coast since she was stranded last January off Block Island, the veteran Luckenbach express freighter Edward Luckenbach arrived yesterday from Boston, Philadelphia and New York. She was fast on the reef until March 5, later being rebuilt at Newport News.

Admiral Line's coastwise express steamer H. F. Alexander yesterday morning brought in 226 passengers from Seattle and San Francisco and sailed for the north last night with 450 travelers aboard. The Emma Alexander also departed late yesterday for Ensenada, taking 125 persons south on a week-end excursion.

The Japanese "K" liner Bordeaux Maru was yesterday discharging 750 tons of oriental freight at the General Steamship Corporation terminals and sailed late yesterday for Japan after loading out a similar cargo.

The Italian liner Leme of the Mediterranean-Pacific fleet of Navigazione Libera Triestina, also docked at the General terminals last night from Genoa and Trieste with passengers and 600 tons of freight.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11. (AP)—The Dollar Steamship Company will not divert any of its around-the-world or trans-Pacific liners to Portland in the event the company obtains the mail contract on the Portland-Orient run, officials of the line announced here today.

The Dollar Line was low bidder for the mail contract, bids for which were opened in Washington last week. The contract has not yet been awarded.

Local Dollar officials confirmed reports the company will build five new steamers for the run if the contract is obtained, each vessel costing approximately $5,000,000.

Plans and specifications for four new eighteen-knot liners for the Panama Mail Steamship Company's intercoastal service will be in the hands of shipbuilders on both coasts Monday, it was learned here today. Bids on the vessels, which will cost around $3,000,000 each, will be submitted in New York about August 15, next. The Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation's plant in San Francisco and the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company will submit bids. Local shipping authorities predict the two Pacific Coast yards may get the contract because of ability to complete the work before the crowded eastern yards.

SEATTLE, July 11.—The San Francisco tug Sea Lion of the "Red Stack" fleet was reported ashore today near the mouth of the Columbia River in messages received at the Northwest headquarters here of the Coast Guard. The cutter Red Wing, stationed at Astoria, radioed she had started for the stranded vessel. The Sea Lion, owned by the Shipowners' and Merchants' Tugboat Company, is used to tow log rafts.

Service between here and Southeastern Alaska by the Northland Transportation Company will be doubled with the departure for the north of the motorship Northland on Monday, William Semar, manager, announced here today. Sailings will be made every week, instead of fortnightly.

TACOMA (Wash.) July 11.—The Grace liner Cusco, which sailed today, inaugurated a new direct Tacoma-to-the-west-coast-of-South America mail service. The Grace Line recently was granted the contract by the government and will give two regular sailings from this port.

PORTLAND (Or.) July 11.—A Benson log raft, the first of this type of seagoing raft to leave the Columbia River this season, was started from Wallace Slough today. The raft is bound for San Diego in tow of a tug.

The Benson raft usually contains from 4,500,000 to 6,000,000 feet, but the size of the one started south today is not revealed. It is owned by the Benson Logging Company.

Jay Cohn Cops Close Battle

DES MOINES, July 11. (AP) — A new champion will be crowned in the Missouri Valley tennis meet tomorrow.

Hopping all over the court to smash back Wray Brown's high-bouncing drives, Bruce Barnes, Texas whirlwind, took the measure of the defending champion today in five sets, 6-3, 6-4, 0-6, 2-6, 6-2, to enter the finals. Harris Coggeshall, Iowa hope, gained revenge over his Nemesis of last year's valley tourney, by walloping Junior Boehmer, St. Louis, 6-1, 6-2, 6-3, and will meet Barnes tomorrow.

One big upset, another near one and much spectacular play were witnessed in the semifinals of the junior singles today. Fifteen-year-old Jack Lynch of Taft, Cal., outdrove and outgeneraled the seeded No. 1 player, William Flynn of Kansas City, 7-5, 6-2, for the major upset.

Exhibiting almost flawless strokes, Hal Surface of Kansas City all but eliminated Jay Pohn, national boys' champion of Santa Monica, Cal., who eked out a 6-1, 5-7, 7-5 victory.

The final round of the junior doubles was played today, Cohn and Lynch, California combination, whipping William Flynn, Kansas City, and Jimmy Gleason, Omaha, 7-5, 6-0, 6-1.

Divodi Knocks Out Cordoza

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11. (AP)—Andy Divodi, 147 pounds, of New York City, knocked out Joe Cordoza in the eighth round of their ten-round bout here tonight.

Divodi floored his opponent with a barrage of rights and lefts to the jaw after a slam-bang battle that saw the eastern welterweight come from behind after the fourth round.

First round was even and Cordoza punched his way to a decided margin in the next three sessions.

Divodi found the range in the fifth round, stopping his opponent with rights to the jaw and continued his aggressiveness in the next two frames.

In the eighth Divodi shot over several rights to the jaw and soon had Cordoza staggering around the ring and he was an easy victim for a finishing punch.

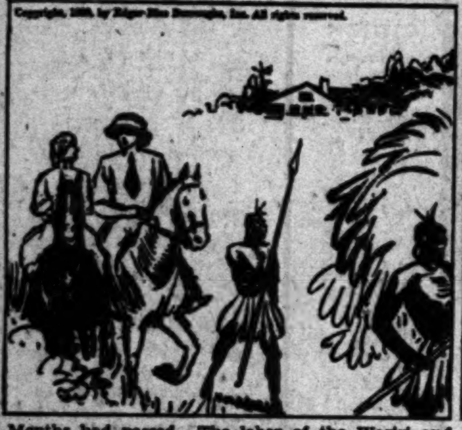
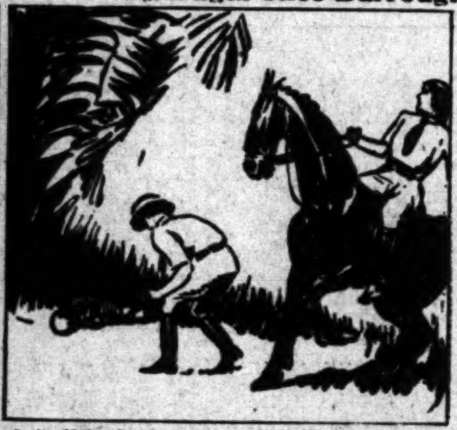
TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

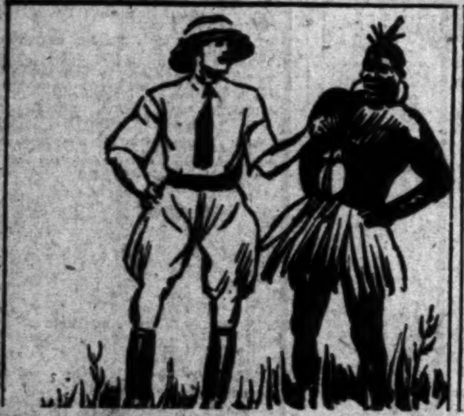


Copyright, 1930, by Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc. All rights reserved.

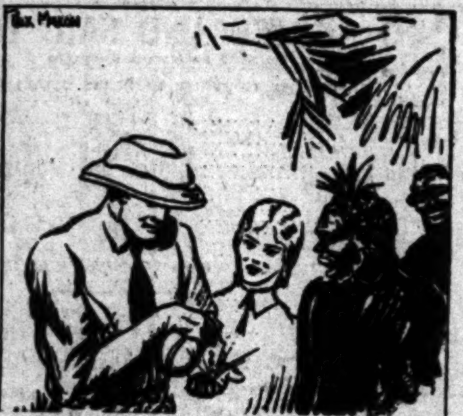
Months had passed. The labor of the Waziri and the gold of Opar had rebuilt and refurnished the wasted homestead of the Greystokes. Once more the simple life of the great African farm went on as it had before the coming of the Belgian and the Arab. Forgotten were the sorrows and dangers of yesterday. For the first time in months Lord Greystoke felt that he might indulge in a holiday, and so a great hunt was organized that the faithful laborers might feast in celebration of the completion of their work.



In itself the hunt was a success, and ten days later a well-laden safari took up its return march toward the Waziri plain. Lord and Lady Greystoke with Basuli and Mugambi rode together at the head of the column, laughing and talking together about the coming feast. Jane Clayton's horse shied suddenly at an object half hidden in the long grasses of an open space in the jungle. Tarzan's keen eyes sought quickly for the reason. "What's this!" he cried, swinging from his saddle. A moment later the four were grouped about a human skull and a litter of whitened bones.



Tarzan stooped and lifted a leathern pouch from the grisly relics of a man. The hard outlines of the contents brought an exclamation of surprise to his lips. "The jewels of Opar," he cried, holding his pouch aloft, and, pointing to the bones at his feet, "all that remains of Werper, the Belgian." Mugambi laughed. "Look within, Bwana," he cried, "and you will see what are the jewels of Opar— you will see what the Belgian gave his life for," and the black laughed aloud.



"Why do you laugh?" asked Tarzan. "Because," replied Mugambi, "I filled the Belgian's pouch with river gravel before I escaped from the Abyssinians' camp. I brought away the real jewels. That they were afterward stolen from me is my shame and disgrace. But, anyway, the Belgian lost them. Tarzan had untied the thong. The contents trickled forth into his palm, a stream of brilliant, scintillating gems. "The jewels of Opar," cried Tarzan. "But how did Werper come by them again?" None could answer. Both Chulk and Werper were dead and no other knew.

"Tarzan and the Lost Empire" starts Monday. Thrills, mystery, intrigue. Tarzan at his best. Don't miss it.

COYOTE PROVES HE'S SILVER FOX

Terrance Man Shoots Animal Robbing Hen Roost and Wife Gets Neckpiece

TORRANCE, July 11.—A sleek little animal shot by Arthur Hodge of this place as a coyote furnished Mrs. Hodge with a handsome neckpiece when it was determined that the intruder was not a coyote but a silver fox. The fox had been making depredations upon the Hodge family chicken pens and had evidently escaped from some fox farm. Value of the pelt has been estimated at $250.

COLORADO STREET IN CARNIVAL

Pasadena Will Celebrate Tonight Completion of Costly Widening Project

PASADENA, July 11.—Completion of the $3,000,000 West Colorado-street widening project will be celebrated tomorrow night with a street carnival and program of speeches by Joseph Scott, Los Angeles attorney; R. L. Daugherty, chairman of the Board of City Directors; City Manager R. V. Orbison, and other civic leaders. The formal program will be staged on Colorado street, between Fair Oaks avenue and De Lacy street, and will be followed by street dancing.

Projected more than twenty years ago to remove the traffic "bottle neck" on this city's principal business thoroughfare between Broadway and Orange Grove avenue, countless obstacles consisting of legal red tape and unprecedented engineering problems finally have been overcome.

Colorado street now measures approximately 100 feet from curb to curb and its illumination is asserted to be the finest of any similar street in Southern California.

As the line of march of the world famous Tournament of Roses parade is along Colorado street, 2000 cocos plumosa palms are now being planted along the sidewalks with a view to framing the parade with added natural beauty.

In order to cut fifteen feet off the building lines on the north and south sides of the street, it was necessary to slice the fronts from more than 100 business structures. In some instances, the entire building was torn down and a new structure erected, but in the majority of cases the front was cut off and rebuilt in line with a definite architectural plan.

Youth Says No Kick in Rescue

SANTA BARBARA, July 11.—It is one thing to save a man and another to be disappointed after it is all over. Billy Stafford, 18-year-old son of William F. Stafford, New York financier, is disappointed. He, with Billy Gilchrist, a local lad, heard cries for help off the Biltmore beach here today. A man was drowning. They plunged into the surf and pulled the distressed person to safety.

"There was nothing to it," commented Stafford, who admitted this was his first water rescue. "The fellow didn't struggle and I didn't get to hit him on the chin like it says to do in all these life-saving books."

Grunioneers Busy on Orange County Beaches

NEWPORT BEACH, July 11.—Hundreds of campers, tourists and pleasure-seekers built camp fires all along the Orange county coast from San Clemente north to Seal Beach last night and scampered on the beaches catching the shiny, shimmying little grunion tossed in by the waves at high tide.

The grunion season was closed until last night. Previous years there was no ban on the grunioneer catching all of the fish that he wanted to or could, but this year the fish were protected by the law. It is reported that the grunion will run Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday nights. On Saturday the fish should appear at 9:50 p.m., Sunday at 10:21 and Monday at 10:52 p.m.

ANDMOTHER LOSES BABY

Court Drama Seen at Alhambra When Mother Wins Custody of Little Girl

July 11.—In a strange court drama today a mother's triumphant, and a grandmother lost her fight to re- 18-months-old baby, Louise Elizabeth Fields.

S. Far- ing," the mother tearfully explained to the judge. "I don't blame her for loving Louise Elizabeth. It is true she has bought clothes for the baby and paid doctor's bills, but we never asked her to. I want my baby."

"I have no other recourse than to give the baby to its mother," was the court's decision. Mrs. Gannon's face paled. She pleaded that she be allowed to go to jail and keep the baby with her.

Before handing the child into the arms of the police matron to give it to the mother, Mrs. Gannon removed its bonnet and silk coat and murmured that she wanted to keep them always.

Now all is happy at the Fields's home at 9 West Ramona Boulevard. The father, Ralph Fields, is a grocery clerk.

TEUTONIC LOVE PROVES ROUGH

Maid from Fatherland Turns Down Eager Swain

He Then Binds and Gags Her in Orange Couple's Home

Police Seek Him for Murder Attempt and Robbery

ORANGE, July 11.—Police today sought Adolph Becker, 24-year-old German whom they accuse of attempting to kill Louise Gomer, 22, maid in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Loescher, 910 East Chapman avenue. The young German swain, whose love took him halfway around the world, is accused of burglary and attempt to commit murder.

The girl had come from Germany last December as maid at the Loescher home. In March Becker arrived in this country, apparently following her. Neither of them can speak English. Becker, however, according to officers, managed to find her, and called upon her last Saturday evening begging her to marry him, but she refused.

Wednesday night he returned stealthily, took a screwdriver and ax from the Loescher garage and pried open the window to the girl's bedroom. The Loescher family had gone for the evening, leaving the girl at home. She was not in sight when they returned and they supposed she had retired. In the morning, when she did not appear, they investigated and found her on her bed, an oily rag tied across her mouth, which was burned as if by some fluid, chloroform being suspected.

The girl, after being revived, said that Becker had forced his way into her room, demanded that she marry him, and when she persisted in her refusal, threatened her with a pistol and forced her to drink from a bottle he produced and which rendered her unconscious.

NAUD GIRL RETURNS TO HER HOME

Young Woman Who Left Home Early in Month Before District Attorney

SAN DIEGO, July 11. — Miss Genevieve Naud, 17-year-old State College student and mother of a month-old child, who has been sought throughout Southern California since the 3rd inst., returned to this city today.

She and her mother reported at Central Police Station and later went into conference with Detective Captain Paul Hayes and Dist.-Atty. Stephen Connell. The session apparently ended in disagreement as to possible statutory charges developing from the case. Mrs. Naud intimated that they had been forbidden to talk about the matter to anyone but police.

Mother love for her child, born in a local hospital June 7, according to police, caused the girl to come out of hiding, after she had been assured over the telephone by her mother that the infant would not be taken away from her nor offered for adoption.

Potato Crop in Chino District in Good Yield

CHINO, July 11.—By the close of July, the potato shipping season in this district will be virtually complete, according to estimate of C. C. Delphey, horticultural inspector for Chino Valley.

Approximately 150 carloads of potatoes will have been shipped from here by the close of the month.

According to Delphey the average yield of the 1300 acres of potatoes in the district is considerably greater than last year. The present shipping season started June 6. Total seasonal shipments last year were 109 carloads, not including the automobile truck traffic, which is more difficult to check accurately.

Delphey reports some of the fields have been running with yields as high as 175 sacks of No. 1 grade per acre. Potato growers hope to do well this season, as the market has shown a better tone recently.

Two Men Die When Scaffold in Mine Breaks

SAN BERNARDINO., July 11.—A scaffold in the Vanderbilt mine at Ivanpah. On the desert, collapsed and plunged B. F. Chapman, 55 years of age, and Sam Majacic, 26, to their death, according to a report to the Coroner today. The men fell 300 feet. Chapman's family lives at Inglewood. Majacic was formerly of Barbarton, O.

Derrick Gives and Man Hurt

UPLAND, July 11.—Too much strain on a high wooden derrick caused the top of the structure to fly off, and consequently Lafe Hall, 279 First avenue, is a patient at San Antonio Community Hospital.

Hall was assisting in pulling a pump from the well. The weight was too great for the derrick. The falling top struck Hall in the left leg, causing a fracture. Other severe injuries were also sustained.

BISHOP HAS GOLDEN WEDDING

United Brethren Leader Now Retired

Bishop Emeritus William M. Bell and Mrs. Bell

PUENTE, July 11.—"I believe profoundly in marriage as a sacred institution of companionship between man and woman, and I hereby recommend it to all young men and women as a safe step toward progress," was the declaration made by Bishop William Melvin Bell at his country home near here, where he and Mrs. Bell celebrated their golden wedding anniversary today.

The celebration also served as a house warming somewhat, as the Bells have just moved into their new home, a two-story structure of Spanish architecture which is set among towering oak trees on Otterbein avenue, south of Valley Boulevard.

Having exchanged their vows in a small country church situated in Mearing Settlement, Whitney county, Indiana, the birthplace of both, on a hot Sunday afternoon, July 11, 1880, the happy young couple a week later left for California on an emigrant train, which was a combined affair of passenger coaches and freight cars, and ten days later landed in Sacramento. That fall the young groom was assigned a pastorate in Tulare and Hanford during a conference of the United Brethren in Christ.

MADE BISHOP IN 1905

After a year in California, the pastor with his wife returned to La Grange, Ind., where he again assumed the charge he left upon leaving for the Pacific Coast. The Bell family later moved to Dayton, O., national headquarters of the United Brethren in Christ denomination, where the young minister served as mission secretary for twelve years, and in 1905 was elected as bishop and sent to California to take charge of the Pacific Coast district. After residing in Berkeley for three years, the Bells moved to Los Angeles, where they built their home and lived for twelve years before Bishop Bell received his assignment in the East, where he took over a new and larger district, making his headquarters in Harrisburg, Pa.

After putting the best years of his life into his work, which left him an abundance of knowledge and faith, but broken in health, Bishop Bell in May, 1929, at the general conference held in Lancaster, Pa., tendered his resignation and has since been retired, with the honorary title of bishop emeritus.

During the world's fair at San Francisco, Bishop Bell was elected president of the world's social progress council, an office which he yet holds, and has served as president of State sunday-school associations both in Indiana and California.

Mrs. Bell, a small woman with reddish gold hair and intense blue eyes, who had sat quietly listening to her husband, then assumed her part of the conversation by telling of her family.

"I am the mother of seven children, six of them are living," she proudly related, "and I am happy that they are studiously inclined like their father."

DAUGHTER FOLLOWS FATHER

"My daughter, Miss Alice Bell of Dayton, O., who is with us for the celebration, has followed in the direct footsteps of her father and is now serving as general secretary and treasurer of the Women's Missionary Society, which also has its headquarters in Dayton.

"A son, Clair Hayden Bell, is professor of German at the University of California at Berkeley, and two daughters, Mrs. Geneva Binkley and Mrs. Edna Parks of Bell, are both teachers, the former at Torrance and the latter in the grammar school in Bell.

"William Melvin Bell, Jr., is principal of the grammar schools in Torrance, and has presented his father and mother with William Melvin Bell III. He also has a daughter, Virginia. Another daughter, Mrs. Alta Turvene, lives in Dayton, and she also has two children, Martha Irene and John Kenneth."

The apple of her grandmother's eye is Phyllis Patricia Parks, who has a brother, Melvin Jerome, and the seventh grandchild is Barbara Queen, daughter of Prof. Bell of Berkeley.

HOME FIRED AND OWNER VANISHES

Mental Derangement Held Responsible for Actions of Calexico Rancher

CALEXICO, July 11.—Mental derangement brought by unpaid debts and marital troubles are believed to have resulted in the disappearance of John J. Jackson, 40-year-old farmer, four miles west of this city last night, after he had set fire to his home and ranch buildings. Jackson returned to the ranch early last evening, after a visit to Calexico, where he was heard to make threats to the effect he would "do something that would send me to the pen for twenty years."

At 9 o'clock in the evening his brother, W. A. Jackson, who is a partner in the operation of the farm, discovered the outbuildings and sheds in flames. The two brothers, with the aid of neighbors, cleared away a fire-break to prevent the spread of the flames to the house, and then started walking to town. Their automobile had been burned. According to the brother, John Jackson turned back after going a short distance, and said he would watch the property. W. A. Jackson returned later in the night, and found the home in ashes and his brother missing.

Search through the ruins failed to disclose any evidence that the missing man had been burned. Officers who investigated the fire today believe that John Jackson started the fire and then disappeared. Neighbors reported that the missing man had been having frequent quarrels with his wife recently, and that she left him last Wednesday, and filed action for divorce on grounds of cruelty. She stated today that her husband had made threats against her life and asked the police for protection. She fears her husband will return and kill her.

The missing man is known to be deeply in debt, and in talking over his affairs with one of his creditors in Calexico late yesterday, appeared to be mentally unbalanced, according to the police.

The fire loss is estimated at $14,000 with only a small amount of insurance.

MOVE FOR RECALL FAILS

Petitions Seeking Removal of Oceanside Mayor and Councilman Held Insufficient

OCEANSIDE, July 11.—Petitions for recall of Mayor E. W. Walsh and Councilman H. D. Brodie, submitted to the City Council Wednesday night, were referred back to the circulators today as legally insufficient, although one bore enough verified signatures to meet that requirement.

The Walsh petition bore 337 names, of which 270 were verified by City Clerk John Landes, being barely enough to qualify the petition. The Brodie petition bore 331 names, out of which 266 passed a check with registration records.

Both were rejected, however, because the law requires that the signers first state their occupations and only twelve on both petitions had fulfilled this requirement.

The documents were based upon a charge that the two officials have "assumed an arbitrary and dictatorial attitude against the citizens and have used bad judgment in the management of city affairs." It was estimated that two-thirds of the signers were women.

Mayor Walsh and Brodie announced that they will resign if two qualified substitutes are offered to fill their places, also that they will vote for a recall election at any time that a legally sufficient petition is submitted.

FAKE EYE DOCTORS DUPE PAIR

Men Saying They Had Been Sent by Oculist in Los Angeles to Recheck Highgrove Woman's Sight Charge $800 for Two Drops of "Radium"

RIVERSIDE, July 11.—State and county authorities launched an investigation into one of the strangest examples of the "confidence game" to come to light here in years—the duping of a Highgrove couple by a pair of asserted fake eye doctors, who charged $800 for two drops of "radium" placed in an affected eye of Mrs. Ben Stone.

Mrs. Stone, who had had trouble with her eyes, visited an oculist in Los Angeles and returned to her home in Highgrove. That was about two months ago. Wednesday two men drove up to the Stone home and announced they had been sent out by the Los Angeles oculist to make a recheck of Mrs. Stone's eyes. One of the men began meticulous examination of the woman's eye, and when finished, looked troubled. The left eye was in serious condition! She faced blindness, insanity, and what not.

Unless she was rushed to San Francisco for an operation, or had "radium" dropped in the eye, which the "doctor" said was suffering from a cataract, she would probably lose her sight and her mind, too.

Where could she get this radium? Well, the other gentleman, "Dr. Pierce," the "son of Dr. Pierce—oh, you surely must know him!"—he gave those treatments. But Dr. Pierce—he was sorely troubled. He was licensed to practice only in New York State, but wouldn't he please help the lady in her serious trouble? Yes, he would—after much persuasion. He dived into his bag and came up with an eye-dropper and "the precious" fluid. One drop was placed in the diseased eye. Another examination followed. The eye needed one more drop of the "radium." Surely they knew how costly radium is? The second drop went in. The charge — $812.50. No, they couldn't take Stone's check. They did take his cash when he returned from the bank. The extra $12.50 was for "professional services." They took their departure after giving advice as to the care of the afflicted optic.

Not until hours later did it begin to dawn upon the victims that the two men might not be what they professed to be. Authorities expressed the belief the liquid was nothing more than belladonna, dilating the eye and giving the illusion of more light. The cost would be a few cents.

LIGHTS FESTIVAL TONIGHT

Newport Bay Hive of Activity as Craft of Various Types Are Decorated for Annual Aquatic Event

NEWPORT BEACH, July 11.—Newport Bay is a hive of activity today as many floats and boats of all sizes are being decorated and lighted for the twelfth annual Tournament of Lights, the most brilliant spectacle ever staged in the harbor district.

Among the hundreds of boats that will parade the harbor tomorrow evening between the hours of 8 and 10 o'clock are the recent entries as announced by W. L. Jordan, chairman of the entries committee.

Final arrangements completed by H. L. Sherman, general chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee, for the appearance of the Goodyear dirigible Volunteer, the Richfield Oil Company's Neon-lighted plane and four army antiaircraft searchlights from Fort MacArthur.

The new features, together with the new entries in the brilliant aquatic parade, and the music presented by means of radio, promise to make the 1930 "Lights" festival the most outstanding in the history of the event.

Thousands will witness the pageant from all shores of the bay, and seats in well-located buildings past which the procession will wend its way were said to be selling at a premium. Members of the City Council and directors of the Chamber of Commerce and their wives will view it from the Casino Roof Ballroom, where there will be dancing all evening.

Music from the Rendezvous Ballroom will be broadcast by remote control by station KGER, Long Beach, to three sets on floats in the parade between 8 and 10 p.m. Special programs typical of the occasion and of Newport Bay will be given at both ballrooms.

Sherman has arranged with W. F. Crocker, head of the fire and life guard departments, to have a patrol follow the parade. Several life guards in boats equipped with fire-fighting apparatus and life belts will escort the parade about the bay.

Many beautiful trophies are offered for winning boats and floats in the twelfth annual Tournament of Lights.

POLICEMAN INJURED BY FIRE TRUCK

Apparatus on Way to Santa Barbara Theater Blaze Hits Patrolman

SANTA BARBARA, July 11.—Fire in the Mission Theater last evening resulted in serious injury to Fred P. Hays, patrolman, and considerable damage from water to the scenery and stage fittings for the theater. The evening performance had ended shortly before the fire broke out and no one was in the theater.

Hayes was struck in the left temple by the end of a ladder on the hook and ladder truck as the vehicle made the turn from West Cota street into State street. He sustained a possible fractured skull and a fractured right wrist.

The fire in the theater originated in the ventilating fan room in the rear of the building over the stage, as near as fire department officers were able to determine. It was believed that the fan became overheated. Flames broke through the roof and then through the scenery loft projecting above the main roof. The automatic sprinkling system acted as a check and the blaze was held to the tar-paper roof and the side of the scenery loft. It was quickly extinguished when two streams of water were played on it by firemen.

Ten Injured in Auto Crash at Beach Resort

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 11. Ten persons were injured last night when two heavy machines crashed at the intersection near the Texaco Tank Farm, two miles east of here. Arthur M. Anderson, superintendent of the Holly Oil Company and member of the Union High School Board of Education, passenger in the car driven by his 17-year-old son, Homer, suffered a wrenched back, injured hip, cuts on head and body and possible fractures of the ribs.

In the other machine were nine persons, four adults and five small children. Mrs. Weinheimer, wife of R. V. Weinheimer of Ocean View, driver of the car, and their 6-months'-old baby were thrown out, the mother receiving a severe gash across the forehead and head and body bruises, and the baby bruises on the head. The husband and two smaller children were cut and bruised. C. W. Lillibridge of Anaheim suffered a bruised hip, cuts and bruises on face and body, his wife, a broken collarbone and body bruises; the two children were cut and bruised also. All were treated at the Emergency Hospital by Dr. Ralph E. Hawes. Both cars were badly damaged.

BOY STRUCK BY TRUCK AT POMONA BADLY HURT

POMONA, July 11.—Dick Mulford, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mulford, 590 Laurel street, is in a critical condition at the Pomona Community Hospital, the result of having been struck down by a city-owned truck driven by John Hite, 765 East Grand avenue, about noon today.

The boy was struck while running across Huntington Boulevard a block south of Roosevelt school. He was rushed to the hospital where it was found his left leg was broken, and that he sustained possible skull fractures. X-rays are to be taken in an effort to determine the seriousness of his head injuries.

Hite, the truck driver, reported that the lad presumably failed to notice the truck and ran directly in front of the vehicle before the driver could bring it to a stop.

DANGEROUS CURVE IN HIGHWAY ELIMINATED

SAN FERNANDO, July 11.—The long-awaited improvement at the corner of North Maclay avenue and Foothill Boulevard was started this week by the engineering department of the city of Los Angeles. North Maclay will be widened and paved from the local city limit to Foothill Boulevard and the curve from North Maclay on to Foothill will be eliminated and a turn, approaching a right angle, will be substituted. The sharp curve has been a menace to motorists, as two persons have been killed and several injured at this point when cars took the curve at excessive speeds, crashing into a group of trees beside the pavement. These trees are being removed and the intervening space will be leveled and paved. The work will be completed within the next few weeks.

HANSULD HEADS HARBORS MEN

His City, Vancouver, B.C., Gets Next Convention

Executive Secretary Plan Vetoed at San Diego

Pacific and Far East Ports Body Ends Sessions

SAN DIEGO, July 11.—Selecting Vancouver, B. C., as the site of their 1930 convention, and electing B. George Hansuld of that city president for the coming year, the Association of Pacific and Far East Ports this morning wound up the business sessions of their conclave at El Cortez Hotel. Hansuld, a Vancouver port commissioner, is also a member of his city's planning commission. It is in accordance with established association precedent that the chief executive for any year shall always be a resident of the city where the next convention is to be held.

Definitely vetoing a move to expand the activities of the association, committeemen voted unanimously to strike from the newly adopted by-laws a provision for the position of executive secretary carrying a substantial salary and necessarily increasing the expense of membership upon port cities. While it was the sense of the meeting that eventual expansion was to be favored, the comprehensive plan contemplating membership by Latin-American, Chinese, Japanese and South Pacific ports, no increase in the current budget was approved.

On a close vote the convention resolved to go on record as favoring dispersion of ocean mail contracts approving a competitive, as opposed to a monopolistic organization, of mail contracts for steamship companies.

Other officers elected were C. George Lamping, Seattle, and Ralph T. Fisher, Oakland, as vice-presidents, with K. J. Burns, general superintendent of the port of Vancouver, winning the post of secretary-treasurer. Directors for the coming year are: F. Marvin, Tacoma; S. W. Lawrence, Portland; C. L. Tilden, San Francisco; Burt Edwards, Los Angeles; Frank H. Lamb, Gray's Harbor; B. F. Stone, Astoria; F. R. Brown, Vancouver, Wash.; Thomas T. Aldwell, Port Angeles; L. L. Goodrick, Longview; M. A. Graham, San Diego; Nels Weborg, Everett. The executive committee was reduced in number from five to three.

San Fernando Curfew Siren to Toot Louder

SAN FERNANDO, July 11.—For years San Fernando has had a curfew whistle, which, when it blows each night at 9 o'clock, warns the early-to-bed ones that it is time to wriggle into the alfalfa. Another part of the population—and much the greater—complains that the whistle is a nuisance of disturbance. A discussion whether or not the curfew whistle should be abolished has just terminated. The early-to-bed ones won the argument.

One part of the protest was that the siren whistle was not high enough up in the air to be heard all over town. This is now to be corrected. The City Council last night agreed to move the siren from the roof of the fire station to the top of the hose-drying tower, where from now on each toot will have a wave length about three times longer and louder than heretofore. From the greater elevation the siren can be heard for a radius of several miles, whether all the citizenry likes it or not.

"The noise of the whistle will not be disturbing to the 9 o'clock folks," Mayor H. C. Maclay said today, "because they will be abed and sound asleep. The rest of the crowd usually is making so much whoopee between 9 p.m. and midnight that a toot of a whistle will be swallowed up in the melee."

TREFZ WILL ADDRESS FORUM OF CHAMBER

HERMOSA BEACH, July 11.—Edward F. Trefz has been secured as the speaker for the annual forum dinner of the Chamber of Commerce, which will be held at the Masonic clubrooms next Tuesday. John A. Glass will be installed as president, receiving the gavel from the retiring president, W. L. Williams. C. H. Salinas is program chairman and has arranged entertainment for the event.

HUGE POPULATION SIGHTED

C. A. Gummere Says Los Angeles to Have 3,000,000 Residents Soon, in Addressing Redondo Group

REDONDO BEACH, July 11.—In a well-attended dinner meeting new officers of the Chamber of Commerce were formally installed last night. The session, the annual membership gathering of the organization, was presided over by C. J. Funk as toastmaster with C. A. Gummere of Long Beach as the principal speaker. Mayor May B. Hopkins gave the address of welcome and a musical program was presented by Charles Fritz, tenor; Myrna Holtz, contralto; Mrs. Raymond Dishman, accompanist, and Al Masam, piano-accordion.

In his address upon "The Greatest Competition in the World" Gummere referred to the competition between neighboring communities of approximately the same size as outranking in importance that carried on between merchandising lines or industries. The speaker appealed for more co-operation in communities for civic betterment. He emphasized the fact that the mere purchase or rental of a home in a community does not constitute citizenship, a quality measured solely by the capacity of the resident for assisting in the upbuilding of that community.

He quoted the ratio of lifters in each community as two to each eight draggers, and suggested an improvement of that ratio. Projected increase of the population of Los Angeles to 3,000,000 in a very few years gives neighboring localities an opportunity to absorb from that increase, he said, picturing a vast inhabited area from the mountains to the sea.

C. W. Koiner was reinstalled as president and other officers are: B. G. Lewis, vice-president; Glenn Moore, treasurer; James Dalton, secretary, and Miss Artinsa Cummings, assistant secretary.

Directors are T. R. Quinn, T. A. Gould, C. J. Schaeffer, D. S. Hays, W. E. Oliver, Frank Fleischman, Glen Moor, C. J. Funk, W. E. Crowder, G. R. Fuller, George Evans, Victor Varro, R. E. Donovan, M. E. McIntosh, B. G. Lewis, Edward F. Manners, C. W. Koiner, W. T. Thompson and H. C. Froude.

TRANSAMERICA TELLS STATUS

Officers Will Recommend Dividend Cut

Book Value of Stock Set at $28.75 Per Share

Flood of Selling Depresses Stock to New Low

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11. (Exclusive)—The book value of Transamerica stock is $28.75 per share.

Officers of the company will recommend to directors that the October quarterly dividend be 25 cents a share instead of the 40-cent rate heretofore paid.

It is the plan of Transamerica to not only continue expending in the banking field, but to acquire large holdings in important industries.

These are the highlights of a comprehensive statement which will be mailed to the 185,000 Transamerica stockholders. The report prepared by officials of the corporation and ratified by the directors discloses the ramified financial, commercial and industrial holdings in the United States and abroad, with a balance sheet and consolidated income account covering the 1929 operations of the company's associated institutions.

STOCK HITS BOTTOM

More than 200,000 shares of Transamerica, approaching a market valuation of $5,000,000, crossed the stock exchanges yesterday in one of the severest bear attacks ever directed on a Pacific Coast security. The stock tumbled to a bottom price of 22 in San Francisco and 22 1-8 in Los Angeles to record a loss of more than 4 1-2 points which culminated an almost consistent decline for the past few days.

Practically all of this trading originated on the Pacific Slope. The stock last February sold as high as 47 3-8. On September 26, 1929, the issue sold for 67 1-8.

Transamerica Corporation's assets, appearing on the books of the corporation, $1,107,116,000 in December 31, consists particularly of bank holdings.

PROFITS TOLD

Of the consolidated net profits of $67,316,000 for 1929, representing approximately $3 per share on the stock in the hands of the public on December 31, about $1 came from interest, dividends and other current resources and $2 from profits on underwritings, sales of securities, etc.

In reference to the book value of the stock, which is above the present market price, the report says:

"An examination of the relationship between market prices and asset values of the shares of a large number of banks throughout the country indicate that the market value of shares of profitable banks—even at present abnormal prices—is more often above than below twice the amount of the net tangible assets underlying the shares.

"Taking twice the asset value of Transamerica's investment at December 31, in its four principal controlled banks, appraising marketable securities at market value on December 31, valuing other subsidiaries at their net asset value December 31 without any allowance for goodwill and adding the corporation's cash and reserve, it gives an aggregate of approximately $638,000,000, or about $28.75 per share.

"During the past year it has not been uncommon for the stock of many banks to sell four or five times the underlying tangible asset values applicable to such shares, as compared with the two-for-one ratio in the above calculation."

Upon the plan of reducing the October quarterly dividend from 40 cents to 25 cents, the report of the officials states:

DIVIDEND RATING STATED

"It would be lacking in ordinary business prudence to ignore the fact that the current market condition generally prevailing and the economic situation make it unreasonable to expect the corporation, for the immediate future, to anticipate the considerable earnings realized during the past several years from the purchase and sale of securities.

"Accordingly, the management will recommend to the board of directors that the October quarterly dividend be 25 cents a share, believing that a conservative dividend policy is in the best interest of the corporation and its stockholders.

"It is the conviction of the management that the building up of a strong holding company in control of strategically situated banks in America and abroad gives promise of large future returns."

On the 25th inst. the corporation will pay to stockholders the regular 40-cent per share dividend. At the same time there will be distributed an extra stock dividend of 3 per cent, which was declared in March. This latter follows similar extra stock dividends of 1 per cent on January, 1930, 1 per cent in October, 1929, and 150 per cent in September, 1929.

"It is without reservation that I can express the utmost faith in the future of Transamerica. I look forward to the confidence and cooperation of the stockholders," Elisha Walker, chairman of the board, declared.

OPERATIONS IN WOOL AT LOW LEVEL

Review Reports Week on Market Dull With Prices Unchanged

BOSTON, July 11. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow:

The week has been very dull in the wool market, although some improvement is noted toward the end of the week. Prices are hardly changed. In the West buying operations are dwindling. The outlook in the piece-goods market is considered hopeful but no great improvement is expected much before September.

There is a slight improvement recorded at the London colonial sales since the opening, but Bradford has not benefited by this improvement at all; in fact, prices there appear slightly easier. There is little change in the values in Australia or the other primary markets.

Mohair is quiet and without quotable change.

The rail and water shipments of wool from Boston, according to the same authority from January 1, 1930, to July 10, 1930, inclusive, were 69,570,500 pounds against 94,897,000 pounds for the same period last year. The receipts from January 1, 1930, to July 10, 1930, inclusive, were 173,816,212 pounds against 169,238,285 pounds for the same period last year.

REINSURANCE INCOME UP

International Corporation Continues Gains; Stock Offering Scheduled Soon

BY K. W. SMITH

International Re-Insurance Corporation in its forthcoming report on operations for the first half of this year will show further substantial gains with gross income for the period reaching $2,721,000, it was learned yesterday from Carl M. Hansen, president, who stated that the excess of income over disbursements for the six months will run well ahead of $1,000,000.

Revising previous estimates of $5,500,000 to $6,000,000 gross income for the entire year 1930, the insurance executive said that the corporation will show better than $6,000,000.

As soon as conditions are favorable, additional stock will be issued in the form of an offering first to stockholders. Out of an increase of 100,000 shares in authorized capital made last year, the company has 50,000 shares to issue. In its previous offering to stockholders 50,000 shares were subscribed by the stockholders at $40 per share on the basis of one new share for each two shares held. The stock is on an annual dividend basis of $2.

RECORD GROWTH

Since beginning operations June 6, 1928, this Los Angeles organization has made a phenomenal record, and today has the largest capital structure of any casualty and surety reinsurance company in the world and at the present rate is writing the largest volume of any casualty and surety reinsurance company.

An indication of the remarkable growth the corporation has enjoyed is shown in the fact that in the twenty-three months of operation to May 31, last, gross assets increased from $3,000,000 to $8,195,135, a record unequaled by an institution of this nature, according to Mr. Hansen, who is recognized as an outstanding authority in America on casualty and surety reinsurance.

SCOPE OF BUSINESS

Limiting itself to casualty and surety reinsurance, including workmen's compensation, automobile, public liability, surety and fidelity bonds and all other miscellaneous lines of reinsurance excepting life, fire and marine, the company's business is well diversified with approximately 30 per cent being obtained in this State and the remainder from all over the United States, England, Europe and Central America. It participates with Associated Reinsurance, Ltd., of London, in about 100 foreign reinsurance treaties.

Mr. Hansen received his early training in the insurance business on the Pacific Coast, going east in 1912 to develop a rating system for compensation and liability insurance for the members of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, then known as the National Workmen's Compensation Service Bureau. He was instrumental in the organization of the American Re-Insurance Company in 1917, the first American company to do a reinsurance business in casualty and surety lines only.

Following the sale of this company, Mr. Hansen purchased and reorganized the General Re-Insurance Corporation, which later was acquired by banking interests. Returning to the Pacific Coast he organized International Re-Insurance Corporation with the backing of prominent eastern bankers and insurance officials together with Los Angeles bankers and interests connected with the Pacific Mutual group.

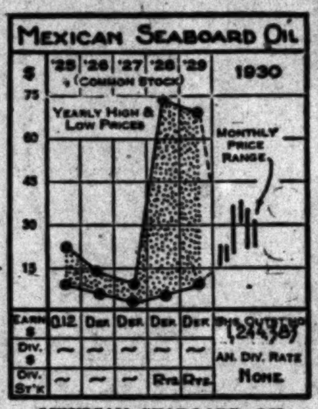
WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK



MEXICAN SEABOARD OIL

Either directly or through subsidiaries, Mexican Seaboard Oil controls an extensive acreage of oil and natural gas lands in Mexico, Venezuela, Texas and California. A large portion of the valuable natural gas fields in California is under the control of the company and a contract with Pacific Gas and Electric to supply the San Francisco area insures a ready market for the production of these fields. The company is primarily a producing unit in the petroleum industry — sale of its products being effected by long-term contracts with large refiners and public utilities.

The chronic overproduction of crude oil in the past few years has adversely affected operations and deficits have been reported in each year since 1924. In the face of unfavorable conditions within the industry, the management is making considerable progress. For the year 1929 a deficit of only $.02 a share was reported. This compares very well with $1.34 loss per share in 1928. Continuing its improvement into the first quarter of the current year, the company reported per share earnings of $.23 for the period as against a sizable deficit a year ago. During 1929 very great improvement was made in the balance-sheet position. At the end of 1928 current liabilities exceeded assets by more than $1,525,000 while latest balance sheet shows a net working capital of $1,355,758 a current ratio of 2.5 to 1, $1,829,822 in cash alone and no funded debt.

Locomotive Sale Pace Slackening

NEW YORK, July 11.—With an absence of new business at present locomotive manufacturers face prospects of unsatisfactory operations for second half of this year. During June no domestic orders were allotted although a little foreign business was placed with American manufacturers and their subsidiaries. Domestic business continues slack and there is little prospect of any material improvement this year.

Department of Commerce calculates shipments of locomotives for first half of this year at 419 against 319 in the same period last year. Railway Age estimates 269 locomotives were ordered in first half against 521 in the like period of 1929. Shipments manifestly have been increased at expense of backlogs.

Exporters Cut Copper Price

NEW YORK, July 11. (AP)—Copper Exporters, Inc., today reduced the export price of copper 1-2 cent to 11.80 cents a pound, c.i.f. European base ports.

UNION GASOLINE PRODUCTION CUT

Average for 1929 Reduced by About 25 Per Cent

Disposal of Surplus Stocks Sought by Action

Program to Continue During Remainder of 1930

Union Oil Company has cut its runs of gasoline crude to the stills approximately 25 per cent below the average runs to the stills during 1929 as a further move to reduce stocks of gasoline on hand and to confine its refinery output to estimated requirements for the remainder of 1930, it was made known yesterday by W. L. Stewart, Jr., vice-president in charge of manufacturing.

This drastic cut was started the first of July when the gasoline crude runs to the stills of all of the company's refineries were reduced to 73,000 barrels, it was revealed.

At the present time the runs have been lowered to 65,000 barrels a day, and according to Mr. Stewart it is planned to limit the runs to that figure for the remainder of the year.

In making this announcement, Mr. Stewart pointed out that the company has been a leader in California in advocating the curtailment of production of crude oil and the reduction of stocks of gasoline, and that the recent curtailment of refinery gasoline crude runs is directly in line with this policy.

Regarding press dispatches from Shanghai, China, yesterday on the plans of the Union Oil Company to enter the oriental retail market on a large scale, officials of the company here stated that representatives of the company, including J.B. Arthur, manager of asphalt and fuel oil sales, and Arthur Stewart, were in the Orient making a survey for the company.

Decision as to the extent of the Union Oil Company's expansion in the oriental market will be made after the representatives have submitted their report on their return from the Orient, it was said.

HOPEFUL ECONOMIC STRAW

Substantial Gain in Deposits of New York Savings Banks Since January 1 Good Omen

By JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, July 11.—The growth in savings deposits in New York City for the six months which ended June 30, is a hopeful sign.

On that date Manhattan savings banks reported savings deposits of $2,196,000,000, a gain of $5,406,000 over the same period of 1929, when a loss of $2,911,000 in deposits was reported.

In the Bronx, for the same date, four savings banks reported $122,937,000, a gain of $357,000 for the first six months.

Thousands of new depositors are opening savings accounts in the savings banks every week. Why?

"People are more careful with their money now," said John J. Pulleyn, president of the Immigrant Industrial Savings Bank. "They are going along cheerfully putting their reserves in savings banks, showing prudence rather than fear."

Another reason attributed by this banker to the increase is the low rate paid on commercial deposits—1½ to 2 per cent—whereas 4 to 4½ per cent still rules in all the savings banks.

But the fact that the savings deposits are rising appears to many as a sign that the banks have turned the corner, and from now on deposits will show an upward tendency.

Recently Groucho Marx of the Marx Brothers, in a communication to the writer, asking for information about a certain investment trust, said:

"I understand that only ten men in the world understand Einstein's theory of relativity. Well that's about twice as many as understand this investment trust business."

But the day of the complex involved stock juggling investment trust, with its concealed portfolio, is fast drawing to a close.

Today the United Founders' Corporation, one of the largest investment trusts in the United States, opens up its portfolio to the world. It gives the most exhaustive report of its securities that probably has ever been given by an American investment trust.

The list, a most impressive one, shows total investments at market quotations on May 31, last, of $286,924,000. Of this amount 67.616 per cent is invested in the United States; 7.423 per cent in the British commonwealth of nations; 17.076 per cent in continental Europe; 1.347 per cent in Japan and other Asiatic countries, and the balance is in cash.

The book value of the common shares of the corporation on May 31, eliminating all intercompany holdings, was $21.41 per share.

If intercompany holdings are not eliminated, the market value on May 31, last, was $27.74 a share.

The earnings for the six months ending May 31, per common share, on the average number of shares outstanding were 77 cents, while the equity per common share was computed at 18 cents.

The market today for United Founders common is not "plugged." It is not held up or artificial. The company itself is not buying its own stock. The common stock closed yesterday at $20 a share.

"While many investment companies, both in the United States and Great Britain, have not published in detail their investment holdings on the ground that competing companies might obtain the benefit, without expense, of the investments made upon the recommendation of an extensive statistical organization, the United Founders' Corporation decided to publish a complete list of its holdings to its stockholders following the practice recently adopted by the New York Stock Exchange," says President Louis H. Seagraves in his letter to stockholders.

There is a well-founded rumor that the next big step of United Founders' Corporation will be in the field of banking. But officials of the company yesterday refused to confirm or deny it.

Cities Service Issue Popular

CHICAGO, July 11. (Exclusive)—Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., and Harris Trust and Savings Bank as syndicate managers, today announced the purchase by Cities Service stockholders through the exercise of rights and withdrawals of debentures by members of an underwriting group and selling syndicate of more than $100,000,000 out of the issue of $118,115,600 recently offered stockholders and underwritten by a group headed by these houses.

More than 124,000 subscriptions were received from stockholders for an amount in excess of $48,000,000, or $5,000,000 more than previously announced.

Merger Report Refuted Here

Officials of the Sunset Pacific Oil Company denied yesterday that the company was considering a merger deal with Seaboard Oil and Refining Company of Seattle. No negotiations have been entered into or were contemplated, they stated.

The company is of the opinion that the basis for the recent report was the fact that Sunset has acquired some contracts with the Seaboard to supply independent dealers located in the Pacific Northwest.

Survey Reports National Trade Tone Unchanged

NEW YORK, July 11. (AP)—Dun's tomorrow will say: With demands continuing mainly restricted and price declines still predominating the essential characteristics of the general business situation are unaltered.

No significant change at the turn of the half-year had seemed likely, however, and the chief interest at present centers in the prospects for the period beyond the summer. The movements of recent months have not conformed with the optimistic views held in some quarters, the scope of the readjustment being wider than had been commonly anticipated, and there is more of a disposition now to appraise conditions with clearer recognition of the actual facts. Confidence in the longer outlook is supported by the operation of forces which are strengthening the basic structure, and prominent among these is the persistent trend toward a closer alignment between production and consumption.

As results of semiannual inventories are more fully disclosed an encouraging point is found in the relatively moderate stocks of goods in different instances, and the more favorable position of supplies is regarded as foreshadowing an ultimate resumption of buying on a large scale.

Weekly bank clearings, $8,201,854,000, a decline of 38.4 per cent from a year ago.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, July 11. (AP)—Early declines in cotton today were attributed to realizing or reselling by recent buyers influenced by relatively easy Liverpool cables and bearish statistical features.

The initial losses were just about recovered during the middle of the day, owing to reports of continued dry, hot weather in the South, but the advances met renewed realizing with the market making new low for the day during the afternoon. At 2 o'clock it was quiet and barely steady at net declines of about 6 to 12 points.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, July 11. (AP)—Prices of investment issues continued their upward climb in the listed bond market today, although some issues which have profited greatly from the demand this week failed to hold their gains. On the whole the advances and activity were less than yesterday, the banner day since last March. Trading started at a brisk pace but slowed down during the afternoon.

The investment demand, however, continued for high grade railroad, utility and foreign bonds, and the average for utility issues reached the highest point in three years. Stock privilege issues were hesitant after early strength and some recessions occurred as equity issues weakened. At the close convertible bonds were irregularly higher. Trading in United States government bonds was dull and lower prices were the rule.

Bank and institutional buying held prime corporation issues on their upward course, although some declines followed early gains. Atchison general 4s touched a new high and then sold off ¼ in thin trading. Union Pacific refunding 4s were strong, rising to a new 1930 high on a 1⅛-point gain.

A dozen or more rail issues established new high marks for the year. Among them were Chesapeake & Ohio 4½s, the New Great Northern 4¼s and St. Louis Southwestern 5s.

The Utilities as a group made the best showing of the day. American Telephone 5s and Public Service Electric and Gas 4½s were taken off the market at the highest prices of the year.

Foreign government issues were well bought, and British 5½s, Canadian 5s, French 7s, Japan 5½s, Norway 6s, sold at close to the highest levels on the year. Lautaro Nitrate warrant 6s soared 3⅞ points.

Liberty fourth 4¼s was the most active United States government issue and was steady. Liberty 3½s gained ½ of a point.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Intercoast Trading, influenced by the action on the senior board of its affiliate, Transamerica, held the center of interest on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday, as liquidating operations poured into the market to depress the stock more than 2 points to a new bottom at 11 5-8. The issue closed at 12 for a net loss of 1 3-4 after a turnover of 1800 shares.

The balance of the market continued to hold irregular with a curtailment of trading in the face of a generally apprehensive sentiment. Banca D'Italia, however, another Transamerica affiliate, turned suddenly active with sales of 1400 shares. The stock held firm to 10.

Pacific Indemnity and Southern California Gas preferred gained a point each to 37 and 103, respectively. Security Company units added another ½ to reach 55 and Pacific Associates strengthened ½ to 21 3-4. Samson Tire, Hancock Oil and Consolidated Steel dipped lower.

Several issues in the penny list turned in good volume, the group as a whole fluctuating irregularly.

Sales totaled 17,046 shares valued at $95,171; previous day, 26,688 shares valued at $60,013.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, July 11. (Exclusive)—Daily Steel today says: Midsummer quietness is on in full force in the steel trade at Cleveland. Producers see no light ahead until September or October, although a few anticipate a slight upturn in August. Wheat Dips to Seventeen-Year Low Price Mark

CHICAGO, July 11. (AP)—Suddenly reversing an upward flight, wheat values late today plunged to below the bottom level reached heretofore this season or for seventeen years.

Reports of rains affording some relief from drought both in Canada and in domestic spring wheat territory were to a great degree responsible for a quick switch that many traders made to the selling side as the day drew to an end. Earlier, extremely adverse crop advices from the Dakotas and Montana tended to make the wheat market soar. Closing prices on wheat were unsettled, 1⅛@2⅛c a bushel lower than yesterday's finish and in some cases at exactly the lowest point yet reached. Corn closed at ⅛@1c net advance, oats a shade off to ⅛c up and provisions varying from 5c setback to a rise of 20c.

Only transient early downturns in wheat prices resulted from the government crop report forecasting an increase of wheat production. Most traders devoted themselves instead to reports of persistent hot, dry weather Northwest and to advices telling of severe damage in the Dakotas and Montana. Around Mitchell, S. D., a 50 per cent cut in wheat yields was announced.

Buying demand lagged, however, after the wheat market had bounded upward about 2c. Then came reports that drought Northwest had been at least partly broken.

A flood of selling followed and prices of wheat quickly faded away. Contributing to the late weakness was word the movement of the newly harvested crop in the Southwest continued of large proportions with Kansas City today alone receiving 1177 cars.

Corn prices went up even faster than wheat, owing to reports of ill effects from dry, hot weather, with the corn crop "firing" in various places. Later, however, the corn market eased down.

Oats followed corn.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, July 11. (AP)—Curb stocks worked irregularly lower today in another dull session of narrow and indecisive price movements.

Trading was barely adequate to keep the ticker tape moving, total sales aggregated 402,100 shares, or 73,400 less than yesterday's.

The only issues to show any great activity were Electric Bond and Share Transamerica. Electric Bond sagged a point. Transamerica attracted a little better support than yesterday, but closed off a fraction.

In the utilities, some of the natural gas stocks were well supported. The United Light & American Light and Traction. Lone Star group worked a little higher, the last two closing about a point up.

Electric Power Associates lost about 3 points, and Duke Power recorded an 8 point drop.

Holding company and investment trust shares were irregular. Goldman Sachs lost a point.

Among the few copper shares on this market, Mayflower Associates, an investment trust with substantial South African mine holdings, lost about 4 points, perhaps in response to further weakness of copper metal. Oils were dull. Gulf lost a couple of points on announcement of another cut of 15 cents in Pennsylvania crude, then rallied to close off only a fraction.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low and both low and close when same as the high.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11. (AP)—Furious selling of Transamerica broke out today immediately after the close of trading on the New York Curb. The stock, which opened at 26, was quickly hammered down to 22, an all-time low mark. It recovered to close at 23⅝, off 2⅜.

Sales up to 11 a.m. totaled something over 12,000 shares, official figures of the stock exchange showed. Within an hour they jumped to 77,000, showing clearly when bear pressure began.

This was taken to indicate a professional attack was made on the stock, with the San Francisco Exchange picked as the battleground on account of stronger support recently provided Transamerica on the New York Curb, where offerings have been considerably smaller than on the west coast.

Transamerica officials previously denied any concerted attack had been made on their stock. The sudden outburst of selling here at the hour of closing the eastern market, left little explanation other than a bear raid.

Total shares dumped were 128,600—the heaviest bombardment of the week, and about four-fifths of the total share volume of the exchange.

In the selling there were occasional blocks of 1000 to 3000 shares.

Otherwise the market was irregular and apparently undisturbed by the Transamerica battle, though major movements were downward.

Oils gave way somewhat to pressure due to price troubles, after early gains and were left little the worse when the late declines were chalked up. Richfield and Union Associates were off a point each. Standard announced after the close of the market it would restore "prewar" gasoline prices.

Chief changes in other stocks at the close were: Wells Fargo Bank, down 9½ to a new low at 395; Caterpillar, down 2; Crown Zellerbach "A," down 2½; Fireman's Fund, down 2¼; California Water Service preferred, down 2 to 88, a new low, and Langendorf "A" down 1 to a new low at 21.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, July 11. (AP)—Little concern was felt in the wool market over the decline at London. Observers generally agreed foreign values still are relatively higher than prices of domestic wools. While trading here was slow, small sales were being closed continually. Most factors in the market looked for the present dullness to continue for awhile, but they felt confident of the present level of values.

CHARGE OF FRAMING TO BE AIRED

Three Men Held on Liquor Counts Assert "Evidence" Left for Detectives

FRESNO, July 11.—Charges that they were framed by an operative for a detective agency will be aired in Police Court tomorrow during an attempt to controvert search warrants which led to the arrests of Mike Pogon, T. Slaughter and Louis Frisch on liquor charges. The men entered pleas of not guilty today.

They were arrested by Detective Sergeants J. G. Moran and Alex Castellion on search warrants based on affidavits of sale sworn to by E. Merritt, an operative of the agency. The affidavit charges sale of wine, but no wine was found at any of the places. The officers said they found fifty quarts of home brew at the Pogon place, but all three denied that they had sold any liquor.

Slaughter told Judge Crichton today that before the raid a man entered his place and left a sack containing four bottles of beer, saying he would call later for it.

A message of importance to our telephone patrons

IN view of the increasing public appreciation of the value of Inter-city telephone service in both business and social life, I am taking the liberty of addressing you—and I wish it were possible to talk personally with each of our customers—regarding the speed, dependability, clarity and quality of our Inter-city service, which is constantly at your command.

The Bell System organization has worked untiringly to place at the disposal of each customer a service between cities which would on a moment's notice annihilate time and distance. It is our aim and desire to make this service so attractive through its speed of connection, that our customers will experience the same satisfaction which results from a local call accurately and promptly completed. Today we are nearer this goal than at any time in the history of the business. The average connection between cities, far and near, is now made in less than two minutes; in fact, many calls are at their destination in a few seconds. As a result of this fast service, over 95% of the total Inter-city messages are completed or reported upon while the customer remains at the telephone, without requiring him to hang up and be called again.

Behind this steadily improving performance is a real and inspiring spirit of personal service on the part of all telephone employees, which many people tell us is conspicuously helpful to them in their widened use of the modern telephone.

Twenty million telephones in this country and ten million in foreig lands may be reached from your te phone. In fact, 85% of the world's te phones are now at your service and it may well be said that the world is own neighbor. Inter-city telepho rates have also been shaped to m modern needs. The rates are attractive and where a connection with a specified telephone (i. e., station-to-station se ice—filing the call by the desired nu ber only) instead of with a specified person will serve your purpose, a low charge is made which is still further re duced in the evening and night hours. Our Long Distance operators will gladly furnish rates on request.

May I suggest the possibility of this modern telephone service having spe cial significance to you? If you are using Inter-city service, I trust it will constantly have an increasing appeal and value to you. If you have not used this service recently, I am sure that if you make a call, you will find the im provements such that you will desire us to serve you further.

In carrying out our obligation to render adequate, dependable and satis factory service, we will be grateful for any suggestions or comments you may care to make regarding further im provements in your individual service. Our Long Distance operators—a per sonnel of whom we in the industry are justly proud—are at your service and will be only too glad to render you the fastest and most dependable Inter-city service which it has been our privilege and pleasure to offer.

Cordially yours,
H. D. PILLSBU

DEATH DEFENDANT FINALLY RELEASED

Sanhuber and Wife Embrace

Reunion of couple follows his release from County Jail.

'GARRET GHOST' OUT OF SHADOW

Sanhuber Liberated Under Statute of Limitations

Defense Motion for Arrest of Judgment Granted

Touching Meeting With Wife Follows Court Action

The legal web which encircled the life of Otto Sanhuber, causing his prosecution and conviction of manslaughter for the slaying eight years ago of Fred Oesterreich, unraveled yesterday. His attorneys' request for an arrest of judgment, on grounds that the manslaughter charge was outlawed three years after the crime was committed, was granted by Superior Judge Hardy.

The motion for arrest of judgment has been before the court for more than a week, defense attorneys Earle Wakeman and Orville Rogers having made their arguments when the motion was presented.

When the case was called yesterday the same forces which were brought to bear against the diminutive "Garret Ghost," forcing him to trial, bent to extend him mercy. William McKay, who with J. Thomas Russell represented the District Attorney, announced that under the law he had no argument that could be submitted in rebuttal to the arguments made by defense counsel asking Sanhuber's release.

PROSECUTOR SPEAKS

"I believe it is my duty," he said, "to state my position clearly in this matter. It is my sincere belief that the law set forth in this case is clear and that the defendant is entitled to be granted his motion for arrest of judgment."

With these words the case was submitted forthwith to Judge Hardy, who immediately gave his decision. The court spent some time in reviewing the case, reiterating the outstanding legal citations bearing on the subject. At the end of these remarks he announced that the motion was granted and the defendant released from custody.

As Judge Hardy spoke, Sanhuber for the first time since his arrest on April 8, last, showed emotion. There were tears in his eyes and a bright smile lighted his face as he clasped hands with his attorneys. He then half-turned in his chair and smiled at his wife, who sat in the audience outside the railing.

EMBRACED BY WIFE

A few minutes later, when he was released from the County Jail, Sanhuber was met by his wife at the County Jail elevator and they embraced each other fervently.

Sanhuber's release brings to a close the first phase of the prosecutions started by the District Attorney for the murder of Oesterreich, wealthy retired garment manufacturer, on the night of August 22, 1922. Both Sanhuber and Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich, widow of the slain man, were indicted by the grand jury shortly after Sanhuber's arrest and charged with the murder. When the cases went before the court the defendants were granted separate trials. Mrs. Oesterreich is scheduled to go to trial before Superior Judge Hardy on August 4, next.

SHAPIRO CHARGES

For eight years after Oesterreich was killed, his death remained unsolved in the police files. It finally was revived last April, when Herman Shapiro, once Mrs. Oesterreich's attorney, came forward and disclosed for the first time that Sanhuber had lived in secret rooms and attics in the Oesterreich homes in Milwaukee and Los Angeles for nearly eleven years, bound to the woman by a strange fascination. It was Sanhuber who fired the three fatal shots, Shapiro charged.

When questioned, Sanhuber made a voluntary statement to the District Attorney, stating that he fired the shots when he saw Mr. and Mrs. Oesterreich in a violent argument and feared that the man was about to injure his wife.

At his trial, however, Sanhuber denied his guilt and asserted that he had been "hypnotized" by Shapiro, who he asserts holds a strange power over him, into telling this story to the District Attorney.

BARNES CITY CASE TO BE CONTINUED

Los Angeles Will Defend Incorporation Proceeding in Court Action

Convinced that the judicial proceedings in the Barnes City consolidation case have not clarified the situation, City Attorney Werner's office plans to carry on the legal contest, Deputy City Attorney Erwin said yesterday. Meanwhile Los Angeles maintains jurisdiction over the disputed territory.

Because an attack on the incorporation proceedings of Barnes City was upheld after the community had been annexed to Los Angeles, the District Court of Appeals apparently considers Barnes City as unincorporated county territory, and the Supreme Court declines to change the status. Werner and Erwin contend that because Barnes City was a de facto municipality when its citizens voted to annex to Los Angeles, these proceedings are valid.

Erwin said yesterday he will go into the Superior Court shortly and will ask that portions of the original judgment be set aside. Los Angeles has an interest in protecting the proceedings because of the investment the city has made in streets, schools and service.

Court Suspends Fines Given 119 News Venders

One hundred and nineteen newsstand owners and employees yesterday pleaded guilty before Municipal Judge Willis to charges of selling indecent and obscene magazines. Each was fined $100, the fine being suspended for a period of six months.

Complaints against four others accused of the same offense was dismissed at the request of Chief Deputy City Prosecutor McGann and trials of five were continued until the 15th inst.

The venders were arrested last month by investigators from the City Prosecutor's office in a series of wholesale raids throughout the city.

BERMAN DEAL DESCRIBED

Forgery Case Witness Tells of $10,000 Check Given for Stock That Was Not Delivered

Jacob Berman cashed a check for $10,000 for Julian stock that he never delivered, it was testified yesterday at Berman's trial for forgery and embezzlement in Superior Judge Schauer's court. The testimony was elicited from Daniel Barnes, Long Beach real-estate man, the first witness for the State at the trial. In brief, Barnes asserted that on the morning of April 30, 1927, he went to the offices of A. C. Wagy & Co., Julian stock brokers, and there wrote a check for $10,000 for which he was to receive 2000 Julian shares.

Ben Blue, employee of Wagy & Co., Barnes testified, took him to the office of Berman in the Julian Oil Corporation suite, where he (Barnes) was given a receipt and an understanding was reached that the stock was to be transferred to his name within fifteen days.

Barnes declared that when he wrote the $10,000 check he requested that it not be cashed until the following Monday, but that when he returned to Long Beach he received a call from his bank saying that the check, indorsed by Berman, had been presented for payment. The witness said he then called Berman and the latter assured him that the matter of the stock transfer had been "taken care of" and with this assurance he allowed the check to be cashed.

At this point, Dep. Dist.-Atty. McCartney accepted the stipulation of Public Defender Hill, representing Berman, that Berman had left Los Angeles on May 2, 1927, a few days before the Julian crash, and that he did not return for several months.

Barnes said that he made several requests for the stock at the offices of the Julian company but was never given any. He admitted on cross-examination that he finally received a judgment in Federal court by which he was awarded 2000 shares of Julian stock.

"I wanted cash but they forced me to take stock," said Barnes.

W. S. Short, assistant cashier of the Pan-American Bank of Los Angeles, and J. F. Dickinson, Long Beach banker, were next placed on the witness stand to verify the cashing of the $10,000 check and the deposit of the funds to Berman's account. C. T. Harris, former trans-

The advisory committee is made up of Guy R. Crump, Los Angeles; Maurice E. Harrison, San Francisco; Grant Holcomb, San Bernardino; Archibald B. Tinning, Martinez, and Everett J. Brown, Oakland.

Porter Given Boulder Pen

One of the pens President Hoover used to sign the second deficiency bill, containing an appropriation of $10,600,000 for the beginning of work on the Boulder Canyon project, was received yesterday by Mayor Porter. It will be placed on exhibition in the City Hall.

The pen itself is not notable in appearance, being such as can be purchased in any stationary store for a modest figure. Another of the pens goes to the city of El Centro. A letter from Lawrence Richey, one of the President's secretaries, accompanies the pen.

Whirling Snow Foils Search for Howard Lamel, Los Angeles Youth Lost on Mt. Whitney

Yesterday marked another day without word from the missing 18-year-old Howard Lamel, Los Angeles boy, lost on the barren eastern slopes of Mt. Whitney. At his home, 1025 Mansfield avenue, his mother, hoping against hope, awaits a message that at least will tell her the agony is ended. The youth, missing seven days, was lost when he separated from his father and brother in an attempt to scale the heights alone.

The father, Edward G. Lamel, and the missing boy's brother are still in the north aiding the search being conducted by United States forest rangers under command of Ranger Shellenberger.

"We heard nothing today," said the heart-broken mother last night. "I hope they will find my boy alive. I will not believe that he is dead until they find his body."

Young Lamel with his father and brother had reached the 12,000-foot level of Mt. Whitney when the youth decided to make the last 3500 feet from the east side. The climb is comparatively easy from the west but an impassable barrier of treacherous cliffs and canyons bars approach from any other angle. It has been scaled but once from the east.

He was not equipped to stand exposure, as he carried no extra blanket and but little food. Rangers found his footprints and then lost track of him in the storm which raged following his disappearance. Stormy weather has delayed the search. It is believed that his body lies in some canyon.

CHILD ASKS DAD TO WRITE

A 9-year-old girl writes from Jackson, La., asking her daddy communicate with her. She is Edith May Shattuck, who explains in her letter to The Times, that her father started for Los Angeles in company with a friend, Will Pruitt, last November, and has not communicated with his family since. Edith's mother is employed in the East Louisiana State Hospital and joins her daughter in the request that Mr. Shattuck or Mr. Pruitt write to them.

NO MERIT FOUND IN PROTESTS

Central District Business Recommends Rerouting of "C" Cars Through Tunnel

Having studied the briefs submitted to the Board of Public Utilities by the Home Defense League against the proposed rerouting of the "C" line cars of the Los Angeles Railway through the Third-street tunnel to eliminate traffic congestion at Fifth and Hill streets, the Central Business District Association yesterday informed the board that it finds no new evidence disclosed against the plan and awaits a decision.

The board is expected to announce at its next meeting Friday the date on which a decision will be made. Commissioner Hargrave, appointed to the vacancy caused by the expiration of the term of Commissioner Haffner, will require some time to study the briefs, that he may be familiar with the subject before voting.

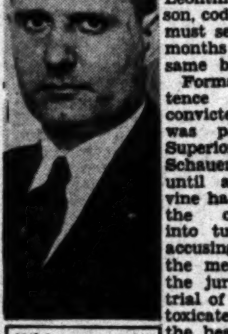
A check by W. J. Walters, public utilities engineer, on the petition shows a total of 5382 names in favor of the rerouting, and 3782 against. The proponents also submitted names of 100 per cent of the property owners on West Third street, 99½ per cent of retail occupants on West Third and eighteen other civic and improvements organizations in favor of the rerouting.

Of the 5382 names favoring the plan, 1046 names are of persons who have found it difficult to reach the three Hospitals in the Crown Hill district, and 1085 are East Third and East Fourth street residents, who favor a cross-town line.

IMPROVEMENTS ORDERED

The City Council yesterday adopted the ordinances of intention for the improvement of Marlin Place between Haskell avenue and Gloria avenue, for the improvement of Greenfield avenue between Ayres avenue and Holman avenue and for the construction of sewers in the Odgen Drive and Twelfth Street District. They were set for the hearing of protests August 20.

LAVINE AND JOHNSON GET COUNTY JAIL SENTENCES



MORRIS LAVINE

LEONTINE JOHNSON

Morris Lavine, former newspaper man, convicted of a $75,000 attempted extortion, was sentenced yesterday to confinement in the County Jail for one year and a fine of $5000. Leontine Johnson, codefendant, must serve nine months in the same bastile.

Formal sentence on the convicted pair was passed by Superior Judge Schauer, but not until after Lavine had thrown the courtroom into turmoil by accusing one of the members of the jury at the trial of being intoxicated during the hearing.

The startling charge of Lavine, which later was declared unfounded by Judge Schauer, preceded arguments on motions for new trials and named Charles A. Killen of 619 Chatsworth Drive, San Fernando, as the offending juror.

Lavine, appearing in his own behalf, had just voiced his formal offer of proof of the intoxication charges when the tenseness of the courtroom was broken by a male voice from a rear seat shouting:

"You take that back or I'll make you eat those words." The speaker was then identified as Killen, now serving on a jury panel, and it was learned that all members of the convicting jury had been summoned to the extraordinary hearing.

Rapping of the bailiff and sharp orders of the court halted Killen from further defis, and Lavine was instructed to call his witnesses. The defendant, it was learned afterward, had been advised against this unusual proceeding by his counsel, Attorneys Richard Cantillon and William Kendrick. Following the Killen outburst Lavine attempted to withdraw his offer and halt the proceedings.

Judge Schauer directed that the proceedings be completed, and called Mrs. Berdie V. Witt, 1315 Oak Knoll, Pasadena, a member of the jury, to the witness stand.

She testified that she had occupied the seat next to Killen during the trial and that she did not see him take a drink and that she had not told anyone that she had.

Killen was next called and as Lavine started to question him said: "Now listen, big boy, I don't use no liquor in any form."

Flat denial of Lavine's charges that he had been intoxicated during the course of the trial; that he had fallen out of the bus which conveys the jurors to their hotel, and that he had rolled on the grass around the Hall of Justice were made by Killen to questions asked by the court.

Judge Schauer then instructed Lavine to call his witnesses to prove the accusation, and Miss Juventena M. Campbell, 1443 South Bonnie Brae, left a seat in the room and walked to the witness stand.

She said that she talked with Mrs. Witt and that she had been led by her remarks to believe that Killen was drunk during the trial and that he stumbled from the jury bus on one occasion, was assisted by the bailiff, and fell to the grass on his knees. Questioned by Judge Schauer the witness testified that Mrs. Witt did not say that Killen had been drinking or that his breath was alcoholic. The witness said that she reported her inquiry to Lavine in the County Jail.

The court severely criticised Lavine for making such accusation, declared that the charge was ab-

CHAMBER ACTS IN MALIBU ROW

Steps Taken Asking Senate to Validate Titles

Adoption of Land Report Would End Squatting

County and Federal Men Attend Meeting

Acting as a body at a session called by the civic development department of the Chamber of Commerce, owners and subdividers of vast Southern California ranch domains yesterday took steps toward curbing organized claim-jumping expeditions such as that aimed recently at the Rindge estate in which scores of squatters sought possession of valuable parcels for a comparative pittance.

A motion was adopted unanimously whereby the chamber's board of directors will be asked to dispatch a telegram to the Senate Lands Committee requesting the latter to speed up submission of its official report on the validity of real estate titles as vested by old Spanish and Mexican land grants. The report now awaited is pertinent to an exhaustive investigation conducted by the committee here a year ago.

Opinion prevailed yesterday that prevention of further claim-jumping can be guaranteed only by the Lands Committee's report and its adoption by the Senate. In the ordinary course of events this would not be accomplished until December, but yesterday's action, it is believed, will expedite it.

OFFICIALS PRESENT

The widespread publication of the committee's findings, which are expected to fix as unassailable the titles to lands acquired under the old grants, undoubtedly will convince squatters of the futility of such expeditions and discourage them from heeding promises given by unscrupulous promoters and land locators, it is pointed out.

A semiofficial touch was given the meeting by the presence of Chief Trial Deputy District Attorney Daniel Beecher, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Dave Clark, and Brainerd B. Smith, register of the United States Land Office here.

All explained, however, that their offices have been powerless to take criminal action against any persons involved in the expeditions. Beecher and Clarke pointed out that action by the District Attorney's office would require evidence that money had been obtained under false pretenses or that misdemeanors have been committed by the destruction of fences or other property. They stated, nevertheless, that they are expecting to discuss the recent Malibu invasion with the person or persons believed to have sponsored it.

HISTORY REVIEWED

Register Smith said the government has been unable to charge misuse of the mails in connection with the homesteading attempts, but declared there is no question of the bad faith involved in the enterprises, in so far as the promoters are concerned. He reviewed the history of claim-jumping based on the old land grants, pointing out that in the past seven years about 800 filings have been rejected by his office and that in every instance the action has been sustained on appeal.

Referring specifically to the Malibu foray, Smith stressed the fact that not one of the estimated 135 locators has thus far tried to file his claim with the Land Office. This would indicate, he said, that those back of the movement realize the claims would be denied. Land Office records, he repeated, show the Malibu Rancho is patented to the ocean.

IMPRESSION ELSEWHERE

Brainerd excoriated organized claim-jumping for the misleading effect its continuance will have outside the State. "The thing we must fear," he said, "is the impression that may be created in other sections that our titles here are faulty."

Elvon Musick of Woodruff, Musick & Hartke, who moved that the chamber directorate dispatch the telegram, pointed out to the group that the parcels coveted by recent claim-jumpers are not open to homestead, that the maps introduced in support of their claims have been forged and therefore are fraudulent, and, further, that the lands committeemen said unofficially following their investigation last

GOEBEL CALLS OFF FLIGHT

Plane's Inability to Reach Expected Speed Forces Flyer to Cancel Plans for Atlantic Hop

Art Goebel is not going to attempt the nonstop flight from Paris to New York in the Lockheed Yankee Doodle which has been undergoing tests here for the past month. The winner of the Dole Flight from the California coast to Hawaii yesterday turned the new low-winged monoplane back to the Lockheed factory and called off his plans for the trans-Atlantic flight.

A difference of ten or twelve miles an hour in the speed of the plane prompted the decision. With his capacity load of approximately 800 gallons of gasoline, Goebel figured that he required a high speed of 170 miles an hour in order to have a reasonable chance of success to negotiate the 3610-mile hop in the face of adverse winds averaging twenty miles per hour. When he was unable to coax better than 157½ miles an hour out of the plane with only one-third the necessary load of fuel, Goebel figured that his margin of safety for the flight was cut down to something less than nothing, hence the decision to abandon the flight for this year.

"No one is as disappointed as I am about it," said Col. Goebel yesterday. "I have been planning for a long time on this flight and have invested a good many thousand dollars of my own money in special equipment. I have 1200 gallons of aviation gasoline waiting over at Le Bourget Field in Paris and I certainly hate to have to call off the flight.

"The Yankee Doodle is undoubtedly the finest plane that the Lockheed factory has ever produced—and that's taking in a lot of territory—and its flying qualities give every satisfaction. I never handled a ship that I liked any better. Unfortunately, however, the huge wing which it was necessary to install in order to handle the large load of gasoline cut down the high speed of the plane to such a degree that it would have been foolish to attempt the 3610-mile nonstop flight."

Goebel also stated that one other factor leading him to his decision was the late delivery of the plane and the thirty days of testing which have carried him over into July whereas the best time to make the

THERE are a lot of tricks—and a lot of practical psychology in running a store.

Shrinking modesty is not the chief reason why all department stores have an isolated room wherein to show expensive underclothes to women. The heaviest buyers of the fancy ones are rich, elderly women. They are embarrassed at asking for movie-flapper gewgaws where folks can hear them.

SHOO HIM OUT—TACTFULLY

In many stores the shop girls are trained:

Never to sell a man a hat for his wife. She will hold a grudge against the store forever. Don't offend him; but shoo him out.

When a man comes shopping with a woman, shop girls are told to appeal to him for the final decision if he is a sweetie or a fiance; ignore him if a husband.

When a man comes in to buy stockings—and such—for his lady love, the shop girl must never look at him—especially as he is approaching the counter.

COMEBACKS

Stores would rather have a bad debtor than a customer who sends everything back. It costs about 50 cents to send out a package, and from 80 cents up to make the sale.

WOMAN VS. WOMAN

There is a reason based on experience why stores employ both men and women.

Women customers will not buy shoes of a woman.

Will not give data to a woman credit examiner.

On the other hand, the receiver of complaints must be a woman; also most of the successful personnel officers—who hire and fire—must be women.

PINK SHEETS

One of the greatest boons to department stores is the fad for color—especially in bedrooms.

The manufacture and sale of bedding has increased many fold due to the rule that there must be orchid-colored blankets in an orchid-colored room.

MOVIE STARS ARE SWEET

Contrary to all popular belief, film stars are not temperamental or fussy customers. Shop girls like to deal with them. When the floor manager hears a woman calling a shop girl "Dearie" and "Honey," he knows another film actress is in the store.

Movie stars know what they want and go straight to the place; they are experienced dressers; they know styles and prices and are not fussy about what they pay.

SILENCE FOR JOHN

Some of them have eccentricities. Both John Barrymore and Wallace Beery are addicted to "self service." They always go behind the counters and pick out what they want. Shop girls are instructed to say nothing to them except "Good morning."

FUSSY

The fussiest customers who come into any of the stores are men who buy expensive guns. They are collectors, not customers; and even the high gods are unable to fathom the mental operations of a collector.

PRACTICAL PSYCHOLOGY

Here are points of training

Youngster at Coroner's Inquest Smilingly Confesses Drowning Small Companio

SEVEN-YEAR-OLD BRANDED AS MERCILESS SLAYER

LaVerne M'Donald Sent to Home for Delinquents With Consent of Stricken Parents

With one pocket full of pennies and another bulging with candy, La Verne McDonald, 7 years of age, was in the custody of the juvenile authorities at Long Beach last night, awaiting transfer to the Strickland Home for Children where, following the finding of a Coroner's jury yesterday that he was responsible for the death of Jimmy Ellis, 3, he is to remain indefinitely in the hope that proper environment will cure his "abnormal tendencies."

The pennies and the candy were given him by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. McDonald of 6568 California avenue, Long Beach, who, despite their horror and grief over the official conviction of their boy as the slayer of his playmate, could not refrain from bestowing upon him the benefices of their tear-choked blessing and the pennies and gum to make his separation from them the more endurable to him.

The inquest conducted yesterday by Deputy Coroner Kane in the Moreland Mortuary at Compton, not far from the room where lay the body of little Jimmy Ellis, resulted in a verdict of guilt against the McDonald boy who, by his testimony, smilingly and even eagerly given, had done his best to bring it about.

Tucked comfortably in the big witness chair the youngster had told without hesitation the story of his having repeatedly shoved little Jimmy into the waters of the Long Beach flood-control channel, and had shown no appreciation whatever of the verdict soon brought in by the jury.

The verdict itself was to the effect that little Jimmy had come to his death "from an enlarged thymus gland after being thrown into the water by La Verne McDonald while playing in the pool," and that in the opinion of the jury "the deceased came to his death as a result of the abnormal tendencies of the said La Verne McDonald."

BOY SEGREGATED

Whereupon, as smilingly as he had come to the inquest, young McDonald left it, awaiting the untangling of the many problems of law necessary to one so young being brought into Juvenile Court for such a serious offense, and being sentenced by it for an indefinite term to the Strickland home, which is at 723 Annandale Boulevard, Los Angeles.

Frankly admitting he knew of no statute governing the crime of one so young, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Brayton, in charge of the Long Beach office, announced late yesterday he had stepped out of the case, leaving its disposition entirely to the juvenile authorities. He took this action after having detailed Investigator Anderson from his office to attend the inquest and make notes of the testimony.

The Los Angeles office of the District Attorney was equally puzzled how to proceed, Deputy Beecher announced.

CONCLUSION REACHED

It was finally decided that there should be the formality of "filing on the case" before Judge Scott in Juvenile Court, who, without subjecting the boy to the formality of a trial would commit him to the Strickland Home until the authorities and the alienists in their employ decide he can be liberated with safety to the general public.

It was difficult for spectators at the inquest to reconcile the spectacle of the smiling, undersized, fair-haired boy in the witness chair with the grave charge lodged against him.

Barefooted and wearing rumpled overalls and a blue shirt, he entered the room accompanied by Mrs. Elaine Matthews and George Robinson, juvenile officers. His only interest seemed to be in having the newspaper cameramen take pictures of him.

There was a large group of cameramen on hand and he had posed eagerly for these outside the mortuary. He smiled for them, winked boyishly in an effort to show he was fully in sympathy with their efforts to get a faithful and characteristic likeness and even after marching into the hearing-room, where for a time he sat in the second row of the row of chairs awaiting his turn on the stand, cast eager glances in their direction.

Not at any time, before or after taking the witness stand, did he display appreciation of the grim tragedy for which he admitted responsibility.

He showed no sorrow. Only for brief intervals did his manner become serious. He discussed Jimmy Ellis frankly, but expressed no regret over having caused his death. Indeed, he did not seem to realize that Jimmy was dead.

Sommoned at last to the witness stand he was compelled because of his small stature to crawl up to the chair, after which he promptly tucked his bare feet under him and smilingly faced Deputy Coroner Kane, who conducted the inquest.

TELLS PREDELICTION

"The boys in my neighborhood never did like me, because I used to undress them," he said in beginning the story which, despite the boyishness of its recital, held those in the room spellbound.

"I liked Jimmy Ellis, too. But when I was at home I used to try to see, when I was in the bathtub, how long I could keep my head—all but the very top—under water. I got so I could do it for four minutes," he cast a prideful glance around the room at this, "and all I wanted to see was if Jimmy could stay under three minutes, which wasn't as long as me by one minute.

"So after we took off our clothes I pushed him in the water. It wasn't so very deep, only up to here," he raised his fingers to the middle of his forehead," and I held Jimmy there for three minutes. When I was in the water in our bathtub I could keep my eyes open and could see, but after a little while Jimmy went further out into the water."

"You mean he went out by himself?" he was asked.

"He sorta slipped out further, I mean, because he'd quit fighting, and then I guess he musta fallen into a deep hole. So then I took his overalls and rolled 'em up and threw 'em into the middle of the water."

"And then?" prompted his questioner.

"Then I dressed and went home," he said simply, and this, in effect, completed his story.

L. R. McDonald, the boy's father, an electrician, to whom he had made his first confession of having shoved the Ellis child into the water, did not attend the inquest, and neither did Mrs. McDonald, who, it was explained, was compelled to absent herself because of an illness which began prior to the drowning of little Jimmy.

MOTHER OF VICTIM

Mrs. R. M. Ellis, however, mother of Jimmy, and her other son, Billy Robert Ellis, 15, were present and both took the stand as witnesses.

The mother of the little victim evidently was fighting to control her emotion for she testified in a low voice, her testimony simply being in identification of the dead child as her son. Billy Robert then told of having taken Jimmy to Houghton Park for a day's outing and of having later found he had disappeared.

Juvenile Officers Robinson and Matthews also testified, repeating the confessions that had been made to them by La Verne.

"On the way to Juvenile Hall in Los Angeles I took La Verne to the place where he'd shoved Jimmy into the water, and he described to me how he'd done it," Robinson testified.

PARENTS AGREE

Mrs. Matthews then told the jury of plans that had been made by the Juvenile Department to send the McDonald boy to the Strickland Home for Children.

"Mr. McDonald, the boy's father, and Mrs. McDonald, also said they would interpose no objections," she said. "They told me they were anxious to consent to anything the Juvenile Department thought best in handling the case."

In response to a question by Deputy Coroner Kane the woman juvenile officer said that the McDonald boy had displayed more than ordinary brightness in the intelligence tests to which he had been subjected.

Other witnesses were Orie Dale, who testified to having seen the McDonald boy shoving little Jimmy into the water, and E. F. Mackle, who found the body.

ment with their dealers which will afford the latter a reasonable margin of profit, be it 3 cents or 4 cents a gallon, or whatever the figure. It is estimated that there are some 40,000 dealers on the Pacific Coast. Of these, more than 39,000 are content to 'live and let live.' They take their margin and resell the gasoline supplied to them at prices fair to the public, and which yield the supplier and the dealer a fair profit. There are perhaps 1000 dealers on the Pacific Coast whose policy is otherwise. They cut the price not because they believe it unfair or too high, but because they are determined to get another man's business regardless of the fairness of his price. The Standard Oil Company of California announces as a policy that it will not sell its products to that class of dealer. It does not want his business. It matters not whether he is practicing his unfair competition with respect to the products of this company or of its competitors. So far as this company is concerned, it will regard the dealer who cuts prices without respect to their reasonableness and to take the trade and livelihood of his neighbor as an outlaw in the business.

"Finally, in order to do its share toward maintaining a balance between supply and demand, this company will confine its manufacture of gasoline to the quantity required by its actual demand."

The price increase by the major companies brings an end to one of the bitterest-fought price wars ever experienced on the Pacific Coast with all-time record low prices recorded in some cities. In the Pacific Northwest gasoline was sold during the past week for as low as 7½ cents and many pumps were retailing the product for 8½ cents. In Los Angeles the price for the well-known brands dropped to 10 cents a gallon with 12½ cents a general price.

The lowest ebb of gasoline prices during the current gasoline price war was reported yesterday by officials of the Richfield Oil Company, who said that the motor-car fuel, with the exception of the 3-cent State tax, was given away free at Tracy.

WARNING ISSUED

In Portland, Or., the fire-marshal issued a warning to motorists against the illegal storage of gasoline when many citizens were found hoarding gasoline in makeshift tanks and drums against an increase in price. Portland prices yesterday dropped another cent to 9½ cents, with at least one station retailing the motor spirit for 8½ cents.

An element of intimidation entered the gasoline warfare in Long Beach yesterday, when C. M. Johnson, service-station operator, complained to police that he had been told by a man claiming to be an organizer for an independent service station operators' association that his station would be bombed if he did not join the organization.

Johnson appealed to police when thirty men from the city employment office appeared and said they had been engaged to move his station away. Investigation showed that an unknown party had telephoned asking the men be sent to the station.

MOVE COMMENDED

Commendation of the announced price advance and marketing policy contained in a statement issued by the Standard Oil Company of California was voiced last night by R. S. Macmillan, president of the Macmillan Petroleum Corporation.

"The step just taken by the Standard Oil Company is one of the most courageous and constructive moves ever made by a major oil company in the history of the oil industry," Mr. Macmillan said, "and the sound marketing policy as outlined in their statement of today should be followed by every major and independent company. In so far as the Macmillan Petroleum Corporation is concerned, this policy will be put into effect immediately."

The Macmillan Petroleum Corporation a week ago was the first company to move to higher prices in an effort to break the price war and their lead was followed by a group of independent refineries.

FAMILY FRIEND JAILED ON LAME GIRL'S CHARGE

A crippled young woman's complaint last night caused the arrest of James Hasapis, 35 years of age, at Santa Monica on a serious charge. The young woman, Helen Chacomas, 23, told Deputy Sheriffs Brewster and Bell she has known Hasapis since she was a child. Hasapis was, she added, her father's close friend. Hasapis, a cook in a cafe at the mouth of Santa Monica Canyon, called on the young woman at her home, 2504 East One Hundred and Tenth street on the 1st inst. when she was alone, she told police.

"IF YOU DON'T LIKE IT—"

"If you don't like it, you can lump it," was Mrs. Sara Ronkin's stock reply to his reproaches, Julius A. Ronkin yesterday complained in asking a divorce. He said this was her answer when he reproved her for staying out late, letting the children play in the streets or failing to prepare his meals. At last, he said, she left home. Superior Judge Anderson granted Ronkin a decree.

Sweden is considering the construction of broadcasting stations throughout the country.

fer clerk for the Julian Corporation, testified that he issued the stock transfer receipt to Barnes at Berman's direction.

The taking of testimony in the case began unexpectedly yesterday, the second day of the trial, when Berman waived trial by jury in the face of the jury scandal that developed Thursday, when one of the prospective women jurors testified she had been approached by a supposed jury briber and Judge Schauer dismissed all of the jurors selected to try the case.

Chief Investigator Matthews of the District Attorney's office yesterday reported he has several men detailed to the jury investigation in the hope of finding the man who approached Mrs. Mary Walters, the woman juror. Matthews expressed confidence that they eventually will apprehend the suspect.

JUROR BRIBE DETAILS GIVEN BY BERMAN

John B. Groves, member of the Julian jury in 1928 and charged with having accepted a bribe of $5000 from Jacob Berman for a vote of not guilty, sat in Superior Judge Wilson's court yesterday and heard from the lips of Berman, principal prosecution witness, the details of how the bribe was paid.

Berman took the stand against Groves shortly after the afternoon session got under way as the first prosecution witness after a jury of nine men and three women together with two men alternates had been sworn in by Court Clerk Boyd.

In his account of how the bribe was planned and then paid, Berman, who with his brother Louis, was granted immunity so that they could appear as prosecution witnesses, told the jury that his meeting with Groves was planned by Louis Krause, already convicted for bribery conspiracy.

"Krause called at my home and drove me by automobile to North Hollywood one night and there we met Groves. I paid him $5000 in cash in two bundles of $2500 each," declared Berman.

Under questioning by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Jones, the witness went into great detail regarding the payment of the money and Grove's promise to vote not guilty in the Julian case. He declared also that the money was paid in two bundles so that Groves could "hold out" half of it from his wife.

As well as the money, Berman told the jury that he gave a huge quantity of liquor to Krause, who in turn delivered it to Groves at his North Hollywood home.

The cross-examination of Berman, which occupied more than an hour, was completed by Defense Counsel Wilbert C. Hamilton and S. S. Hahn at the end of the court session last evening. No court will be held today.

Berman, who is now serving a Federal sentence for using the mails to defraud, was returned to this city from McNeil Island to testify in four felony cases, all the outgrowth of the Julian Petroleum Corporation crash in 1927, and for prosecution in one case. With his testimony of yesterday but one case remains in which he will appear as a witness and he is now on trial on the charge against him.

Radiophone Aids in Planning Fete

In fixing the date for the welcome-home breakfast party that is being planned for William May Garland next Friday morning, radiotelephone was resorted to yesterday. It was the desire of the committee to hold the affair as soon as possible after Mr. Garland's return from his tour of Europe in the interests of the tenth Olympic Games to be held in Los Angeles in 1932.

A call was put through, and almost as promptly as though he had been speaking from New York Mr. Garland answered from the Leviathan at sea, and the committee learned that he will arrive here on Thursday and will leave by plane on Friday for the annual festivities of the Bohemian Club in Northern California. It was thereupon quickly decided that the testimonial should take the form of a breakfast party at the Breakfast Club on Friday morning.

NORFOLK TOURISTS LIKE LOS ANGELES

Expressing their belief that Los Angeles surpasses all other cities in beauty and climate, a party of eleven citizens from Norfolk, Va., making a steamer, rail and motor tour of the United States, arrived here yesterday and will remain for four days. The tour, conducted by Miss Ella C. Pollard, began June 30, last, and will continue until August 12. Cities to be visited are Washington, St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver, Seattle, Chicago and neighboring points of interest. The traveling group has registered at the Alexandria.

AUTO KNOCKS DOWN 80-YEAR-OLD PIONEER

J. M. Hale, 80 years of age, retired pioneer merchant, narrowly escaped serious injury yesterday when he was knocked down by an automobile as he stepped from a safety zone at Spring and Sixth streets. At the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital he was found to have received only a deep scalp wound, and after emergency treatment insisted on returning to his rooms at the California Club. The car, according to police, was driven by Mike A. Blumenthal, 1523 North Western avenue. He was not held. Mr. Hale was in business here for forty-seven years, being founder and owner of Hale's Department Store.

Decker, of Windy City's Crime Board, Pays Visit After Three Years

Brilliant frocks worn by women, men garbed in white and suntan, houses of rose, pink and white—all these delighted Alfred Decker, Chicago merchant and member of the Crime Commission, on his arrival at Los Angeles after a three-year interval between visits.

ALFRED DECKER

At his room at the Biltmore last night he said he had forgotten in a measure how really colorful and beautiful Los Angeles is.

"It is amazing to see the brilliant colors worn by the women of California. We do not approach it in the Middle West," he said. "It is a delight to see color in the houses; the pink stucco walls and the red tiled roofs are entrancing. California has two things that the rest of America does not have—exclusive products and climate. I might add color as a third."

Mr. Decker is president of the concern which manufactures the Society Brand clothes. He has been a member of the Chicago Crime Commission for twelve years. The organization, he stated, is not a reform body but one which criticises public officials and judges and attempts to keep the legal machinery of the State clear.

"The gangster war is a big thing. I do not know what the outcome will be," he said. "As you know, they are fighting among themselves but that may not always be the case. We hope the 'Secret Six' commission will be able to aid in the clean-up."

LAST RITES FOR PARTY LEADER SET

A. William McPherson to be Laid to Rest Under Auspices of Elks

Funeral rites will be conducted at 2:30 p.m. today in Elks' Temple, Santa Monica, for A. William McPherson, prominent in Republican politics in Southern California for thirty-five years, who died in Loamshier Hospital last Wednesday following an operation for appendicitis.

Mr. McPherson, an elector in the last Presidential campaign, went to the hospital for the operation a week ago. He seemed on the road to recovery when he suffered a relapse.

Born at San Jose in October, 1871, he was still an infant when his family settled at Westminster in Orange county. Later his father, Robert McPherson, a pioneer in the grape industry, established the city of McPherson, which was named after him. The family transferred its residence to that city where A. William had his early schooling, and then continued his studies at the University of California.

As a telegraph operator for the Southern Pacific Mr. McPherson began his business career. He was so successful in his work the railroad made him general agent at Santa Monica in 1895. In that year he married Miss Mary E. Monahan, and also became identified with the Republican party as an active worker.

Subsequently he became general manager for the United Electric and Gas Company of Santa Monica, and manager of the Edison Company in the Santa Monica district when there was a separation of the gas and electric service in the United Company. After fifteen years in the last named position he resigned to engage in investments and in the direction of his own property.

More recently he had been active in the oil industry.

PLUMMER SPEAKS AT REPUBLICAN CLUB

Clyde Plummer, candidate for Sheriff, was one of the principal speakers yesterday at the closing meeting of the year of the Republican Study Club. Plummer has served as peace officer in the city for the last twenty-one years, and promises, if elected, that his office will be unincumbered by outside influences. He spoke at a meeting of the Rotary Club in San Pedro at a luncheon-meeting yesterday.

"It's Cash We Want," They Tell Woman as They Return Purse to Her

Within a few minutes after they had snatched a purse containing a diamond ring from Mrs. Mary Stallings in front of her home at 218 South Hancock street yesterday, two men returned, rang the door bell, and when she appeared handed her back her property.

"Here you are, lady," they said, "if you don't call the police, we'll give you the ring back. All we want is cash." They then fled.

GAS RESERVES TERMED AMPLE

Witness for City Opposes Utilities' Contention

Supply Declared Sufficient for Fifteen Years

Voluminous Data Presented on Major Fields

Reserves of natural gas available to the public utility corporations serving Los Angeles are ample to meet the concerns' needs for the next fifteen years, John Franklin Dodge, petroleum engineer, testified yesterday at a Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation rate hearing before Commissioner Carr of the State Railroad Commission, in the Associated Realty Building.

Dodge was summoned as a witness by the city of Los Angeles to rebut testimony of engineers for the gas concern that the supply of natural gas in the Los Angeles basin is rapidly failing and that within two years additional supplies must be brought here from Kettleman Hills.

VOLUMINOUS EXHIBIT

Dodge's estimates were presented in a voluminous exhibit, replete with maps and graphs, showing the quantities of gas originating from each of the major gas-producing fields, with subtotals shown for the three principal regional subdivisions, the Los Angeles Basin, the coastal fields and the San Joaquin Valley.

Estimated daily delivery capacity of the dry gas areas in the Elk Hills and Buttonwillow north dome are also given, it being explained that these dry gas reserves can be produced at will to carry peak loads, both seasonal and occasional.

MODERATE ESTIMATES

In this connection, Dodge mentioned the South Dome of the Buttonwillow gas area, the Middle and South Domes of the Kettleman Hills, the Lost Hills Temblor zone, the Rincon Field, the lower zones of East Coyote Hills and many others.

"For this reason and because of the very moderate development program assigned to the Kettleman Hills field," he said, "your consultant and his associates feel fully justified in stating that in their opinion the amounts of gas available as shown in the tables of the exhibit are extremely conservative.

"Furthermore," he continued, "the estimated production of gas for a large part of the period covered is so far in excess of the possible utilization that it is reasonable to assume that such excesses will have to be stored underground to prevent action by the State under the Gas Conservation Act. Such underground storage would, of course, result in prolonging the life of the present resources to the extent that such stored gas is recoverable."

DETAILED FIGURES

Dodge estimated the total available gas supply of the Los Angeles basin in 1931 as 368,451,000 cubic feet; 1932, 322,758,000; 1933, 315,228,000, and 1934, 307,820,000. At the end of the fifteen-year period, he estimates, the gas supply in the Los Angeles basin will be 57,110,000 cubic feet.

The Los Angeles basin fields are named as Long Beach, Santa Fe Springs, Huntington Beach, Dominguez, Inglewood, Seal Beach, Coyote Hills, Montebello and minor fields.

With the San Joaquin Valley fields and the Coastal fields included, the totals are given as, 1931, 1,100,847,000; 1932, 1,290,627,000; 1933, 1,483,400,000; 1934, 1,398,086,000; 1935, 1,277,295,000, and 1945, 890,583,000.

The dry gas reserves of the Elk Hills field are given as 100,000,000 cubic feet a day and of the Buttonwillow field as 150,000,000 cubic feet a day throughout the entire period.

POSSIBLE NEW FIELDS

The witness testified that of the forty-eight oil fields in California, all of which lie in the Southern half of the State, thirty-six produce amounts of gas worthy of consideration and all of these are or can readily be connected to the network of transmission lines bringing gas into the Los Angeles metropolitan area. Not all of these fields, however, he said, are expected to yield available surplus gas for any length of time. At the same time, he pointed out that additional areas which have been or are being prospected are known to be gas bearing and will ultimately add their share to the gas resources of the State.

Dodge was on the stand all day.

With considerable testimony still to be presented, it was stated that the hearing will be resumed next week.

GRAHAM'S WIFE THANKS MANY AIDING IN SEARC

In a general letter to the public Mrs. Alice Edouart Graham, wife of Maurice Graham, air-mail pilot, who has been missing for six months, and also bearing the signatures of their two children, Melodile and Monte, and other close relatives, last night expressed thanks to the hundreds of persons who have aided in the search for Graham, gave assurance that the search shall be continued and conveyed the hope that "Maury will pull through."

Graham left Los Angeles for Salt Lake City the night of January 10 with a cargo of air mail. His plane, exactly on its course, was heard over St. George, Utah, shortly after midnight. About two weeks ago the plane was found in the mountains near Cedar City, Utah, but no trace of the missing pilot has been discovered.

Mrs. Graham in her message says: "Hope for the safety of Maurice Graham has not been abandoned, and the search for him will be continued indefinitely was the declaration made to me today after talking to Western Air Express officials.

"After several months of searching, and we are grateful to many for this, Maurice's plane was found June 24 on a small ledge in the mountains near Cedar City.

DAMAGE CLAIM SURVEYED

Power Concern's Asserted Fears of San Gabriel Channel Straightening Put Up to Engineers

Just how the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company will be damaged $10,000,000 by the straightening of the San Gabriel River flood-control channel at Seal Beach in Orange county, as contended in an answer to condemnation proceedings in the Orange County Court will be determined by a special survey by the Los Angeles County Flood Control District, E. C. Eaton, District Engineer, announced yesterday.

The 1931 county budget set aside $661,000 for straightening the channel to make the river deposit its detritus in the ocean instead of in Alamitos Bay, and thus protect valuable residence property both in Orange and Los Angeles counties by lessening the danger of floods.

The Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company maintains a generating station near the bay and uses cold water from the ocean to condense exhaust steam from turbines, thereby adding to the efficiency of its plant and making it possible to generate electricity cheaper.

The new flood-control channel will cause deposits of silt and sand around the intake of the cooling water system, it is asserted, and so will interfere with the operation of the plant.

Engineer Eaton points out that extension of the intake pipe will avoid silting even if it were not possible to use slightly muddy water in the cooling system.

"I am sure we can construct the new channel outlet without damaging the electric plant," said Eaton, "and we will seek a conference with the Los Angeles Gas and Electric engineers to see if a compromise plan cannot be arranged."

BOARD WILL AUTHORIZE POWER QUIZ

Engineers Suggested by Chamber to Make Bond Inquiry Approved

Approval of a board of three engineers selected by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce to investigate and report on the proposed municipal power bonds was given yesterday by the Board of Water and Power Commissioners.

The engineers selected are: William F. Durand of Stanford University, R. W. Sorensen, professor of electrical engineering at California Institute of Technology, and A. V. Guillou, assistant chief engineer of the State Railroad Commission.

The selection was made in accordance with a suggestion from the chamber after its approval of the proposed bond issue for $19,000,000 as a part of a tentative three-year financial program for the Power Bureau totaling $31,000,000, had been requested by the board. The chamber turned the matter over to its committee on power and natural resources. The committee reported back suggesting the selection of three disinterested engineers to check the proposed power program from an engineering viewpoint.

All of the men selected are recognized authorities in their fields. Durant has been employed by the power bureau during the past year as consultant, and according to a statement from Chief Electrical Engineer Scattergood at the meeting yesterday, the bureau has an arrangement with him at present under which he is subject to call at any time as consultant for the bureau.

The board planned to meet with the engineers today to work out an agreement as to pay and instructions.

Dog Torturer Given Liberty on Probation

Convicted by a jury on two charges of cruelty to animals as a result of pouring ammonia into the mouths and eyes of dogs, Chester Johnson, 412 North Orlando street, was granted probation yesterday by Municipal Judge Wood, without a sentence being imposed. Johnson was subject to a maximum penalty of one year in jail and $1000 fine. The probation is to extend for only six months.

Children living near Johnson's home testified at his trial that he captured two dogs and poured ammonia into their eyes and mouths, blinding one animal and making the other extremely sick.

Judge Wood said that he placed Johnson on probation on account of his wife and children. Imposition of a sentence was suspended for six months. "Conviction of this man may serve as an example to other persons in the community," the court declared.

Besides the speakers, the meeting was attended by County Counsel Mattoon, Deputy County Counsel McAllester, Deputy County Surveyor Alfred Jones, George W. Baumbaugh was indicted yesterday by the Federal grand jury on a charge of violating the National Bankruptcy Act. Bail of the defendant was fixed at $3000. Fifteen others were named by the grand jury on various charges.

Among those indicted was John David Walker, former teller of the Glendale branch of the Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles, who is accused of misapplication of about $1000 of bank funds. Robert Clifton Sturgis, former teller of the Broadway and Florence-avenue branch of the same bank, also was indicted on a charge of misapplication of about $1000 of bank funds. A. Clark Richardson was named codefendant as an aider and abettor.

Other indictments included five true bills for violations of the Tariff Act, four for violations of the Immigration Act and several charges of violating the Mann Act. Frederick W. SUIT OVER LLOYD FILM STORY ENDS

Federal Judge Cosgrave Takes Mrs. Witwer's Case Under Advisement

Arguments were completed yesterday in United States District Judge Cosgrave's court in the trial of the case of Mrs. H. C. Witwer, widow of the late H. C. Witwer, author, against Harold Lloyd, motion-picture comedian, the Harold Lloyd Corporation and others for asserted infringement of a copyright of one of Witwer's stories. Mrs. Witwer is asking the court for an accounting of profits, an injunction against further presentation of the picture, "The Freshman," and damages, the total amount to be not less than $1,000,000. The court took the case under advisement. It is expected that a decision will not be forthcoming before September.

Argument for the defense was closed by Robert C. Gortner, chief counsel, who laid stress upon Lloyd's reputation throughout fifteen years in the motion-picture industry. He stoutly defended Lloyd's reputation for fair dealing in producing pictures and in purchasing picture rights.

This stand was not opposed by Harold A. Fendler, counsel for the plaintiff, who said that he believed that Lloyd did not purposely take parts of Witwer's story, "The Emancipation of Rodney," but that the parts were taken through "tricks of memory," but with no intention on the part of the defendant to do so.

The case has occupied about three weeks of court sessions. It is charged by Mrs. Witwer, acting as executrix of her late husband's estate, that the main "punch" of "The Freshman" was taken from "The Emancipation of Rodney."

Husband Ripped Telephone From Wall, She Says

Her husband tore the telephone from the wall when she tried to summon police, Mrs. Graham Brodie Carter testified yesterday in obtaining a divorce from Edward John Carter. Superior Judge Bowron granted her a decree.

"He was beating me. I tried to telephone for police," said Mrs. Carter. "Neighbors ran in and subdued him."

Mrs. Carter was awarded custody of her children, Jack, 6 years of age; Mary, 4, and Larimer and Lathus, twins, 2. The Carters were married August 15, 1920, and separated September 10, 1929. Judge Bowron also approved a property settlement.

Dr. Frank P. Westlake, convicted a year ago of the murder of Mrs. Laura Sutton, whose torso was found in the Los Angeles River, left for San Quentin penitentiary last night to begin serving a life sentence. In the prison party with Westlake were five other convicted men.

Westlake was connected with the slaying of the woman, his asserted sweetheart, and arrested by deputy sheriffs and convicted. His appeal to the higher court recently was denied.

BANK HEAD SCORES TAX INCREASES

Monthly Statement Seen as Indorsement of Fitts Campaign Platform

Political observers view as indicative of public resentment toward soaring taxes in California the monthly message circulated yesterday by J. A. Graves, president of the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank of Los Angeles.

At the Fitts headquarters here Graves's message has been taken as substantiation of the platform upon which Fitts is conducting his campaign for Governor, namely that taxation in California is out of all proportion to increase in population and property values. In his message, Graves, who is not connected with the Fitts campaign, writes:

"Astounding fact is announced that State taxes in the past year in California went to the enormous sum of $70,000,000, and yet the present Governor of the State is seeking re-election on the economy platform."

In another section, he states that agricultural, horticultural and motion-picture interests are of great value and there is untold wealth in our oil fields. Nevertheless there are many people so incumbered that they cannot retain their real-estate holdings.

"Every thinking citizen realizes that California should not be paying the exorbitant taxes demanded of her citizens," George B. Bush, campaign manager for Fitts, stated in commenting on the Graves message. "California has the highest tax per capita in the United States with the exception of Nevada, where a scattered population must support the government. California State governmental expenditures jumped from $14,672,042 in 1911 to $73,783,221 in 1928, soaring further in 1929 to $108,644,175.55, an increase of $18,777,386.50, or more than 20 per cent in one year."

Yesterday Fitts was guest at the luncheon sponsored by the Italian division of the B.P.O.E. at the Paris Inn, then at the Lions' Club meeting at the Biltmore. Today he will fulfill speaking engagements in the north, returning here by plane to speak before the Disabled Veterans this evening. Sunday he will speak at Long Beach before the Long Beach Bible class.

Gore and Adler Case Delayed

The probation hearing of Charles Gore and Harry Adler, convicted of robbing the Vermont-Wilshire branch of the Seaboard National Bank, was continued by Judge Schmidt until next Tuesday, when the matter was called in court yesterday.

Judge Schmidt said he wants more time to consider the voluminous probation report filed by Probation Officer May, and Assistant Probation Officer Mellinger.

PUBLIC WORKS BOARD REJECTS HOLIDAY PLAN

The extra half-holiday for Saturday during the summer months will not be permitted in the departments under the jurisdiction of the Board of Public Works, it was decided yesterday. The board adopted a resolution declaring against letting off employees on Saturday mornings. City Engineer Jessup reported that such a concession would disrupt the routine of his department.

For salad dressing, the vinegar from preserved pickles is better than ordinary vinegar; it gives a delicious flavor. Try lemon juice instead of vinegar in the salad dressing—you will find it excellent. Sliced bananas make an excellent substitute for lettuce in salads.

To prevent cocoa from lumping, mix a little sugar with it before pouring on the hot water or milk. A pinch of salt added greatly improves the flavor.

And now the Steinen Cuttlery Shop of 210 West Third street is again putting on a midsummer sale of silverware — and a real sale it is, when one can get a set of $4 teaspoons for $2.50; or $6 forks for $4. That's worth while, is it not? And the best news my readers could ask for. Go in this very week and take advantage of these values!

Do you not sometimes wonder how you ever managed to keep house and serve appetizing food without the assistance of the Laura C. Scudder famous "Mayflower Potato Chips?" They prove more valuable every day, do they not? Why no meal is complete without them, and the children prefer them to popcorn! These delightfully crisp, always fresh, potato chips may be bought at all better stores, remember.

Remedy for Whooping Cough—To one-half cupful of linseed oil add enough New Orleans molasses for a good emulsion. Give in teaspoonful doses when cough comes; continue till the cough disappears entirely, which may take some time.

Another good remedy is sunflower seeds steeped to make a strong tea; boil this down to a pint, add an equal quantity of cooking molasses, boil a few minutes, put into bottles and seal. Give teaspoonful doses five or six times a day.

Lemon Sponge Pie—Blend together two tablespoonfuls of flour, one and one-half tablespoonfuls of butter, one cupful each of sugar and milk, the juice and grated rind of a lemon, the well-beaten yolks of two eggs and a pinch of salt. Beat the two egg whites stiffly and fold them into the mixture and turn into a deep pie plate lined with pastry. Bake same as custard pie.

To greatly improve flavor of tea, thoroughly dry the peel of an orange or lemon, and place it in the tea caddy; it gives domestic tea an imported flavor.

A good substitute for cream in coffee: Beat up the yolk of an egg with a teaspoonful of sugar and a very little water; divide it among the cups before pouring in the hot coffee.

It is rather a foolish question—that of asking my readers whether they have used as yet Guasti wine jellies in the numerous flavors in which they are obtainable; for discriminating women have, I am sure, all followed my suggestions and partaken of this most excellent jelly and one taste was enough to convince them that they had made the find of their lives! So we'll take it for granted that Guasti wine jellies now grace all tables and are eaten in larger quantities the whole time.

Today (these being salad days) I have a very excellent recipe for a luscious salad. Don't fail to use it at the earliest opportunity, will you, for certainly it's a winner!

Peel peaches and cut in half. Arrange on lettuce leaf, hollow side up. Mix celery and almonds and moisten with mayonnaise. Fill cavities and garish with fanciful cuts of Guasti Wine Jelly.

Felice, a very dear friend of mine, is simply charmed with the service of the Crown Laundry and Cleaning Company! Leftover pieces of dough may be pressed into a bowl, closely covered and kept in a cool place for several days. It is convenient to have the dough on hand when one wishes to make a pie in a hurry. Also, preparing the pie crust can be made one of the "day before" duties when company is expected. Leftover dough will also keep fresh for some time if wrapped in oiled paper and left in a cool place.

To determine when the jellying point has been reached, in making jelly, put a little on a cold plate and draw a path through it with the point of a spoon; if the path stays and the jelly does not run together, the jellying point has been reached.

Jack Noonan's Sentence to Be Set Wednesday

Jack J. Noonan, brother of Sally O'Neil and Molly O'Day, screen actresses, will be arraigned next Wednesday for sentence by Superior Judge Fulkerth on a plea of guilty of receiving stolen property. The judge yesterday continued Noonan's plea for probation until the date of sentence.

Noonan was accused of participating in the burglary of the apartment of Ted Lewis, jazz orchestra leader.

At a previous trial, Noonan pleaded guilty to the same charge and was sentenced to seven years in Folsom. He obtained a new trial by representing that he had been uninformed of his legal rights when he pleaded the first time.

Attack Made on Mattoon Act in Injunction Suit

An attack on the Mattoon Act was made in the suit of H. J. McDade and others against Los Angeles county for an injunction, which Superior Judge Bowron yesterday took under submission. The suit attacked street-opening, improvements in Baldwin Park, Improvement District 222. The petitioners asserted they did not have proper notice and that the descriptions were faulty.

Assistant County Counsel O'Connor cited similar situations in San Francisco and in a school district where the St. Francis Dam disaster reduced values.

Mrs. Ella H. Monroe, wife of Charles Monroe, former Superior Court judge, who died at her home last Sunday, left her entire estate consisting of 6000 shares of oil, bank, hotel and ranch stock, to her husband, according to terms of her will, filed for probate yesterday.

According to Attorneys Newlin and Ashburn, who filed the will, the estate is worth "more than $10,000." There are no children.

Disciples Mark Martyred Bab

The martyrdom of Bab, described as a forerunner and herald of Baha 'u'llah, and who was executed in Tabriz, Persia, in 1850 for preaching that a new religious leader would appear to reconcile the preachings of all the prophets, was celebrated by the Baha'is of Los Angeles, Al-Kuli Khan, chairman of the local Spiritual Assembly of the Baha'is, yesterday announced.

Along with Baha'is the world over, commemoration exercises were conducted here last Wednesday.

SUICIDE LEAVES NOTE TO INFORM HIS SISTER

Leaving no note giving a reason for his act but a simple card directing that his sister in Shreveport, Ind., be notified, a man believed to be George E. Worley ended his life in a hotel room at 729 South Main street yesterday by eating ant paste. He was about 60 years of age and had the appearance of having been ill, police said. The body was removed to the County Morgue.

The project is set for the hearing of protests before the Council August 11. In the event the protests are denied, in the regular routine the final ordinance will be adopted and the contract for the work awarded in the early fall.

The Council has obtained an allocation of $350,000 for the work from the Board of Supervisors.

Today's Bible Text

Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things.—Phil. iv, 8.

THE SHORT END

In the three-cornered battle of Wall street the "breaks" never go to the lambs.

A woman must be either daring or sure of her charms to emerge from the disguising beauty of the up-to-date beach ensemble.

IT'S CHEAPER

Mrs. McCormick suggests a constitutional amendment to check the high cost of political campaigns. Why not turn Democrat?

JUSTICE BLUSHES

New York's Police Commissioner says the success of gang rule has nullified the efficacy of circumstantial evidence. "You must have an eyewitness or a confession to convict of murder." And, we might add, a lion-hearted jury.

THAT ROWING UPSET

Advocates of the hereditary theory affirm that certain traits of character will show in future generations. Cornell's habit of winning at Poughkeepsie seems to have cropped out unexpectedly in the first generation.

LIKE MOST PARENTS

Tagore declares the Indian revolt is the result of machine-like, long-distance, inhuman rule. But he should be encouraged by the fact that since the American Revolution England changes to humane tactics just before she is licked in order to hold on.

COMPENSATION

New York jurist says there is no longer any American home. "We are born in hospitals, entertain in clubs or cabarets, eat in restaurants and are buried from funeral parlors." But just see what a nice quiet place we have to sleep in!

WAY IS CLEARED

The government has provided the preliminary funds for the Boulder Dam project and the blue-printers may now get busy. The pick-and-shovel brigade will come later. Arizona makes no serious effort to head off the first steps and it is predicted that the State will yet come into the Union. It looks like a big year.

GROWTH

Los Angeles population grows while you wait. Already the Census Bureau announces that our population of 1,231,830 is to be boosted by 2000 or 3000 more. The normal growth of the city would be from 16,000 to 18,000 a month since April 1. An adding machine in the hands of an optimist is the only safe enumerator for Los Angeles.

SHORT ON TEETH

Once more Senator Glass is roaring against some of the governmental regulations. He had a candidate for the Naval Academy at Annapolis—a splendid boy in every way. He had a fine physique and was a paragon in scholarship, but the examiners rejected him because he had not yet grown all his second teeth, although he was 18 years of age. In righteous indignation the Virginia Senator asks if the government expects its naval officers to bite the enemy. The boy promised to have a full set of teeth by the time he is needed in the service, but he still couldn't get by. This sounds like a joke, but Senator Glass assures the country that it isn't and he wants to know what sort of crazy regulations they have at Annapolis. He will probably find out at that.

GOV. YOUNG EXPLAINS

It is not unusual for a candidate for office to make promises, nor is it surprising that an incumbent candidate for re-election should vary his promises with a reasonable number of excuses, but the odd mixture of excuses and promises made by Gov. Young in his address to the Los Angeles County Republican Central Committee Thursday night constituted a unique contribution to campaign utterances.

For the most part the Governor's remarks were in keeping with his customarily flattering references to his own record in office, but he astonished his hearers by the magnanimous admission that his administration has not done all that it should for Southern California.

Aside from the fact that Mr. Young's statement was in conflict with the political propaganda of his campaign managers, his readiness to confess even a few administrative shortcomings was the first indication of the State executive's cognizance of local dissatisfaction with his conduct of California's government.

Gov. Young told the members of the County Central Committee that Southern California has been neglected in the matter of its secondary highway system. He told them a fact which they already fully comprehended, but his explanation of the situation that has existed during the entire course of his administration is a new and novel one.

Inaction and procrastination on the Southland's roads, the Governor said, have been due to the absence of data upon which to proceed. These data soon will be available, he promised. Then, instead of building the roads which have been waiting for these data to become available, it is the purpose of the Young administration, the Governor said, to enlarge the road-building program by about 50 per cent.

If there is any subject in this State upon which more investigation has been made, or engineering data collected, filed, discussed, dismissed, recollected, reheard and refiled, it is the subject of secondary roads in Southern California. If Mr. Young and his official subordinates have been unable to make up their minds on this matter during three and a half years there is little reasonable hope that, if retained in the coming election, they will find the next four years sufficient time in which to arrive at a decision.

For the most part the indecision of Mr. Young on the highway situation applies to other vitally pressing State problems, including water conservation and the location of needed State institutions. Such highway work as is now in progress in this section is being put under way suspiciously close to election and has the appearance of a vote-coaxing undertaking.

California very urgently needs the services of a Governor who, after virtually completing a term of four years, will not appeal for further support on the basis of promises to accomplish in another four years what should have been disposed of three years ago.

PEAK OF POWER

Not long ago Henry Ford announced that "if all the men of 55 years of age were removed from industry, there would not be enough brains to carry on." To maintain a proper balance of efficiency, oldsters are necessary to direct the youngsters, he declares.

Now come the doctors and reinforce Ford's position. Dr. J. A. Britton of Chicago says to the American Medical Association that industry "makes a serious mistake in discarding a man when he reaches the age of 45. When this is done, the ten years of a man's life in which he attains the maximum of efficiency are thrown away." At this age he delivers more in "judgment, stability and loyalty." Muscular agility and power may begin to wane; but the higher qualities are on the increase.

When industry thinks a man is at his peak but a year or two, the question arises, "What peak?"

The pugilist is decrepit at 30; the baseballist is an old man at 40. In the ministry, law and medicine, he is too youthful at such ages. He may go off half-cocked. He lacks reserve power and experience. His ideas are half-baked.

As a warrior, however, he is too old and is rejected. He will not plunge in and take chances. Experience robs him of daring. He ceases to drive at breakneck speed.

Youth stops not at Prince or President; but wisdom and thought save lawsuits. Nature can hardly be beaten in balancing the ages. Each needs the other. Youth alone can climb the mast and fling out the sails; but the old sea dog must be at the tiller in time of storm. He knows the reefs and tides.

Every commercial firm needs the go-getter for a salesman. It needs hustle and bustle to deliver the goods. But age must sit on the swivel chair and consolidate the forces and maintain a good bank balance. A car needs both brake and engine; for there are as many down-grades as up-grades. The firm that acquires no new life dies of dry rot; the concern that lets out its older heads will go up in smoke.

The highest priced of all business characteristics are not brute force and sheer energy; but judgment, stability and loyalty. Thousands of institutions are started, but never finish. Youth has initiative; but age has discretion and bottom. The world needs both and values increase as you advance.

Our country has gone to seed on the youth movement. Youth is heroic in fight; but age saves us from war and destruction.

CEILING OF SUNSHINE

It begins to look as if all of California will be on wings. Everybody is doing it. Youth is proverbial for its interest in aviation. Every boy has his airplane or is building one. New models blossom out daily.

But the kids are not the only ones who are interested. The oldsters are taking to the clouds in California—when there are any. Two Civil War veterans, 89 and 95, flew from Los Angeles to San Diego recently. Their physician forbade them to make the trip; but the old daring possessed them and they went up with the others. Having survived the trip and the advice, they decided to wing their way back East.

A woman of the West treated herself to a ninety-ninth birthday present the other day by going up into the air for half an hour.

Everybody has considered aviation a young man's game. Pilots are picked from the boys. They are supposed to keep their balance better. But a Los Angeles man of 73 has just taken instructions at the North Hollywood Airport. After eighteen hours of dual flying, he ventured his first solo flight, circled the field, came down in a hair-raising dive and made a perfect landing. You can bet on grandpa.

These are western stories of a new type. An eastern editor wonders whether it is the climate, or pure progressiveness, or just plain cussedness. It may be all and a yappa besides. The climate helps a lot. Pupils do not bump into clumps of clouds. The mountains and draws can be trusted for wind direction and visibility. Los Angeles always has a ceiling of sunshine.

LEE SIDE O' L.A.
BY Lee Shippey

The LEE SIDE O' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

LAWRENCE TIBBETT was the first great opera star to enter talking pictures and when he did so many critics and even some of his best friends put on crepe for him. They said he had killed himself and sadly lowered grand opera. Even Merle Armitage of the Los Angeles Grand Opera Company wept on Lawrence's shoulder and regretted that thereafter they would have to tread separate paths.

But Tibbett not only did something great for himself when he entered talkies, but he did a lot for grand opera. Only a week or two after the premiere of "The Rogue Song" he left Los Angeles on a concert tour—and never before had he had such a concert tour. In every city, thousands of people, listening to "The Rogue Song," had promised themselves: "When I get a chance I'm going to hear that fellow."

When Tibbett got back to New York he again appeared in grand opera—and each time he appeared the house was "tight"—sold out, with standing room at a premium. He had been singing in grand opera in New York for seven years. But this year, for the first time, hundreds of people were lined up at the stage door to see him come out.

Then he went on tour in grand opera, and the same thing was true in Cleveland and in other cities. After that, he returned to concert and appeared in most of the big cities in the country. Everywhere he found interest greater and crowds bigger—because he had been in the movies.

Gains New World, With Tighter Grip on Old

"I have lost none of my belief in grand opera," Tibbett says, "but I feel that for the first time I am in touch with the great American public. The grand opera public is not great and it is not wholly American. The motion-picture public is great and is typically American. It is not the great unwashed. There isn't any unwashed in this country. The unwashed are very much in the minority. Nor is there any motion-picture audience with 'the average intelligence of a 12-year-old child.' Such actors as George Arliss are not appealing to 12-year-olds, but to the same people who have given appreciation to the best on the stage. It is so in music. The talking screen has lifted the whole plane of motion-picture possibilities. I am happy in the thought that by entering the picture world I have not only done America good, but done grand opera and concert good.

"It is an interesting fact that wherever I went on my recent concert tour I found other opera and concert singers eager to get into pictures. They were continually getting me off into corners and asking me how to go about it. Instead of looking down on me as one who had fallen from the paradise of the operatic and concert stages, even those people seemed to respect me more than before because of my success in another realm. I have gained in opera, gained in concert and gained an entire new world of friends in motion pictures. I like to feel that I have done something to bring some millions of people heretofore out of touch with it a little closer to better music."

The Ideal Ambassador

Incidentally, those who like to look on motion-picture magnates as people of small intellects who somehow have got the start of this majestic world might now admit that the magnates who chose Lawrence Tibbett did a wonderfully astute thing. It takes a lot of looking around to find a man who stands on his own feet as Tibbett does. He likes anything that is good of its kind, that has real art in it, whether it be jazz, slapstick, high tragedy or grand opera. He has an open and truth-seeking mind and even though the highest authority on earth should tell him, "That is very bad," he would listen with his own unprejudiced ears and, if it were good, would say: "Why, on the contrary, that's rather good." He is, in fact, a man who can meet either grand opera or motion pictures on their own grounds with friendly and co-operating appreciation. He doesn't look down on any part of the public, nor does he look up in awe at any part of it. And because he is young, sincere and dashing, as well as the possessor of one of the great voices of the world, he was the ideal ambassador from grand opera to the great American public. We doubt that anybody has seen and heard him in pictures without wishing to see and hear him in person.

Only Way to Reach All

Certain it is that nothing else reaches the great American public as motion pictures do. Irene Rich tells us that she was astonished during her recent vaudeville tour, at the crowds which called on her after the performances and told her how their lives had been affected by this or that picture. Dr. Robert A. Millikan is a great and famous scientist, but there are plenty of people in America to whom his name means nothing, while it would be hard to find anyone to whom Clara Bow's name means nothing.

If the great artists want to reach the great public, the screen is their only chance. You can reach some of the people from the operatic, the concert or the dramatic stage, but only from the screen can you reach all the people.

GOOD IN EVERYTHING

By James J. Montague

Each year I toil with eager hope
Regardless of my ease,
To rear me up a cantaloupe
Or grow a pod of peas;
But all in vain my back is bent
Above the hoe and spade,
For bugs with criminal intent
Destroy each tender blade.
But there's reformer blood in me
And one of these fine days
I mean to make those insects see
The error of their ways.

The rats that rob me of my rest
With manifest delight,
Of devils seem to be possessed
When fall the shades of night
They scamper over attic floors,
With feet that fall like rain.
They gnaw the corners of the doors
Till hope of sleep is vain.
Their consciences seem ironclad,
But I must not forget
That they cannot be wholly bad
And I'll reform them yet.

The rattlesnake, whose glittering eye
Beneath a scaly brow
Is fixed upon the passer-by
Is evil-minded now.
But could we ever touch his heart
Which still is filled with spite,
To his dark soul we might impart
A longing for the right.
Although at present he may lapse
A little from the norm,
By gentle reasoning perhaps
We'll lead him to reform.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

A WORKING SYSTEM WANTED

[Commercial Bulletin]

There is much uncertainty in the minds of Americans on the question of whether or not the present laws for the restraint of the liquor traffic are working well, but we are unable to feel any respect for the statesman who announced in an address in Boston a few days ago that England was making greater progress than America in dealing with intemperance, and cited an alleged remark of one English judge in support of the manifestly untrue claim that there is more drunkenness in America than in England. Any man who is not blind and has traveled in England and in America knows the direct opposite to be true, and this knowledge is confirmed by reliable statistics.

When the mentally blind statesman urges us to follow the English system of educating our people regarding the dangers of intemperance, he does not seem to understand that England today has reached in temperance reform about the place that America reached sixty years or more ago. To blindly follow the lead of England in this matter would be throwing away the progress gained by two generations of experience in America. Our friends the drys are neglecting a splendid opportunity when they fail to lay emphasis on the fact that our system of laws and government is the American system. We may modify or strengthen our laws, but the brains and intelligence of America must solve our problems. We are not ready to discard the results of a century of experience in dealing with the liquor problem in America, in order to accept the theory of the English judge that England is becoming a temperance paradise by a high tax on intoxicants and a restriction of the hours in which liquor legally may be sold.

A system that works well in America is the goal sought by every genuine American temperance reformer, whether he be classed as dry or wet.

THROWING IN BRICKS FROM OUTSIDE

[New York Herald-Tribune]

From the point of hard reality Britain's flag will almost certainly fly over the Indian subcontinent for years to come. Reasonableness and common sense are, therefore, on the side of the Simon report, with its recommendations for a federation of Indian States and for increased native participation in the routine work of government. These things are to the advantage of the British, but if followed in the spirit in which they were written, would probably bring the native much nearer to self-government.

But naturally enough, the Indian agitator and his followers are unwilling to see the plan in that light. Native participation in government routine would inevitably lead to that political moderation which responsibility always brings. And moderation would mean a long postponement of the movement for independence. If it is independence you want it is probably more effective to stay on the outside and throw in bricks. It is easier not to play ball at all. That seems to be the view of those Indian leaders who are now saying that India will not attend the forthcoming conference in London if the Simon report is to be used as a basis of discussion.

A LESSON FOR GRAPE MEN

BY CHARLES C. COHAN

Whether or not the present effort to sign up 85 per cent of California's grape acreage in a co-operative agreement precedent to the granting of Farm Board aid is successful, as now appears probable, the effort itself to get the grape men together constitutes a long step forward. If actual co-operation is accomplished it will be a much bigger thing for the industry than the mere securing of temporary government aid, important as that is at this stage.

The experience of the citrus and walnut growers of California is proof that, once established and in smooth operation, a co-operative growers' association rightly organized will swiftly make itself independent of outside assistance.

The citrus-fruit and walnut growers, however, perforce solved their crop-handling difficulties without such incentive and solely through co-operation for the standardization of their products, the establishing of orderly distribution and the stimulation of consumer demand. The citrus-fruit market is today one of the particularly bright spots on the country's business map and the walnut situation is exceedingly good. California oranges have been established as a leading staple. The high quality of California walnuts is appreciated throughout the United States. The procedure responsible for these good results is a good precedent for the vineyardists.

In their early days the citrus and walnut industries suffered from almost exactly the same evils as the grape men are suffering from now. There was almost no co-operation between growers; it was every man for himself and the devil take the hindmost. Little joint effort was directed toward the development of new markets, to advertising or to picking, packing and shipping schedules calculated to take advantage of good market conditions and to prevent or avoid poor ones. As a result, good years caused such market gluts as to make fruit scarcely worth the picking and raised the cry now familiar to all grape men of "overproduction." In lean years there was no system whereby the individual grower could take intelligent advantage of high prices and hungry markets. There was no co-ordination of shipping, no planned distribution to avoid overloading of one market at the expense of another; it was always a glut or a famine. Literally scores of orange and lemon growers uprooted their orchards and abandoned the industry in disgust. It was no uncommon sight to see tons of lemons rotting in roadside ditches and other tons spoiling in the cars on railroad sidings.

The facts and figures of the co-operative crop-handling methods finally worked out by painful experience describe two of the most remarkable business developments in our economic progress. California citrus-fruit growers saw the light first—some thirty-seven years ago. The walnut growers came into beneficial co-operation eighteen years ago and with the advantage of the experience gained by the fruit men.

Demonstrating the stabilization of the citrus-fruit industry is the fact that this State's normal annual crop, produced almost entirely in the Southland and representing three-fifths of the country's entire production, has come to be between 60,000 and 70,000 carloads that bring considerably in excess of $100,000,000 to California. Last year's record-breaking crop of 90,000 carloads brought $120,000,000 to the State and this year's estimated 60,000 carloads are expected to bring a similar sum.

The 1929 walnut crop brought $12,874,000 to California. Production has increased more than 300 per cent since 1912 and the average is doubling every five years. Returns to the growers are now more than twice as much as they were when the present co-operative method was established.

There is a similarly wide field for systematically advertising to the world the excellent quality of California grapes and grape products and for like proper co-operative marketing methods.

While rapid growth of the citrus-fruit industry in Southern California in the late seventies and early eighties resulted from increased transportation facilities to eastern markets and the production of high-grade oranges peculiarly adapted to Southland cultivation, the idea of effective co-operative marketing did not spring full-fledged from any Jovian head. After some years of growing pains, experimentation with marketing ways and means that gave them a pretty liberal and at times a rather costly education, citrus-fruit growers tackled the crop-handling problem in a way that brought them success and can save the vineyardists a lot of grief and time if they can profit by that experience.

The Southern California Fruit Exchange was launched in 1895 as part of the plan involving the operation of branch houses in the important markets and with its incorporation "the co-operative marketing of citrus fruit became established on a reasonably secure basis," says a Federal Department of Agriculture report. "The history of the system," the report adds, "has been one of steady growth since that time, both in quantity of shipments and in the percentage of the total crop handled through the organization." To further aid the citrus-fruit situation, the exchange, in combination with the California Citrus Union, an organization of commercial shippers, started off in the spring of 1903 as "a single selling agency," it was stated, to control about 90 per cent of the citrus-fruit crop, thereby eliminating "'cut-throat' methods, the playing of one firm against another by brokers to force down prices, and the excessive marketing expense due to useless wiring and the duplicating of agents." The two groups comprising the agency did not harmonize, it is stated, and the agency agreement was dissolved in the latter part of 1904.

The exchange in 1905 took the name of California Fruit Growers' Exchange, which it has retained ever since, and comprises district exchanges, with its headquarters in Los Angeles. It is described as a nonprofit organization of more than 12,000 citrus-fruit growers who produce approximately 75 per cent of the California citrus crop and is operated by and for them on a co-operative basis. Receipts from sales, less only actual cost of operation, are returned to growers.

The Mutual Orange Distributors, with headquarters at Redlands, is the only other considerable co-operative citrus-fruit organization in California.

The walnut growers had some form of organization forty years ago, the original method of marketing having been through the formation of local associations, with the first attempt toward organization in 1892. In 1909-1910 there were about twenty of these. The method of selling was through Coast brokers, independent operators. Lack of marketing co-ordination brought competition to a cut-throat status. In or before 1909, attempts were made among the locals to maintain prices, but the successful way of co-operation for the industry was not found until 1912, when the California Walnut Growers' Association was started. With a 50 per cent control of production, it operated in its first year through brokers, but decided that this method did not bring it the best results and in 1913 began selling through its own association of brokers. Led by men of high ideals and business capacity, it went after trade confidence and won it. For a time it guaranteed opening prices against decline for an entire season in order to justify wholesalers in buying a season's supply, but eventually this was not found necessary because of the substantial character of the industry and other good reasons. The association prides itself on never having borrowed money to advance on unsold crops and on never carrying a crop over from one season to another. The association now controls about 90 per cent of the production in this State.

Co-operative marketing has provided another source of profit by salvaging through by-products citrus fruit once considered unsalable, such as culls, which were dumped at a charge of from $1.25 to $2 per ton, and there is important similar result for the walnut industry through utilization of culls, and even the shells; another good object lesson for vineyardists in by-product income.

ANTICIPATION

I will go out to the high, green mountains,
I will go down to the sea;
I will sit beneath the sweet, free fountains
And wander along the lea.
I shall go to the vales where winds are playing
And the larks are caroling;
I shall rest where willows are swaying
And where the blackbirds sing.

I shall sit where the dews are falling,
With my face turned to the skies—
And I shall hear the night birds calling
And watch fair Venus rise.
The grass and flowers shall be my pillows
And, under the bright moonbeams,
I shall sail away on fancy's
billows
To the star-lit isle of dreams.

The soft, brown earth shall heal and bless me
And cool my fevered mind;
The breeze of morn shall come to caress me—
And the peace of God I'll find.

And when I return to my labor and duty,
In factory, office or mart,
I shall share with others the wine of beauty
That I bring back in my heart.

NEW CORNSTALK SUBSTANCE

The efforts to find some commercial use for the cornstalks which accumulate on the big farms of the Middle West, has had mostly to do with the manufacture of paper. Experimenters of the Iowa State College, however, have succeeded in making a much more promising material which has been called "Maizolith." In the paper and pulp experiments, it was recognized that it was extremely difficult to overcome the inherent tendency of the material to hydrate, and this characteristic has been taken advantage of in the case of the substance under consideration. It has been found easy by severe chemical and mechanical treatment to completely hydrate the stalk so as to form a jelly-like mass containing no trace of fibrous structure. This jelly is dried, and in that condition lends itself readily to machining. Cornstalks may thus eventually be used in the manufacture of insulating material, noiseless gears and the like.

Food Cooked by a Heated Cover

An exceedingly convenient arrangement for the roomer or the small apartment occupant who desires to do some light housekeeping is a cover for food which has an electrical element inserted in it. If this is connected with a light socket it is possible to cook a chop as it rests on a plate on the table beside the diner. The usual cooking process is here reversed. It has been the custom to place the source of heat under the food during the cooking operation, but in the new device the heat is over it. This is said to be just as efficient and much more convenient where the demands upon it are not great.

JOY COMETH

A large, uncouth and pl pain shoots through your sys tem here and there; you medicaments in vain, it nearly drives you to despair. Through out the day it tries to rob you spirit of its wonted peace, and the night it's on the job, it not hesitate or cease. It may be in your little toe, it may be your swanlike neck, and it may travel to and fro, but always it will hurt like heck. You cannot think of anything but that old pain that rends your limb, you cannot smile, you cannot or show a front like Sunny Jim And of the gods you may in quire, "Why must poor mortal suffer so? Why do Olympians desire to witness so much hu man woe? What good does all this anguish do, who profits that my frame is sore, except the doctors who pursue their endless trips from door to door What is the use of all the pain that racks the forms of human kind? The whole blamed busi ness seems insane, to one who has a balanced mind." And then upon a blissful dawn you wake, and all your sorrows fl you find that beastly pain is gone, and you are happy, you admit. No words can picture the relief you feel on such a dawn as this; from dark profundities of grief you rise to ecstasies, you bliss. The pain is gone, you don know why, it simply vanished while you slept; it's gone to some other guy, who doubtless by this time has wept. And perhaps you realize, as you up, a smiling boy, that this pain blessing in disguise, that you for this rush of joy. You'd appreciate the boon that you joy this blessed morn, had through yester-afternoon, muscles by a pain been torn.

TEMPER WELL-MEANT ADVICE WITH COMMON SENSE

Much of the advice, that, in the main, is sound and sensible works out disastrously for baby if followed by the young and "green" mother. One of the commonest bits is, "Don't spoil the baby."

An excellent slogan that, but it can't be stretched to cover all the situations which arise and which cause baby to cry and his young mother to say positively, "Now he's perfectly comfortable and I'm not going to spoil him."

It is easy enough to accustom a baby to being rocked, so that he constantly demands this unnatural stimulant before he will close an eye. The mother can avoid such spoiling by never beginning. The baby who has never been rocked does not scream for hours for this attention.

USE GOOD JUDGMENT

Years later mothers burn with shame at the suffering to which they subjected their babies because they were so fearful of spoiling them. I have a blot on my own escutcheon which causes me to speak with feeling. I belonged to the school that said, "Don't handle the baby; if he's comfortable and dry just let him alone." But who is really able to say that baby is comfortable when he is shrieking himself hoarse? This excellent advice may lead the young mother to allow a baby to learn the habit of crying, because if he keeps it up long enough some one is sure to do something about it.

FOOD WANTED

In my own case my young hopeful aroused the echoes from 3 to 6 every day. She had been fed. She was dry. What could be the matter with the child? At first I sat and locked my hands and let her cry for fear she might be spoiled. Then I tried soothing measures. A drink of water. Turning her over. Still she yelled. I put her in her carriage and paced the room. Nothing worked. It never dawned upon me that that 3 o'clock meal might not have been the satisfying repast I was sure it was. As a last resort I timidly offered a bottle and the magic was wrought. And she wasn't a bit spoiled. She didn't want water, handling, a ride in her carriage nor change of position. She wanted more to eat, poor dear. After she got it, butter wouldn't have melted in her mouth.

Food doesn't always work the miracle. No one thing ever does. Babies can be as miserable from being fed every time they utter a peep as they can be from an empty stomach. But there isn't much excuse to call young babies spoiled and attribute all of their crying to that. Neither is there much excuse for trying out rigid disciplinary measures on them. They usually have good enough reason for their wails.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Just Before Cooking

Poultry and meats should never be washed and then put in the refrigerator for a day or so before using. If you like to wash them, wait until just before cooking. If washed, so long in advance there is danger of spoilage.

To Arrive Safely

When mailing fudge or any soft candy to anyone, wrap each piece in waxed paper before putting it into the box. It is the only way to insure it against getting stale and hard or broken.

Folded

Children's socks will fit better if they are folded together after darning instead of rolling. Rolling stretches them out of shape and causes them to wrinkle and fall.

Brunettes and Blonds

Dark hair usually looks better when dressed smoothly and along classic lines, but blond hair must have more freedom if its lovely color and brightness are to show.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

EGRET'S SAD STORY

The way to make a sorrow last
Is constant thinking of the past.
—Mother West Wind.

Egret the White Heron was making his first visit to the Smiling Pool. He had told Peter Rabbit and Jerry Muskrat that this was his first visit to the North, but that once upon a time, so he had heard, his family used to come North regularly. That sounded to Peter Rabbit like a story, and you know Peter dearly loves stories.

"If you please," said Peter, "why did your family give up coming North?"

Egret looked very serious. His eyes became rather sad looking. "Do you ever see any of those two-legged creatures called Men?" he asked.

"Of course," said Peter.

"Of course," said Jerry Muskrat.

"Then you have seen the reason that my family gave up coming North," explained Egret.

"You mean that those two-legged creatures hunted the members of your family with terrible guns, don't you?" said Peter.

Egret nodded. "That's it," said he.

"Did they hunt the Egrets to eat?" continued Peter.

This time Egret shook his head. "No," said he, "not that I know of. They hunted us for something else. Do you see these fine feathers on my back?"

Both Peter and Jerry nodded. "We were talking about them," said Jerry. "Never have we seen any feathers like them."

"They are beautiful," said Egret, "but they very nearly put an end to my family. Yes, sir, they very nearly put an end to my family. When I think of it, it is a wonder to me that a single Egret is alive now. It was for their beautiful feathers that the Egrets were hunted by those two-legged creatures with terrible guns. They wanted our beautiful feathers. Those were terrible times, terrible times! They were before my day, but I've been told about them and I can't bear to think of them. When I think of the thousands and thousands of young Egrets that starved to death in their nests, it is a wonder to me that a single Egret is alive today."

"If you please," said Peter, "why did your family give up coming North?"

Peter Rabbit looked at Jerry Muskrat, and Jerry looked at Peter, and in the eyes of both was a puzzled expression. "What made them starve to death?" said Peter after a while.

"The two-legged creatures with terrible guns that wanted the feathers of the fathers and mothers," explained Egret. "You see, it is only in the nesting season that we have these beautiful feathers, which are called plumes. So the hunters would wait until the nesting season. Then they would seek out the nests and shoot the old birds as they brought food to their young. Then, of course, the young would starve to death. Oh, it was terrible, terrible! So the Egrets stopped coming North because there were only a few of them left. They sought out the most difficult places in the Far South wherein to build their homes; but even there the feather hunters followed them. Finally, when there were only a few left, the hunters stopped coming."

Of course, Egret didn't know it, but the reason the hunting stopped was because those who loved the birds secured the passage of a law protecting the Herons and forbidding the wearing of their wonderful plumes. It was true, as Egret had said, that only a few of his family were left; so few, indeed, that for a time it was feared that there would soon be no more Egrets left.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

That Hungry Feeling

Many of you have noticed a gnawing feeling whenever you miss a meal, and you no doubt thought that this sensation meant you were really hungry. This is a common belief, but it is false, because one does not feel real hunger until several meals have been missed. That gnawing feeling which occurs as soon as the stomach is empty is an indication of gastritis, which means stomach inflammation, and is produced by the inflamed walls of the stomach rubbing against each other or when irritated by an excess of gastric juice.

As soon as you take a little food or liquid into the stomach, the walls are separated and do not rub against each other, and the gnawing ceases. Real hunger is not felt in any one particular place, nor for just one particular food, but it is an almost forgotten craving of the whole body for food. Very few people ever experience this sensation. Most people are several weeks ahead of their real hunger with their eating. What they think is hunger is simply a habit of eating at a certain time, or gastritis, or an over-stimulated appetite.

A person with a healthy stomach should not be able to feel it. About the only way he would know that he had a stomach would be to study anatomy or physiology. The majority of those who feel uncomfortable in the region of the stomach after missing a meal have developed too much gastric juice because of wrong eating. The digestive juice is composed of pepsin, rennin and hydrochloric acid. It is a powerful fluid, as it has to literally dissolve food by chemical action.

When an excessive quantity of food, or when bad mixtures are used, the only way the stomach can get rid of the excess is to produce a large quanity of digestive juice to liquefy its contents so that they can be assimilated and expelled. When one habitually consumes an excess of food or irritating combinations, the stomach forms the habit of making more gastric juice than would be necessary if a reasonable amount of food were used. Then, when a meal is missed, the powerful acid digestive juice is formed by habit and thrown into the stomach. Having no food to act on, it attacks the lining of the stomach, and sets up an irritation which will only be relieved if food or liquid is added to dilute the digestive fluid.

Many people upon feeling the distress will resort to taking a teaspoonful of soda or some other alkaline-forming substance in a glass of water. This often brings temporary relief and may prevent ulcers from forming as quickly as they would otherwise, but it does not remove or correct the bad habits which were responsible for the excessive acid in the first place.

The real cure of stomach inflammation does not consist in merely relieving symptoms. One doing this is merely lulled into a false feeling of security, while the inflammation continues, and often ends up with serious ulcers. It is necessary to observe strict dietic rules for a long time if the stomach is to be trained out of its bad habit of producing an excess of gastric juice. The most speedy way of getting results is to eat no food for a few days, but keep the stomach continually full of plain water by drinking a glassful of water every half hour during the day, and more water if one awakens at night. After these few days use only small meals for a time, even omitting lunch altogether sometimes and using a quart or two of water in the middle of the day. After a few weeks of this regime you will find that when a meal is missed you have no more gnawing. Then if you use the correct combinations you will never again have that distressed feeling in your stomach.

Savory Castor Oil

Yes, it is possible, too. Squeeze the juice of half a lemon into a tall glass, then pour in the dose of castor oil. Add a pinch of ground ginger, then the juice from the rest of the lemon. Now add one-fourth teaspoon bicarbonate of soda and stir briskly. It will foam up like soda water, breaking the oil into such tiny granules that it cannot be noticed. Drink while it is effervescing.

Clipped from Experience

Mold the jellied salad in custard cups.

Apples will keep sound if packed in sawdust.

A steel bodkin is a good thing for joining the seams of a knitted sweater.

Wash hosiery after each wearing so the perspiration will not have a chance to rot the fabric.

Jelly glasses having a smooth rim make fine drinking glasses for the children, thus saving the better ones.

Charity organizations will welcome old books and newspapers and see that they are put to the best sort of use. Why let them accumulate?

Exposed Windows

If you have windows directly on the street and it is hard to maintain privacy, paint the screens with white paint thinned with turpentine. This will prevent passers-by from seeing into your room, but it will not cut off an outside view from the interior.

Love and Care of Books

Teach the children the proper care of books by having shelves in the bookcase devoted to them and insist that the books are kept in an orderly condition and put away after each using. An inexpensive book stand for the child's room will encourage an interest.

Waterproof

A coat of wagon varnish will not only improve the appearance of the straw suitcase, but will make it as waterproof as the leather ones.

THAT'S Hills Bros Coffee
In the original vacuum pack
© 1930
CONTROLLED ROASTING gives Hills Bros. Coffee a flavor no other coffee has. And because Hills Bros. Coffee is vacuum packed, air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is completely taken out of the can and kept out. Ordinary air-tight cans will not keep coffee fresh because there is air in the can.

ARE YOU A MILLIONAIRE?
IF YOU ARE, perhaps you can afford to be reckless with silk lingerie and stockings, even though it may not be very sensible. But most of us have to be careful.
When you wash fine things, only a pure soap should be used. That's just what White King is—soap made from vegetable and nut oils good enough to eat. It's as pure as soap can be—safe for the most delicate ginghams and prints, effective for the heaviest woolens, kind to the most tender hands. Even in hard or lukewarm water it forms quick, rich suds, cleanses thoroughly, and swiftly rinses away.
Try White King today. It solves every household washing problem. And it's economical—a teaspoonful for the wash basin, a cupful for the washing machine. You won't need more. It's condensed. Sold by your grocer.

TARZAN TO GO ON NEW QUEST

Lost Empire Picture - Story Appears in "The Times"

Start of Series Scheduled for Next Monday Issue

Latest Burroughs Feature Promises Thrills Galore

"Tarzan and the Lost Empire," the story of a strange land whence no white man has ever returned, of a nation that disappeared overnight and of a place from which African jungle natives return inarticulate with horror, will be the new Tarzan picture story feature written by Edgar Rice Burroughs, and illustrated by Rex Maxon. It will run serially in The Times, beginning Monday morning, following completion this morning of "Tarzan and the Jewels of Opar," wherein Tarzan reaches and returns from the forbidden city of Opar and gains a fortune.

The new serial picture strip will deal with the natives' description of hills that rise out of a huge void where the great African plateau ceases as if nothing existed beyond, and the roar of life that rumbles upward through the canyon like distant thunder.

TARZAN TO RESCUE

It is toward this land that Erich Von Harben, a young archeologist, ventures with a band of natives. The natives return, terror-stricken, but there is no trace of Von Harben.

Then Tarzan sets out alone for him, moving silently into the jungle, spear in hand. He goes to penetrate the mystery of the Lost Empire and discovers the Lost Tribe of the Wiramwazi Mountains.

"Tarzan of the Apes," the first of the series, told of Tarzan's adventures as he grew to manhood among the apes. "The Return of Tarzan" told how he laid claim to his birthright as Lord Greystoke of England. "The Beasts of Tarzan" depicted Tarzan's rescue of his wife and child after they had been captured by African natives. "The Son of Tarzan" told of the call of the wilderness transmitted from father to son and how the son became known as Korak, the Killer.

TO START NEXT WEEK

"Tarzan and the Jewels of Opar," ending today, told of Tarzan's quest for a fortune in jewels and of his regaining his lost wealth. And now, "Tarzan and the Lost Empire," a picture story sequel to the preceding adventures of the jungle man, will start Monday.

INSURANCE ADJUSTERS SENTENCED

Martin Must Serve Two to ,Twenty Years, and Son Given Partial Probation

Milford B. Martin and his son, Berwick Martin, Los Angeles insurance adjusters, convicted of conspiracy to bribe a witness in an automobile accident case, yesterday were sentenced by Superior Judge McComb following a hearing on their probation petitions.

The son was granted probation for five years but a sentence of one year in the County Jail was imposed as one of the terms of probation. Milford Martin was sentenced to San Quentin prison on the two counts of which he was convicted and faces a term of from two to twenty years' imprisonment.

A third count, upon which the defendants obtained a new trial, was placed off calendar.

The two defendants were charged with conspiracy to bribe Richard Machado to give false testimony concerning an automobile accident to facilitate collection of damages from an insurance company.

Non-Caucasians Win Fight Over Property Rights

Non-Caucasians can continue to own or occupy property in the 200 block of East Forty-fifth street, it was established by a decision filed yesterday by Superior Judge Hollzer, denying a motion of Frank Foster and twenty-two others to enjoin Leslie J. Stewart and fifty-one others from occupying their present homes.

The complaint sought to bar residents other than whites on the ground of a restriction agreement asserted to have been made in 1923. Thirteen blocks, bounded by Vernon avenue, Forty-eighth street, Main street and Avalon Boulevard, are affected by the restriction agreement.

Amos 'n' Andy Will be Feted

An unusual reception is being planned for the arrival on Monday of Amos 'n' Andy, radio funsters, by Melville Brown, who is to direct them in their first screen appearance, "Check 'n' Double Check."

Brown and his staff are rehearsing the southern dialect to carry out the spirit of several parodies written especially for the occasion by David Harford.

The director and his troupe will be made up in burnt cork and will board the train several miles before it enters Los Angeles. At the R.-K.-O. studios a gala reception will await the party.

GOLDEN OPENS QUARTERS

Opening of headquarters at 6045 Hollywood Boulevard in his campaign for Assemblyman from the Fifty-fifth District was announced yesterday by Milton M. Golden. Golden is running on a platform of conservation of water and other natural resources. He will conduct his campaign, he said, by getting out and meeting the voters personally. He will address the Hollywood Moose Lodge Monday evening.

SCHOEDSACK FILMS OLD SUMATRA

Reginald Denny Given Lead in "Three French Girls;" Beatrice Lillie to Appear in London Revue; Basil Rathbone in Universal Film

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Travelogues are coming into their own more and more; and naturally such famous pioneers in this line as Ernest B. Schoedsack, coproducer of "Chang" and "Grass," has what you might term the inside track.

Mr. Schoedsack never lets anybody know where he is going when he leaves for distant parts to produce a travelogue picture; so it is a real piece of news when he returns. It is with pleasure we announce that he has just returned to this country from foreign lands with a new film. He arrived in New York yesterday.

The new picture was made in Sumatra for Paramount, and Schoedsack has been more than a year in filming it. He did most of the work in Achin, the wildest district of the Dutch East Indies, which has been subdued only in the last ten years.

When he set out on his expedition to the northwestern section of Sumatra the Dutch colonial authorities freely granted him permission, but told him he went on his own responsibility. He was about 300 miles from the port of entry when he filmed most of his scenes. He will start work immediately, cutting the material which he brought back.

REGINALD DENNY TO PLAY M.-G.-M. LEAD

If Jack Buchanan does not return from England in time to undertake the leading male role in "Three French Girls," opposite Fifi Dorsay and the other charmers in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, Reginald Denny is to be assigned the role.

REGINALD DENNY

Denny has just completed the leading male part in Cecil B. De Mille's picture, "Madam Satan."

Erle Kenton was to have directed "Three French Girls," but Harry Beaumont has been signed to make the picture instead, the former being needed for another picture.

Basil Rathbone May Be Lead

If nothing happens to upset present plans Basil Rathbone is scheduled to play the leading masculine role in Universal's talking picturization of "The Command to Love." However, no contracts are yet signed.

Rathbone, as will be remembered, played the lead in the stage play when the same was done here at the Belasco. He also played it in New York and the other leading cities of the East.

Natalie Moorhead at Warners

That very clever actress, Natalie Moorhead, who has recently been playing some very important parts in Paramount talkers and winning excellent notices by her work, has just been signed by Warner Brothers.

Miss Moorhead will play a featured feminine role in "A Husband's Privileges," with Irene Delroy, James Hall and Lew Cody. The actress was formerly of the New York stage but has been playing in pictures during the past year and a half.

Beatrice Lillie Departs

The brilliant Beatrice Lillie is departing tomorrow for New York whence she will said shortly for England.

BEATRICE LILLIE

Miss Lillie is scheduled to appear in a new revue in London, and it is estimated that the production will run about three months. Following the closing of the revue the star will come back to Hollywood and to Fox, where she is to star in another picture. She lately completed her starring engagement for Fox in the musical screen revue, "Are Y-u There?"

Norma Shearer Vehicle Pleases

Norma Shearer's film drama of modern marriage, "The Divorcee," is fulfilling the optimistic predictions of the management of the Boulevard Theater by playing to capacity business at the start of its week's run.

The star's versatile characterization plus the work of the supporting cast under the direction of Robert Z. Leonard make this production the finest in which Miss Shearer has ever appeared, it is said.

PLEASING BOWL CONCERT HEARD

Margaret Matzenauer Sings in Fine Voice

Unusual Program Arranged by Alfred Hertz

"Firebird" Provides Climax to Splendid Evening

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

It was soloist's night at the Hollywood Bowl last evening and the effulgent moon rose upon thousands who had been attracted by the name of Margaret Matzenauer, Metropolitan opera star. Conductor Alfred Hertz had arranged a program of unusual interest, which was unfortunately disturbed by the nonarrival of some of the music. However, the changed concert list consisting of the Tschaikowsky "Pathetique" symphony and "The Afternoon of a Faun," Debussy, compensated for the lost Moussorgsky portraits Stravinsky's "Firebird" was the orchestral climax of the evening.

Matzenauer was impressive in white satin made en train and the rich, velvet quality of her powerful voice was far-reaching. The aria, "O Don Fatale," from Verdi's "Don Carlos," held the audience entranced. Again Mme. Matzenauer triumphed in the seldom-heard aria, "Gerechter Gott," from Wagner's "Rienzi." In this aria, in which Adriano laments his fate and implores the Almighty for help, the singer rose to dramatic heights. The Matzenauer voice is, for the most part, very beautiful. Unhappily, there was an unpleasant tremolo in the slow moments. A charming orchestration of Richard Strauss's "Traum durch die Dammerung," by Alfred Hertz, was graciously sung as an encore.

Dr. Hertz gained the approval of his audience with his interpretation of the Debussy "Afternoon of a Faun" and "The Firebird," with Clare Mellonino at the piano, completed the concert with virile color.

Tonight Hertz will direct Schubert's Unfinished Symphony, several dance numbers, including the "Beautiful Blue Danube," and Jules Furman, first flutist of the orchestra, will play the solo.

GRAUMAN ARRANGES NOVELTY

Late Matinee at Chinese to Include Dancing on Theater Stage

Tonight with such notables as Ann Pennington, formerly of George White's "Scandals," and Lew Cody, film player, officiating, the midnight matinee of "Hell's Angels" at the Chinese Theater will introduce dancing on the stage, with entries limited to members of the audience.

Sid Grauman has named Miss Pennington as the guest of honor and Cody as master of ceremonies. Preliminary reservations indicate that several celebrities will attend the late-hour performance to welcome Miss Pennington back to Hollywood and in compliment to Cody. The midnight matinee will include special novelty features arranged by Grauman in addition to the dancing contest and the showing of his prologue and the Howard Hughes aerial film.

R.-K.-O. Books New Feature Attractions

Two new screen attractions have been booked for the R.-K.-O. Theater and will be shown during the latter part of this month.

Following the current presentation of Betty Compson in Radio's mystery film, "The Midnight Mystery," the R.-K.-O. will offer "She's My Weakness," with Sue Carol, Arthur Lake, Lucien Littlefield and William Collier, Sr. It is an adaptation of the stage play, "Tommy," and was directed by Melville Brown.

Lloyd Hughes and Mary Astor are cofeatured in "The Runaway Bride," scheduled for presentation the week starting the 24th inst. The picture was adapted from the stage play, "Cooking Her Goose," by Lolita Ann Westman and H. H. Van Loan. Included in the supporting cast are Natalie Moorhead, Maurice Black, David Newell, Paul Hurst and others. Donald Crisp directed.

Mary Duncan in Lead Role

After a temporary desertion of motion pictures, during which she devoted a season to the Broadway stage which brought her her first fame, Mary Duncan returned to Hollywood and immediately began preparation for the leading feminine role in "Kismet," in which she will appear with Otis Skinner at First National.

In order to accept this role, which is considered the most important feminine part in Mr. Skinner's long repertoire of plays, Miss Duncan canceled a trip to Germany, where she had planned to pass the summer seeking a play that might be translated into English for New York production next season.

Berger Making Comedy Film

Although Ludwig Berger, Paramount director, came to this country with the reputation of being the best comedy director in Europe, it has taken two years—during which he has directed everything from melodrama to light opera—to get an opportunity to make a comedy. Now, he says he is "having the time of his life" making "The Little Cafe," with Maurice Chevalier as the star.

Welcome Planned for Stage Notable

Elsie Ferguson
Returns to the local footlights Monday night at the Hollywood Playhouse Theater in "Fata Morgana." Ernest Vajda's continental drama.

HUNTER VEHICLE DUE

"To the Ladies," a comedy satire starring Glenn Hunter and written by two of America's foremost playwrights, Marc Connelly and George S. Kaufman, starts a run tomorrow at El Capitan Theater.

In addition to ushering in a new attraction, El Capitan also celebrates tomorrow the third anniversary of the theater under the supervision of Henry Duffy.

Glenn Hunter, one of Broadway's favorite stars, has not played here since his appearance five years ago in "Merton of the Movies," and a large turnout of stage and screen stars is expected to welcome him back at the opening performance.

Lurene Tuttle, charming young actress, who scored recently opposite Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., in "The Youngest," will be seen in the principal role opposite Hunter, while William Morris, distinguished character actor, has another important role. Alan Bunce, last seen opposite Madge Kennedy in "The Perfect Alibi;" Catharine Doucet, recently of the New York cast of "Topaze;" Frank Sylvester, William H. Turner, Kenneth Gamet and Donald Campbell are others who comprise the supporting cast.

COMEDIANS TO APPEAR AT WARNERS'

Olsen and Johnson Signed for Two-Week Engagement Starting Friday

Ole Olsen and Chic Johnson, noted vaudeville comedians, who recently gained film stardom overnight in Warner Brothers' "Nancy From Naples," are on their way here for personal appearance at Warners' Hollywood Theater, starting Friday.

The two fun makers will be seen in person for two weeks in connection with Larry Ceballos's second stage revue. They are coming by airplane from Cleveland.

Olsen and Johnson need no introduction to vaudeville theatergoers. For the last fourteen years they have toured the major vaudeville circuits of the country. Their act includes the Paul Revere skit, the perennial bathtub scene and several new bits of nonsense.

Spanish Film to be Repeated

In view of the capacity audience that greeted the midnight showing of "El Hombre Malo," Spanish version of "The Bad Man," at Warner Brothers' Downtown Theater on June 28, last, the management announces that the picture will be exhibited again tonight.

COMPOSER DIRECTS ORCHESTRA TONIGHT

Oscar Straus

Oscar Straus, Viennese composer of operettas, is to make his first public appearance tonight as guest conductor at the Hollywood Bowl, sharing the baton honors with Alfred Hertz. The composer is now enjoying his first real visit to this country. Although he came to this country several years ago, his visit was limited to New York City, and lasted only two weeks.

Tonight in the Hollywood Bowl, the composer will conduct three of his own compositions. They are selections from his three most popular operettas, "The Chocolate Soldier," "The Waltz Dream" and "The Queen."

HIGH POINT REACHED IN UFA FILM

"Lies of Nina Petrowna" Termed Best Exponent of Silent Pictures

BY ELENA BOLAND

For interest, construction and sustained mood, "The Lies of Nina Petrowna" easily takes its place as being one of the finest films to be shown at the Filmarte. In fact, its whole quality deems it worthy to rank among the best silent pictures.

Coming little known from the UFA studios, it is announced to be an Eric Pommer superspecial, directed by Hanns Schwarz and photographed through the inimitable skill of Carl Hoffmann.

A rather remarkable peculiarity distinguishes this from other foreign importations. Brigette Helm, whose careful shading and sensitiveness endow Nina with the illusion of true romance, is extraordinarily reminiscent of Greta Garbo. Likewise in appearance and also in character does Warwick Ward resemble John Gilbert. And the story, together with the treatment, is more than once similar to the earlier Garbo and Gilbert romances under the adroit direction of Clarence Brown.

Backed by all this, plus its own essential worth, "The Lies of Nina Petrowna" becomes one of the few European opuses possessing the box-office appeal demanded in America. It is a simple story, nothing at all actually, but so finely drawn with such an accurate balance of detail that it grows at once increasingly tense and surprisingly moving.

The story's medium is unusual to the general run of imports released here. It opens on Russia, the luxurious Russia of before the war; and the camera roves through the extravagance of a villa to where Nina stands upon her balcony. Underneath soldiers pass and one, a mere boy, rides into Nina's life. Her love for him gives her the courage to leave her lover, a general, and brave the barrenness of poverty. Their happiness, in spite of it, is short-lived, for the general catches the boy as he is about to cheat at cards to obtain money for Nina and demands as the alternative to disgrace that Nina return to him. The solution, which is the only plausible one, sounds the final note of restrained tragedy.

This is one of the exceptional foreign works to show a definite aim at continuity. As much through this as through direction and performance it attains its distinction. And the reserve held to throughout is more than commendable.

"The Lies of Nina Petrowna" may be considered as an exponent of silence in motion pictures. Sound is not needed, much less desired. Actors of the caliber of Brigette Helm, Ward and Franz Lederer, whose portrait of the boy is one of sincerity and exemplary contrast, do not require anything more than the artistry of their pantomime and emotional expression.

For a touch of comedy is shown "The Danger Girl," a very plotty love triangle made long ago by Mack Sennett. Gloria Swanson as the madcap sister of someone or other is a revelation of vivacity. She is continually on the bounce and even, in a moment of girlish glee, dons men's clothes and has her little joke.

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

LYNN STARLING'S new comedy, "A Cup o' Sugar," will go into production almost immediately, opening in San Francisco early in August and arriving here the first week in September, I was told yesterday. Casting will start next week.

Although George Sherwood and William Trumbull, who are at the head of the producing organization which will prepare "A Cup o' Sugar" for local view, would make no promulgations yesterday, it is understood that Isabel Withers may be seen in a prominent role.

Trumbull did say that Mr. Starling's comedy would be the first of a group of brand-new plays which he and Sherwood—both well known as enterprising entrepreneurs of the theatrical rialto—planned to put before the Pacific Coast theater-going public this fall and winter. They already have a play to follow "A Cup O' Sugar," said to be by a Pathe scenario writer. You can just guess who he is. Mr. Trumbull wouldn't tell.

Three local theaters are being considered as headquarters of production. One is the Mayan. Sherwood will cast, direct and stage. Trumbull will handle the business part of the organization.

"Lysistrata" Plans

Considerably elated over their purchase of the California rights to the Gilbert Seldes version of Aristophanes's "Lysistrata," Messrs. Edward Belasco and Homer Curran yesterday started to plan out details of production. One or both of them may travel back to New York to witness that extravagant comedy as now being played at the Forty-fourth-street Theater.

There is talk that Fay Bainter, who travels to San Francisco tomorrow with "Caprice," may play the role which she had to relinquish in Philadelphia to keep her dates on the Coast. There is a strong possibility that A. Leslie Pearce, who directed "Caprice" may direct.

The Seldes version of "Lysistrata," as a good many people already know, has been the dramatic sensation of the spring and summer in the East. Produced by the Philadelphia Theater Society, a semicivic organization, beautifully and imaginatively staged by Norman Bel-Geddes, with Miss Bainter, Ernest, Truex, and others, it proved such a riotous success that it was moved into New York.

It is a rough and tumble Athenian comedy, written 2341 years ago by Aristophanes as a lampoon against the Peloponnesian war. In its present version, it is said to be as timely and as hilariously satirical as if it had been penned today.

Orpheum Vaudeville Denied

Persistent rumors that vaudeville will be re-established at the Orpheum Theater within the near future were branded wrong yesterday by a theater executive.

It was admitted, however, that within the past three months thirty-two houses of the Orpheum circuit have reinstated variety programs. Most of these are located in the Middle West.

Banky Film to California

Vilma Banky's picture, "A Lady to Love," based on Sidney Howard's play, "They Knew What They Wanted," goes into the California Theater Friday, it was announced last night.

This is Miss Banky's first complete talking picture. It was directed by Victor Seastrom and produced by Metro - Goldwyn-Mayer. Edward G. Robinson, Robert Ames, Richard Carle, Lloyd Ingraham are among those in the cast.

British Order to be Honored at Late Show

Union Jacks and British naval uniforms will be the order of things tonight at the Orpheum Theater when the Order of St. George attends the midnight show.

Officers and members of the crew of H. M. S. Despatch, which is now at anchor in Los Angeles Harbor, will be guests of the British order at the late showing of "Lawful Larceny" which starts today. R. L. Noseworthy, British Consul, and Admiral V. H. G. Haggard will be guests of honor.

"Lawful Larceny," which has its local premiere this morning, is the screen adaption of the stage play of the same name, and the cast includes, besides Bebe Daniels, Lowell Sherman, Olive Tell, Kenneth Thomson, Bert Roach, Lou Payne, James Neill and Maude Turner Gordon. An added attraction on the midnight bill will be the personal appearance of Lowell Sherman and others of the cast.

Horton Stars in Film Farce at California

Edward Everett Horton, inimitable comedian, is at his best in the James Cruze production, "Once A Gentleman," which started yesterday at the California Theater for its first downtown showing. It is a Walter Wood adaptation of the story by George F. Worts.

Horton's role offers him a wide range of characterization. Emerson Treacy as the dissolute son of Horton's rich host is a good foil for the comedian, while Lois Wilson lends her talents to the role of the housekeeper. Francis X. Bushman, Sr., King Baggot, George Fawcett, Frederick Sullivan, Cyril Chadwick, Gertrude Short, Evelyn Pierce, Charles Coleman and Drew Demarest also aid in the fun.

RUGGLES TO DIRECT

Wesley Ruggles is this week holding final script conferences on the screen version of "Cimarron," which he will direct for R.-K.-O. Although an exact date to start recording has not been fixed, the chief set, a reproduction of Osage City, Okla., in 1889, is nearing completion on a tract of eighty acres on Ventura Boulevard.

AW RELEASES TWENTY-THREE

Liquor Defendants Freed on Habeas Corpus

Makes Forty-one Turned Loose During Week

Judge Bishop Rules Lack of Jurisdiction

Releases of twenty-three more liquor case jail prisoners on writs of habeas corpus, were ordered yesterday by Superior Judge Bishop. This action raised the week's total to forty-one who were found to have been jailed by courts lacking jurisdiction, as interpreted by the State Supreme Court.

"The Legislature began the chapter, the Supreme Court continued it, and it appears that this court must end it," said Judge Bishop. He ruled that in each case the petitioner was released on a construction of the Supreme Court's ruling that a person arrested for a misdemeanor must be tried in the same township where the offense was committed.

There were twenty-four petitions filed yesterday, but that of Jose [illegible] was denied when the court was informed that a second charge, that of liquor possession, still is to be tried.

The prisoners released were John Dabla, James H. Peterson, Bert [illegible], Estella Dudley, Ralph Barry, Byron T. Fitzhugh, Carl King, Virgil Wooten, A. R. Wood, Max Da[illegible], Leslie Beck, O. V. Parker, Wil[illegible] Judd, W. G. Hoyal, Jack El[illegible], Richard Bushwitz, Lief Erickson, H. A. Mitchell, Joe Sanchez, George Sullivan, Don Boiler, Harry [illegible] Carter and Jess Brown.

GAIN MADE IN WAR ON EPIDEMIC

Reduction in Number of Infantile Paralysis Cases Encourages Health Office

With five more cases of infantile paralysis reported yesterday, the total for July reached seventy-one, with six deaths, according to the Los Angeles Health Department, compared to fifty-eight cases and five deaths during June.

During the last three days the increase has been two on Wednesday, five on Thursday and five yesterday and the department is feeling greatly encouraged at the drop in the number of new cases this week, compared to last week.

The reduction is believed due to the efforts to discourage gatherings of children under 15 years of age, and the department urgently advises that such efforts be continued.

Five new cases of the disease were reported yesterday in county health department territory, bringing total cases since July 1 to thirty-three in the territory served by the county health office.

In a drive instigated by City Health Officer Parrish as an aid to the fight on disease, investigators from the office of City Prosecutor Nix yesterday arrested forty persons, employees of drug stores and soda fountains, bakers and fruit vendors, for violations of the health laws. Nix issued a total of fifty-five complaints and declared that additional complaints will be issued Monday.

Dr. Brougher, Now of Boston, Back for Visit

Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher, from [illegible] to 1916 pastor of the Temple Baptist Church and for the past nine months pastor of Tremont Temple, historic Baptist church in Boston, arrived here yesterday en route to his summer home at Gearhart, Or.

He is visiting his son, James Whitcomb Brougher, Jr., pastor of the First Baptist Church in Glendale, and will preach there tomorrow. Two daughters, Mrs. Walter M. Saint and Mrs. Norman H. Buist, also reside in Los Angeles.

On acceptance of the Tremont Temple pastorate Dr. Brougher was signally honored by Gov. Allen of Massachusetts with the presentation of the distinguished citizens' medal. He has been president of the northern Baptist convention and when his term expired accepted his present pulpit. Dr. Brougher expects to remain in the city until Tuesday.

MOVE MADE TO SEND GIRL TO INSTITUTION

A petition to have Marguerita Lopez, 17 years of age, feeble-minded Mexican girl found living in a tank house on a ranch near Spadra last Thursday, committed to a home for mental cases was filed in Juvenile Court yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Morrell. Pending an investigation into the life of the girl, who officers reported has been suffering from a mental affliction since birth and has been cared for by her uncle for the last fourteen years, she was placed temporarily in a home yesterday.

LIONS LEAVE FOR DENVER CONVENTION

Plan to Bring International Meet Here in 1932

Bound for Denver to obtain for Los Angeles the 1932 convention of the International Lions, the "Gov. Sam Carpenter" special train of fifteen cars pulled out of the Southern Pacific station last night lavishly decorated and bearing to the convention in that city next week an enthusiastic crowd of Southern California Lions headed by Gov. Carpenter of this, the fourth district. The train runs through to Oakland, where the northern Lions will board it, and thence to Sacramento, where the private car of International President Riley will be attached. Stops en route will also be made in Salt Lake City, Glenwood Springs, the Royal Gorge and Colorado Springs, reaching Denver on Monday afternoon, the day before the convention opens.

It is the hope of California Lions that their international meet for 1932, Olympic year, will be assigned to Los Angeles, and they are well equipped to make a decided impression on the Denver assembly to that end. The assignment for 1932 will not be made until next year, but it is the idea to show those present next week what Los Angeles has to offer, and fix their minds on "Los Angeles in 1932." In line with this idea the Chamber of Commerce has commissioned William Hamilton Cline as its special representative, and is supplying a lavish amount of souvenirs and other things to make the proper impression at the convention this year.

The California Lions will all wear regalia, with arm bands reading "L. A. '32," and their train bore flags and banners to the same effect. They are prepared to smother the convention hall in similar fashion also with literature supplied by the chamber setting forth the claims of Los Angeles to attention in this regard.

Arrangements have been made to establish California headquarters in a suite of rooms at the Brown Palace Hotel, where open house will be kept throughout their stay. Parades, fiestas and other forms of attention-attracting will be planned on the train and carried out on arrival.

It is expected that some 200 Lions will make the trip from this State, many with their wives along.

NOTED TOKIO RESEARCH SURGEON RETURNS HOME

Medical science will be greatly enriched by the findings of Dr. F. Matsuoka, fellow of the Tokio Medical College, according to a statement made by the noted Japanese research surgeon before he sailed for home yesterday aboard the Osaka Shosen Kaisha around-the-world liner La Plata Maru. In the service of the Japanese Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Dr. Matsuoka has dedicated his life to the study of prevention and cures of diseases peculiar to the tropics.

DR. F. MATSUOKA

Since 1920, until his present return to civilization, he has been in the jungles of Java, islands tributary to the Celebes Sea and the Valley of the Amazon River.

Yesterday he announced that he has determined new methods of utilizing the Emedin serum in curing amoebic dysentery and that he has made definite progress toward arresting prevalence of felaria Bancrofti, myiasis and correlated diseases.

He will lecture for the next year on his findings at the University of Tokio, from which medical school he was graduated in 1918, and then plans to return for ten more years to tropical jungles.

Dr. Matsuoka is a close friend of the Japanese surgeons Futaki, Takaki, Taniguchi and Osumi, who proved that bubonic plague is carried by fleas from ground squirrels to rats and thence to humans.

LAVINE GIVEN YEAR IN JAIL

solutely unjustified, and that no scintilla of evidence had been introduced to show that any juror had been intoxicated.

NEW TRIAL REFUSED

With this matter disposed of, Judge Schauer heard arguments of the attorneys on motions for a new trial, and after denying the request directed that Lavine stand to receive sentence.

Prior to pronouncing the jail sentence, which will bring a close to the case as both defendants announced that no appeal will be taken, Judge Schauer reviewed the case and spoke of the circumstances of the conviction as it applied to Lavine as a newspaper man and a licensed attorney.

"From the testimony adduced at the trial," Judge Schauer said, in speaking directly to Lavine, "it appears that for nineteen years or more you were a more or less prominent and brilliant member of the honorable and important profession of newspaper reporting—a profession which as an incident of its very nature and inherently in its practice, gives to its followers manifold opportunities for working good or evil—for truly serving society or preying upon it.

POWER OF PRESS

"Your profession is of particularly great consequence in this country where freedom of speech is one of the fundamental laws and where public opinion is the final and supreme arbiter, because when a news writer speaks, he addresses thousands and directly or indirectly contributes to the public enlightment which molds that public opinion.

"The fact that you have been convicted of this crime of attempted extortion casts no reflection upon your profession of reporting, no more than it does upon your auxiliary but unused profession of law. No more than does, for example, the conviction of an embezzling banker reflect upon the banking fraternity, but the fact that you were a member of your particular profession, presumably aware of its temptations and schooled and tried in its ethics and experienced in covering trials of criminal cases, does reflect the greater discredit upon you in the commission of this crime. The fact that you were a licensed, although not practicing, attorney, likewise adds to your culpability. The offense of which you have been convicted involves moral turpitude. Neither of your professions has any place for an extortionist."

JULIAN CRIME ORGY

The court then instructed the Clerk that copies of the sentence be forwarded to the Supreme Court so that Lavine's name may be expunged from the list of attorneys.

Calling the extortion attempt an off-shoot of the great Julian crime orgy and the two defendants as but small-fry, the court cited circumstances which he said made the case fade to far less significance than it might otherwise have had.

"Before the Julian mess," said Judge Schauer, "you probably were, and but for it would be now, honorable, law-abiding citizens. You had seen paraded before your eyes and before the eyes of the whole world, the spectacle of the filching of many millions of dollars from 40,000 persons and the arch-thieves going free, coddled, pampered and protected, corrupting and bringing disgrace and penalization as well as pecuniary loss to others, but themselves, apparently, immune from any penalty of law.

TRAIL OF CORRUPTION

"No person has as yet been convicted in any court of any crime for any part in the great robbery itself. A little small change from the millions stolen and some liquor probably purchased with stolen money, plied to benumb the senses of almost a lifetime of service, ensnared one or two others and they are paying the penalty for their weakness—their weakness? Their lack of moral and intellectual stamina sufficient to cope with the great iniquitous power which conceived and has so far successfully executed the plan of stealing the millions from the 40,000 persons and of avoiding any punishment therefor.

"The great Julian whirlpool—you people were caught and wrecked by it and now like bits of flotsam are flecked from its edges—society has been quick to be exacting with you—as it should be—but to its unutterable shame, the vortex of that Julian charybdis is still intact."

Mrs. Stanton Laid to Rest

Funeral services were conducted yesterday for Mrs. Victoria Barthel Stanton, a resident of Los Angeles for seventy-two years and the wife of Thomas E. Stanton, Los Angeles' first commercial photographer. Mrs. Stanton came to Los Angeles when 6 years of age and was 78 when she passed away.

When Mrs. Stanton came to Los Angeles, her father was the owner of a large vineyard near the present site of the Santa Fe Station. Her father died in Los Angeles many years ago.

The funeral services were held in the Church of Our Lady of Good Counsel, Hollywood, with Rev. Father Simpson officiating. In addition to the husband, Mrs. Stanton leaves three sons, Thomas E. Stanton, Jr., of the research department of the State Highway Department, Sacramento; Joseph E. Stanton and Amos B. Stanton.

GANG GUARD CAUGHT IN DRUG NET

Davis of Chicago Faces Narcotic Act Charges in Warrant from Detroit

George Davis, asserted gunman bodyguard of Frankie Foster, Chicago gangster and racketeer, found himself caught in a narcotic net yesterday in addition to other assorted charges when he was arraigned before United States Commissioner Head on a fugitive warrant from Detroit.

The warrant charges violation of the Harrison Narcotic Act by Davis, known to police in Detroit as Harry Kirchenbaum, and also wanted there on an attempted murder charge.

Davis was arrested in a raid on the apartment occupied by Foster and wife and three others. He has been held in the City Jail awaiting the arrival of Detroit authorities, but was transferred to the County Jail yesterday when he failed to post the $25,000 bail set on the narcotic charge.

Frankie Fisher, another member of the Chicago gang, also was transferred to the County Jail, where he was booked on suspicion of aiding in the attempted escape of Davis from the City Jail. Davis also faces the charge of attempted escape.

Witnesses are expected here from Chicago today to testify at a habeas corpus hearing brought about when Foster filed a writ to prevent his extradition on charges of suspicion of murder in connection with the daylight assassination of Alfred (Jake) Lingle, reporter. Hearing on the writ is set for next Tuesday, when the witnesses and documentary evidence will be offered to show that Foster was in Chicago on the date of the Lingle slaying.

Excellence of Talent on Air Brings Response

KHJ Schedules Series of Sports Features

> The Times Forum, KHJ, at 1:30 p.m. Peggy Hamilton, fashion authority. Judge Valentine on "Traffic," 12:30 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

Marc Antony at the bier of Caesar sounded history's first clarion call to the listener-in: "Friends, Romans, countrymen lend me your ears." This plea is re-echoed day after day in radio, by the stations, sponsors and artists.

If Antony had received as little attention as is given to even the finest radio programs in some homes, he would have saved his breath. In many instances the radio set is turned on full blast, Sister Sue is warbling a song at the piano, Willie is twisting the family cat's tail, mother is at the phone, giving Aunt Mae a new recipe, and dad is playing the phonograph. The only attentive audience is the group in the family album. And radio often is judged in such a domestic barrage as this.

The silver lining, however, is that slowly but surely the public is recognizing the worth of many chain and local programs. With the largest corporations of the land pouring money into radio, which in turn employs the best of talent, the owner of a radio is responding. Grantland Rice in the world of sports, Walter Damrosch, Ernest Goossens, Arthur Pryor and a myriad of others in music, Eva Le Galienne and names too numerous to mention in every art and science, have induced even Willie to give the family cat a break.

FINE DIAL OFFERINGS

KHJ will offer sports lovers a series of treats beginning at 1:15 o'clock this afternoon when the track meet results of the Oxford-Cambridge-Cornell-Princeton competition at Stamford, Eng., will be discussed by Abrahms, English track star of Olympic fame. Hard upon this at 1:45 p.m. the Columbia chain will pick up Arlington Park, Chicago, where an eyewitness account of the Arlington Classic of turf competition will be put on the air. Gallant Fox, with Earl Sande up, will try for the $60,000 stake and glory. After the thrills of the horse race, golf lovers, pee wee and otherwise, will at 2 p.m. hear Ted Husing, Columbia's ace announcer, cover the final two hours of the national open golf tournament at Minneapolis, when Bobby Jones is to make his third bid for a clean sweep of the world's four greatest golf prizes. Ted is to follow the golf match with a knapsack transmitter strapped on his back and describe the play stroke by stroke. In addition, at least a dozen golf stars in the play will be heard over the mike. In different vein, the old Showboat is to idle up to the dial at 5 o'clock tonight, bringing the levee folks stark, dank, dripping drama of some sort with a plentiful assortment of villains and bloodhounds. At 6 o'clock there will be dance music on Paramount Hour, provided by Paul Ash and his orchestra, with vocal choruses of many of the numbers and a foursome quartet, to be followed at 7 o'clock with Will Osborne and Guy Lombardo wielding the baton over their dance persuaders for an hour. At 9 o'clock tonight "Chasin' the Blues" will be heard in a promised froth of noise, novelty and fast music.

BOWL BROADCAST

KFI also will bring the Arlington Classic as set out under the KHJ heading, while at 4:30 p.m. an N.B.C. hook-up will bring the Minneapolis national open golf tournament to the dial. At 7 p.m. KFI is to tempt music lovers with "Musical Pictures," an hour with Eva Olivotti, James Burroughs, Leslie Brigham and orchestra in concert repertoire. At 8:30 tonight listeners-in may sit under the stars at Hollywood Bowl, with Oscar Strauss as guest conductor. Schubert's 'Unfinished Symphony,' Gluck's ballet and Strauss's waltzes are but part of the musical feast. At 10:45 tonight from a spot 7000 feet above sea level on the slopes of Mount Hood N.B.C. will bring an American Legion campfire program. One hundred and fifty persons assembled in the amphitheater will be heard in songs. Waters tumbling down a mountain creek, the noise of logs being thrown into the fire, accordion solos—all are promises for tonight.

OPERA RECORDING

KNX for its recorded opera of the week at 2:30 p.m. presents the "Barber of Seville" in its entirety. This will run until 5 p.m. Prof. Herman Schnitzel at 7 o'clock will give eight minutes of impossible comment on serious news of the world—and then a new program in the interest of miniature golf with the Musical Calangis Family playing all instruments and a few unnamed. At 9 o'clock tonight Calmon Luboviski will hold the dial for three-quarters of an hour with a violin recital. At 10 o'clock Ted Fiorito will be heard from the Cocoanut Grove.

KTM at 8 p.m. will give two hours with "all the artists who have appeared during the week" in a revue program.

KMTR will have its usual evening of any and every popular song and orchestration.

KECA at 5:30 p.m. will hold the dial with General Electric Hour. At 8:30 the KECA String Ensemble is to offer another half-hour of excellent string composition. Two chain programs—one at 8 o'clock, "Nights in Spain" and the Spotlight Review at 10 o'clock should please listeners-in.

Wife Murder Trial Delayed

Trial of William Burkhart in Superior Judge McComb's court for the murder of his wife, Ann McKnight Burkhart, was yesterday continued until 10 o'clock Monday because of the crowded condition of the court calendar. But one witness, John L. Dwight, was called. He told of taking a revolver from Burkhart a few minutes after the woman had been shot to death, and stated it had been fired recently.

ACTRESS MAY DROP CHARGES

Cameron Tells Court Miss Mack Asks Beating Accusation be Quashed

Hearing of Donald R. Cameron, 37 years of age, arrested on battery charges when he assertedly beat Miss Florence Mack, screen actress, was continued until Monday night at 8 o'clock when he appeared in Municipal Court at Central Police Station last night.

Cameron told Municipal Judge Edward H. Miller that he bore a statement from Miss Mack asking that the battery charges be dismissed. Judge Miller in continuing the case ruled that the complainant must herself appear if she wishes to ask that the charges be dropped.

The defendant, at liberty on $500 bond, was arrested on the 7th inst. when Miss Mack told police he had beaten her severely, not once, but several times, when she refused to go out with him.

He whipped a notebook from his pocket.

"Was the victim a man, woman or child?"

"I don't know," said the doctor (by this time the crowd had melted away), "but I just remarked we were talking about my silk umbrella."

Turning a deep red the reporter slunk behind a telegraph pole until the two doctors had departed.—[illegible] Free Press.

JONES WINS OPEN PLAY

Atlantan Victor With 287

Champion's Magnificent 68 in Morning Round Clinches Title

Captures Third Consecutive Crown to Establish All Time Record

BY GRANTLAND RICE

INTERLACHEN COUNTRY CLUB, MINNEAPOLIS (Minn.) July 12 (Exclusive)—Bobby Jones broke all records in the history of golf this afternoon by winning his third major championship in succession and this is a matter of historical data that goes back [illegible] years. This is a plain statement of fact that no adjectives can adorn. It tells the story of the greatest competitive golfer the world has ever known for Bobby Jones had to take destiny by the throat to reach the goal and finish two strokes in front of MacDonald Smith, the brilliant Scot who chased him to the final green at Hoylake and who once more stuck to the final green at Interlachen.

BOBBY JONES

Bobby Jones won his fourth open championship of the United States this afternoon before a record gallery of 14,000 spectators with the score of 287 for seventy-two holes. This means that after a long, hard campaign he played this testing course in one under even 4's. He knew after his 5 on the par 3 seventeenth that he was in desperate straits and when he came to the eighteenth, the final hole, he was [illegible] feet from the cup on his second shot. He rapped his putt for the [illegible] and the ball rolled in for a birdie 3, where ninety-nine golfers out of 100 among the best might have taken three putts. It was the most lion-hearted finish under the conditions that I ever have seen. As one old-timer remarked: "There were 120,000,000 people pulling for Bobby Jones to win and deep down in his heart with all his modesty, he must have known it. He has caught the fancy of his country as no man barring Lindbergh has caught it. He must have felt that he had thrown the title away on the seventeenth hole, where he took a 5, his third 5 on a par 3 hole. Under
